

MANY DROWNING ACCIDENTS

FIVE DEATHS REPORTED

To The Health Department Since Saturday

Death is not marching hand in hand with the present hot wave as was once with the last hot wave that visited us, but the doctors say that the effect of this very hot weather will not be made manifest before tonight or tomorrow.

Five deaths were reported at the office of the board of health since Saturday at noon as against 30 deaths during a corresponding time of the last hot wave. One death from cholera infantum was reported on Saturday and there were over 20 deaths from cholera infantum during the last hot spell.

From Camp to Council Chamber

The common council will meet in regular session tomorrow night and President Jewett will preside, though he is now at South Framingham with the rest of the soldier boys. Councilman John P. Davis is also at South Framingham and he will probably come along with Mr. Jewett. There isn't any business of very great importance coming before the meeting, but they say any old place is better than South Framingham.

MAN SENT TO JAIL

For Having Obscene Pictures in His Possession

Workman Assaulted Boy in the Mass. Yard and Was Arrested
—Fifteen Drunks Let Off by Probation Officer

There was a rather large attendance of drunk offenders in the dock in police court this morning when Judge John J. Pickman mounted the rostrum. Undoubtedly the extreme heat of Saturday was responsible in a large measure for the number present.

Saturday afternoon and night the patrol wagon was kept busy responding to calls and when the close of the day came there had been 23 booked for drunkenness. Sunday proved to be rather quiet so far as drunks were concerned and there were but few Sunday drunks in court this morning.

Yesterday morning the probation officer called at the police station and after interviewing the different persons who had been placed under arrest, released 15, who had been arrested for drunkenness.

Sent to Jail

Peter Richards was staggering through the streets Saturday night and was sent to the police station where he was booked for being drunk. While he was being searched, there was brought to light about 25 pictures of an obscene nature and in addition to the charge of drunkenness, a charge of having obscene pictures in his possession was preferred against him. In court this morning Richards pleaded guilty to both complaints and after the court had a look at several of the pictures he sentenced Richards to serve two months in jail for having the pictures in his possession and the charge of drunkenness was placed on file.

Assault and Battery

Familio Sciare was placed under arrest about eight o'clock this morning after he had assaulted Emil Houssault, a water boy employed by the company which is constructing the new mill in Bridge street for the Massachusetts Cotton mills. According to the police, Sciare got into an argument with Houssault, who is about 14 years of age, and without any provocation whatsoever, struck the boy over the head with a broom handle. The boy was taken to St. John's hospital where it was found that he was suffering from a deep gash on the head. Word was then sent to the police station and the alleged assailant was placed under arrest. In court this morning, through an interpreter, Sciare entered a plea of not guilty. Owing to the fact that the boy was unable to be present, Deputy Downey asked for a continuance till Thursday, and the defendant was held under $500 bonds for his appearance at that time.

Were Present at a Game

The constabulary of Billerica is bound to put a stop to gaming in Billerica and yesterday Officer Martin Conway paid a visit to Pinehurst park and found William E. McDonald and and had never visited the pond until this year.

The parents of the unfortunate girl were notified shortly after the accident had taken place. They are Henry P. and Mary E. Hennessey of 236 Everett avenue, Chelsea. A sister came from Chelsea immediately.

The body upon its recovery was taken to O'Donnell's, after which it was conveyed to Chelsea accompanied by the parents, who came here on an early train this morning.

Drowned in River

Hippolyte Menowski, aged 25, residing at 10 Brookline street, and employed in the Doolittle mills was drowned in the Merrimack river at the junction of Beaver brook, yesterday afternoon. The river is quite shallow at this point and it is believed that he was seized with cramps. Menowski was alone and his screams brought several swimmers to the scene. When they reached the spot the body had disappeared from view. Several dives for the body and it was recovered by Louis Gaudy of 44 Farmland road. The depth of the water at the point where Menowski disappeared is not a man's head.

Joseph T. Coughlin was sentenced to the state farm. He asked to be sent to the city farm, but the court refused to change the sentence.

Carl Brett, charged with being drunk, was sentenced to three months in jail. The sentence was suspended and he was placed in the custody of the probation officer.

Frank M. Donohue was given a suspended sentence of five months in jail.

A LAUNCH WRECKED 6TH REGIMENT CAMP

An Explosion

BOSTON, July 25.—A 22-foot gasoline launch used by Italian fishermen was wrecked at 4.25 yesterday morning while it was starting from the Eastern Packet wharf, Atlantic avenue. The gasoline tank which furnished the power exploded. Five men in the boat were hurled into the water. The men, all of whom were burned and otherwise injured, were: Samuel Carcia, 38 years old, burns on the hands; Salvatore Carcia, 33, burns on the face and left wrist; Manuel Matilez, 33, burns on the wrists; Carmello Carcia, 40, burns on both hands; Giuseppe Labina, 35, burns and contusions.

The men were treated at the relief hospital as out patients and then went home. The first three walked to the hospital with Patrolman McManus of division 1, who heard the explosion. The latter were carried to the relief hospital in the police ambulance.

All the men are relatives and live at 282 North street. They are fishermen. Yesterday morning they were starting out in the launch for bait.

The bait used is clams, which they get at low tide in the mud flats of the Mystic river and of the East Boston and South Boston shores. The tide was about half ebb when the party got ready to leave the wharf. It is stated that the gasoline tank in the boat leaked some, a fact that was noticed by Samuel Carcia, owner of the boat. He applied the spark which starts the machinery. Instead of doing that the spark struck the leak from the gasoline tank and the result was the explosion.

Patrolman McManus ran down the wharf and found the entire party on the launch had been thrown into the water. The launch standard, which supplies gasoline to the Italian fishermen at the dock, happened to be near at hand. The men who were thrown or jumped into the water swam to the Standard and were assisted on board.

McManus hurried to the nearest patrol box and notified station 1, asking that the fireboat be summoned and that the ambulance be sent to carry the injured men to the hospital. The fireboat from East Boston was dispatched to the scene and quickly put out the fire on the launch, which was badly damaged by the explosion that it sank in the dock.

When the ambulance arrived Carmello Carcia and Labina were put in it and sent to the hospital. McManus walked with the three others to the hospital in Haymarket square. The damage to the boat was placed at $75.

SOUTH FRAMINGHAM, July 25.—There has been a continual stream of visitors to the camp of the 6th infantry, M. V. M. yesterday and fully 2000 persons were on the field to witness the two ceremonies last evening. As usual, the fair sex predominated. The morning hours were fairly busy, as there was considerable work to be done, and there was a school for both officers and non-commissioned officers, at which Lieut. Marshall, U. S. A., was instructor, and both were very interesting.

At 7.30 Chaplain William P. Dussault held divine service at headquarters, in which the band assisted, and later in the day nearly 150 men attended mass at Rev. Fr. Heffernan's church. The first ceremony of the day was the inspection and muster, and the regiment made a very fine appearance. On account of the large number of men attending mass some of the companies were very busy, one company parading with only one soldier, Maj. James H. Smyth, A. I. C. M. V. M., made an inspection of the men and accoutrements, while Lieut. Marshall, the U. S. A., inspector, examined the arms, which, as fast as he finished each company it was marched to quarters.

True heat during the ceremony was terrific, there was hardly a breath of air and the ordeal of standing so long was trying to both officers and men. The ceremony over, the men had a rest until evening parade, when Maj. James H. Smyth, A. I. C. M. V. M., made an inspection of the men and accoutrements, while Lieut. Marshall, the U. S. A., inspector, examined the arms, which, as fast as he finished each company it was marched to quarters.

At retreat when the flag came down and the band played the "Star Spangled Banner" it was noticeable that very few of the visitors recognized the ceremony by the removal of their hats. More stringent orders should be issued with regard to men leaving their quarters in other than in the regulation uniform and more attention should be paid to military courtesy, which was one of the strong points brought out by Lieut. Marshall at the non-commissioned officers' school.

Among the guests yesterday was Brig. Gen. Henry Parsons, retired, M. V. M., an old commander of the regiment, and he received a warm welcome. Among other military men who were in camp were Maj. Phineas L. Rider and Lieut. Lewis M. McCullen, 2d infantry; Maj. Charles F. Nostrum, retired, M. V. M.; Maj. Ernest R. Springer, retired, M. V. M.; Maj. William J. Williams, retired, M. V. M.; Capt. James A. Cully, 8th infantry, M. V. M.; Capt. Fred M. Whiting, A. I. C. M. V. M.; Lieut. John Hall, cavalry, M. V. M.; and Capt. Hillier, 8th infantry, M. V. M.

Several autos came down from Fitchburg, filled with the friends of Capt. McDowell of Co. D, and who royally entertained them.

The officer of the day was Capt. James H. Smyth, A. I. C. M. V. M., and Lieut. Francis J. Gansway of Co. E was officer of the guard. The strength of the regiment yesterday was 55 officers and 713 men.

A committee headed by Capt. Gardner W. Pearson is working out a program for a big athletic tournament in which sparring and baseball will be features.

STRUCK BY AUTO

Man Was Killed and Woman Was Injured

BOSTON, July 25.—One man was killed and a woman severely injured yesterday afternoon at Mattapan square by being run over by an automobile as they stepped from a Brookline car which had just pulled into the square.

The victims were Orrin Whitten, aged 62, married, a prominent resident of Avon, and Mrs. Annie H. Tucker, 50, of 211 Elm street, West Somerville. The automobile which ran into them was owned and operated by George H. Toothaker of 579 Washington street, Dedham.

As the car from Brookline came into Mattapan square at 3.10 in the afternoon Mr. Whitten and Mrs. Tucker were among the first to alight. Just as Mr. Whitten started across the street toward the sidewalk the automobile came around the rear end of the car, coming from Milton and turning into River street on the way to Hyde Park.

The automobile was traveling slowly, according to witnesses, and the horn was sounded, but Mr. Whitten was unable to dodge the heavy machine. Mr. Toothaker did what he could to steer away from the old man, but one of the fenders struck him, throwing him under the front wheels and machinery. In turning aside to avoid hitting him, Mr. Toothaker ran into Mrs. Tucker, throwing her to the ground. Mr. Toothaker was brought to an instant stop, directly upon Mr. Whitten, who was unconscious. It took the combined efforts of several men to lift the heavy machine enough so that the man could be extricated.

Dr. Aubrey J. Collins of 1419 Blue Hill avenue, the nearest physician, was at once hurried to the scene and he did what he could for the victims of the accident. Mr. Whitten, being in the meantime taken into Fallon's drug store close by and Mrs. Tucker into the entrance to Oakland hall.

The physician ordered Mr. Whitten taken to the City hospital. Here it was found that he was suffering from a fracture of the base of the skull and in the evening.

An examination of the injuries of Mrs. Tucker showed that she was hurt about the chest and had minor injuries. After treatment she was taken to her home in West Somerville in a car.

Mr. Whitten was a prominent resident of Avon and took an important part in town affairs, being in Grand Army circles a justice of the peace and ball commissioner.

CHILD POISONED

She Ate Garden Weeds or Herbs

LAWRENCE, July 25.—Weeds or herbs, which she found in the garden and ate, resulted in the death yesterday of Mary McCarthy, 6-year-old daughter of Joseph McCarthy, editor of a local newspaper.

The child was playing in the yard at her home at 128 Howard street Wednesday and was taken suddenly ill.

Investigation brought out the fact that she had eaten something which she found growing in the yard. Physicians made every possible effort to save the child's life, but without avail.

THE WHEAT TRADE BLOWN TO DEATH

Believes That Worst Man Was Killed by Dynamite

Has Been Heard

CHICAGO, July 25.—The wheat trade now believes that the worst has already been heard regarding the spring wheat crop of North America. Rain last week checked the backward tendency that was universally conceded for the spring wheat crop in a good part of the northwest on both sides of the international line. Harvest is now getting rapidly under way this side of the line, and it may soon be followed by a revision of market values in that section.

Meanwhile the trade here is waiting for the first big harvest of winter wheat. It is starting a little later than last year, but promises to be considerable for a time. Upon the extent and continuance of this run very largely depends the course of the market for the year.

If arrivals are large enough to pile up a surplus at centers of accumulation it may mean a hard fight for the buyers in higher prices. If the run is small or of short duration, the bear is likely to have to go into retirement again.

There are problems ahead of the present crop that have never before been considered. There is no foreign outlet, while the domestic trade is only just recovering from the effects of reckless overloading. The crop, if statistics are of value, appears to be adjusted to about normal home needs, with a modest margin for export.

In view of his recent lesson, the domestic miller will probably pursue a hand-to-mouth policy, which means that the first run of new crop wheat will have to be carried by the speculator. Will he take the property at its current level, or will he wait for the seller to make lower ones?

As far as the winter wheat is concerned the quality is exceptionally fine and merits well of the investor. The quality of the spring wheat is a matter of doubt. Samples thus far shown are of fine quality, but survived wheat may be in evidence as the harvest progresses.

Prospects are that the crop to be harvested the latter part of the present calendar year will come from a larger acreage in Europe although drought has been retarding seedings and growth in sections. In any event, unless there are more serious crop losses in Europe than have yet been recorded, there is no cause for anxiety during the present crop year on the part of the importing countries. Supplies promise to be more than ample.

FRANKLIN, N. H., July 25.—Daniel McDonald of North Wilmett was blown to pieces by dynamite yesterday at Andover. He was visiting Henry Kenison, who was digging a well on his place. A hole had been drilled in the wall and Mr. Kenison intended to use the dynamite Monday; but McDonald suggested that an attempt be made to blast the rock yesterday afternoon.

The fuse was lighted, but when it looked as if the fuse was not burning the unfortunate man stepped over the charge and attempted to light it. The charge exploded and frightfully mangled his body and limbs.

AFTER PREACHING

PASTOR SERVED ICE CREAM TO HIS CONGREGATION

MIDDLETON, Conn., July 25.—With the temperature standing at 95 degrees in the shade, Rev. George B. Gilbert, an Episcopal clergyman of this city, invited his congregation at Maromas, a suburb of this city, to remain after the services yesterday and enjoy a dish of ice cream with him. Maromas is a farming community and as many of those who attend the church services are compelled to travel long distances, Pastor Gilbert said he thought they deserved some reward for their faithfulness, in addition to the pleasure to be derived from the service.

The cream was some Mr. Gilbert made himself and while many of his brother clergymen in this city yesterday were seated on their verandas with a palm leaf fan, Rev. Gilbert was busy in his vocation turning the crank of his five-gallon ice cream freezer.

All who attended the service accepted the invitation to remain while the ice cream was doled out. The parishioners all seemed well pleased with the treat and Mr. Gilbert was heartily commended for his thoughtfulness. A number of the wardens of the church and their wives assisted the pastor in washing the dishes after the rest of the congregation had gone home.

16 YEARS IN ALL

HALL SENTENCED AGAIN AT PORTSMOUTH NAVY YARD

PORTSMOUTH, N. H., July 25.—James Hall, the navy convict who in 1894 created a sensation by his confession of the murder of Anne Schumacher at Rochester, N. Y., and who was turned over to the civil authorities of Monroe county, only to have them find out that Hall's confession was bogus and only a subterfuge to get away from the navy, has just been sentenced to his third naval confinement.

He receives a sentence of five years on a charge of assault on Chief Master-at-Arms Mayes of the prison ship Southern and he now has combined sentences of 16 years to serve. He had previously received a four-year sentence for attempting to escape from the prison ship by the false story told relative to the murder.

On account of the long imprisonment that James Hall in the face, he will be transferred to the prison ship Southern to the naval vessel on Stony Island, where the most dangerous and troublesome of the naval convicts are confined.

By many, Hall is thought to be insane as since he has been returned to the prison ship he maintains that he committed the crime at Rochester, N. Y., as well as other misdeeds.

CARDINAL GIBBONS

Urges Young Men to Render Loyal Public Service

WESTMINSTER, Md., July 25.—Cardinal Gibbons, who passed his 78th birthday Saturday at the Westminster home of B. F. Shriver, took occasion to urge young men to give loyal public service, saying that in serving the country they will be serving God. He also spoke at length on the evils of divorce.

"Your Eminence," he was asked, "do you not think that this would be an appropriate occasion to send a message to the young men of the nation?"

The cardinal was silent a moment, then said: "Perhaps it is. Pause so that the subject may be an appropriate one. I would tell the young men of these United States to love their country and cherish its greatness. I bespeak the same earnestness as I bespeak love and fear of God."

"Let more young men of education and virtuous ideals give themselves to the public service, and if they do so with clean hearts and hands, the pregnant evils of government may be eliminated. In serving your country you are serving God. I have preached this and written it again and again."

"The better class of our citizens so often stand aloof from practical politics, and the conduct of campaigns. They result upon the suffrage is the election very frequently turn upon the votes of that large class made up by the rougher and baser sort. As I have written in 'Our Christian Heritage,' to influence and organize this vote is the 'dirty work' of politics."

Antagonism for Divorce

In expressing his antagonism toward divorce, the cardinal said:

"Divorce is a cancer which is eating into the very vitals of our life. Society—our whole civilization—up to the present has been based upon the home and the unity of the family. When you attack the family you attack government itself. And government to protect and perpetuate itself must expunge from its statutes the criminal divorce laws, which the best of our life abhors."

"I pray for the time when men and women may be persuaded to understand the seriousness of marriage. Regardless of religious convictions, they should understand when they marry that they are entering upon a contract which is not of a day or a month, but of a lifetime. They should know that they must bear and forbear. The husband cannot pull one way and the wife another. They must pull in the traces together."

"Ponder," said he, "the helpless little children of these homes destroyed by divorce. Instead of loving them, their hearts and lives are broken. The father goes one way and the mother the other, never to meet again."

"The children are left without an anchorage. They know not to whom to appeal for affection. They turn to the father to learn that he hates their mother. They turn to the mother to learn and have it heard in their minds and hearts that she hates their father. Their lives are blighted in the bud. 'I'd wish we could expect them to burrow into true and tender men and women? How can we expect them to love anything else with their lives than what their parents have done?'"

Children Have No Chance

"Ah, these children of divorced parents! They are the bitter sorrow of my life. They are given no chance, and I say was unto them who are responsible!"

"The ease with which divorce may be obtained in some of our states is nothing less than criminal. One of the favorite grounds of these days is what is called 'incompatibility of temper.' A wife may bury a man of blood, and the husband child her. Miserable little biting words fly from their tongues. There is never a thought of forbearance on the part of either."

"There is never a thought of the children. Only the selfish rights of the parents is considered, and presently there is an action brought for divorce. 'Incompatibility of temper! Beh! I say to the laws which permit such things. They affront God and every one who fears him!'"

The cardinal was asked whether or not he felt any infirmities of age.

"I feel," said he, "as capable as I did 30 years ago, thank God. I have premonitions at times that my joints do not work so smoothly as they once did, and once in a while I imagine that the mind is a trifle sluggish. Otherwise I am the man I was 30 years ago."

"And there is no reason why I should feel my age. You see, I have always lived most abstemiously."

"But, you see, I have had to live quietly and regularly. My stomach has never been very strong, and so I have been compelled to be careful. Even in this one may see how wondrously God moves to perform his works, and I thank him."

"I thank God that he called me, and that he has permitted me to continue in his service through these many years."

"I am content, happy. It is much to be given to any mortal to be able to say that. If it were given to me to live all of these 70 years again, I should not wish them different. I should be a priest. The calling of a priest is a difficult one, but there is sublime happiness in the dedication of one's self to service."

BRUSH BLAZE

A Lively Fire at Willow Dale Yesterday Afternoon

Frank "Pinkey" McOsker, of this city, proved himself a hero as a fire fighter at Willow Dale yesterday when a lively brush fire broke out during the afternoon in the rear of the residence of Johnnie Bowers and burned over a couple of acres before "Pinkey" acting as chief of the fire department succeeded in succumbing the flames.

"Pinkey" and his friend and co-laborer Mike McKeown were enjoying the beauties of nature in the vicinity of Willow Dale when they saw Johnnie Bowers hot-footing from the grove toward his house crying "Fire!" at the top of his voice. "Pinkey" and his friend hot-footed after Johnnie and upon arriving on the scene found a lively blaze in progress. It seems that a party of foresters had been picnicking in the woods and probably carelessly dropped a cigarette or a match on the dry brush.

In an instant a hot fire was in progress, so hot in fact, that it made most of the fire fighters sick but they stayed at it, particularly "Pinkey" who was never known to quit. Mr. Bowers sent word to Trumbull for help but Chief Ben Lawrence of the fire department was sick in bed and couldn't respond, so he sent a substitute and some volunteers. When they arrived, however, "Pinkey" with a aid of the Bowers brothers and some of the cottagers had the blaze under control and it did not get to any of the buildings though it looked dangerous for a short time. In the heat of the excitement and fire "Pinkey" remarked to his friend McKeown: "Gee, if I was getting paid for this job, I'd tell the boss to keep it, but as I ain't getting paid I suppose I can't kick."

The fire burned for about an hour, consuming considerable brush. This is not the first fire that has been started in the vicinity of Willow Dale by careless people who through the inviting place for a day's outing.

SWIM TO CONEY

Ended In a Landed Marathon

NEW YORK, July 25.—The eighth annual Battery to Coney Island swimming race, which started from the city's lower sea wall at 11:50 a. m. yesterday, wound up as a thrilling land as well as sea marathon late yesterday afternoon.

Stopped by impassable cross-currents and high rolling waves at Norton's point, after they had covered twelve of the fourteen miles, the swimmers who had survived that far were taken ashore in boats which had followed them. Then, doubtful what to do, but deeming it the best thing to get to the finish point—the Maletsk hotel, at the foot of Coney's Twentieth street—they set out afoot and sped with whatever strength they had left over the sands and streets.

Commodore Henry C. Mason of the United States Volunteer Life Saving Corps, under the auspices of which the race was conducted, declared it "no contest" and announced that it will be started again three or four Sundays from now. A special medal will be given to every man who reached the harbor of Coney at Norton's point.

Sixteen of the racers "finished." First honors went to Clifford H. Benedict, of the Roton Point division of life savers, located at South Norwalk, Conn. Next came Arthur O'Neill, of No. 1671 Eighth-avenue street, Bath Beach, Philadelphia, and John J. McGowan, No. 2, station in Brooklyn, was a good third.

Thirty-one swimmers lined up at the Battery early in the morning. Each was provided with a certificate from his doctor showing him to be in good physical condition.

The direct line of delay about securing rowboats and attendants to accompany the racers, but finally 20 craft of various types were manned with strong-armed watermen, and just before noon the pistol crack sent the thirty-one overboard with a splash.

YOUNT POUNDED

Worcester Took Kindly to His Delivery

WORCESTER, July 25.—With a crowd of 3000 fans rooting for them the Worcester team, the head off Yount while Van Dyke, the slabsman for the home team, was very effective and kept the hits scattered. In the first inning Van Dyke did an unusual stunt by cleaning up the three batters with fine pitched balls. All but the Worcester battery made safe hits.

DIAMOND NOTES

Double-header with Lawrence at Spaulding park tomorrow. First game at 2 o'clock.

Lowell now has a first division team and will finish in the first division.

That boy Blakely is coming along all right. Manager Gray showed good judgment in holding him.

Just think of Providence paying real money for Pat Sullivan. Little Jawa O'Brien is a financier along with being a judge of ball players and umpires.

There will be home games every day but Saturday, this week, beginning tomorrow.

With the team as at present constituted Lowell fans may expect fast baseball for the remainder of the season. The fight will be particularly interesting by reason of the fact that all the teams are bunched.

Whitridge and Huston may claim the title of the "Hard Luck" battery. The team always falls down when Whit pitches while poor Huston is in the field. Whit is a consolation prize with knowledge of the fact that he hasn't any more fingers to smash.

Twice this season has Fitzpatrick been called away by death.

MONUMENT WILL CLINCH PROVINCETOWN'S
CLAIM AS FIRST LANDING PLACE OF PILGRIMS

AMBASSADOR BRYCE

PROVINCETOWN, Mass., July 25.—This splendid new monument to the pilgrim fathers and mothers, erected here in recognition of the fact now admitted by historians that Provincetown and not Plymouth was the original landing place of the people who came over aboard the Mayflower, is ready for dedication Aug. 5 when President Taft and British Ambassador Bryce will make speeches. The monument is a tower of granite rising more than 350 feet above the sea level. It stands on the brow of High Point or Town Hill and is 252 feet high. The memorial cost $100,000, of which the national government gave $40,000, Massachusetts $25,000, Provincetown $5000 and individual subscribers the rest. Peregrine White, the first child of English parentage to see the light in New England, was born here. At the dedication ceremonies fifteen war vessels will be in the harbor. President Emeritus Charles W. Eliot of Harvard will deliver the historical address of the day. It is now established that it was in Provincetown harbor that the Mayflower compact was signed before any of the passengers set foot on American soil. The Mayflower arrived in the harbor on a Saturday. Sunday no work was done, but, on Monday the women came ashore and did their washing, thus establishing that day of the week as washday for future America.

CRICKET GAMES

THE ZIONS DEFEATED THE ANDOVER TEAM

A very interesting game of cricket was witnessed on Saturday afternoon on the town grounds when the Zions team defeated the Andover team by the score of 72 to 33.

Great credit is due to James Patrick and Fred Chapman of the Zions team for the success of the game, as both showed up in good form and were making a fine stand and showing a nice exhibition of batting. In the bowling for Zions Chapman took two wickets for 16 runs; while Croft took three wickets for 16 runs; Croft took four wickets for 20 runs.

FORGERY CHARGE

TWO BOYS ARE PLACED UNDER ARREST

BOSTON, July 25.—John Doyle, 16, and Thomas Fitzgerald, 14, the two Cambridge boys accused of forging the name of a Harvard student to a check for $20 and cashing it, attribute their wrong doing to their familiarity with banking and the fact that they had been in the city for some time.

The boys were graduated from the Cambridge grammar school last June and both have been hard workers since. Doyle is the employer of a Boston advertising firm and Fitzgerald is in the Koblitz confectionery company.

The Cambridge police officials believe that the boys are probably in the hands of some person ever charged with forgery in the city, and among the youngest in the state.

The boys are now in custody of their parents, who are held responsible for their appearance in the Cambridge juvenile court Saturday. Both boys have confessed of their guilt, but their parents hope that their youth may save them from serving terms in a state institution.

Thomas Fitzgerald lives with his widowed mother at 31 Revere street, and Doyle with his parents at 18 Gray street. The boys were arrested at their homes Saturday afternoon.

WILL PARADE

MATHEWS WILL MARCH IN BOSTON NEXT MONTH

A largely attended meeting of the Mathew Temperance Institute was held yesterday in the society rooms. A committee was appointed to draw up a set of resolutions in honor of the death of James W. Maguire, a young member of the society who died the past week. The most important part of the meeting was the bringing together of a large attendance of the older members and the action taken toward planning to take part in the parade and convention to be held in Boston August 10. Among the speakers on this subject were Rev. Dr. Keleher, chaplain of the Institute and Mr. P. D. Walsh of Boston, financial secretary of the C. T. A. U. The latter of whom outlined the plan of the parade and convention for the coming event, which will be one of the largest and best temperance parades ever held in Boston. The society will have the Lowell Cadet band when they participate in the parade.

TWO RESCUED

BY MEMBERS OF THE GRESHAM'S CREW

BOSTON, July 25.—John Peterson, 30 years old, and his brother Peter, 25, of East Boston, were rescued from drowning in the harbor yesterday when the crew from the revenue cutter Gresham, after their 30-foot sloop yawl had capsized.

The accident happened shortly after 2 p. m., about abreast of Long wharf. The sloop was sailing about the harbor in the morning when the boat's crew from the revenue cutter Gresham, after their 30-foot sloop yawl had capsized.

While the brothers were floundering about the launch belonging to the Gresham steamed out from Driscoll's landing at the foot of State street. In the launch were the Gresham's Reginald Malcom and Carl Elm. They sighted the overturned sloop as soon as they cleared Long wharf and they started immediately to the assistance of the men in the water. The Peterson brothers were fast rising from their struggle when the Gresham launch reached them and they were lifted on board. The launch took the yacht in tow and pulled it across the harbor to Jeffries point, where the two men were landed.

BANICH MAY DIE

HE WAS BITTEN BY A PET SNAKE

NEW YORK, July 25.—Charles Banich thrilled with a pet rattlesnake yesterday and as a result is in Bellevue hospital seriously poisoned. In striking at a mouse, temptingly held out by Banich, the snake missed and buried its fangs in the man's finger.

Banich brought the snake, which is 6 feet long and has 24 rattles, from West Virginia 15 months ago. He had it in his home and had removed and believed it to be harmless, but poison sometimes lurks in the fangs even after the glands have been excised.

At the Rockefeller institute serum was injected into Banich's arm and the wound was cauterized. He was hurried to Bellevue for further treatment. The bite may prove fatal.

FOR USE IN WAR

GOVERNOR AND CAPITOL OF STATE

THAT IS TOO RICH TO LEVY TAXES

Congress to be Asked For Money For Six Aeroplanes

WASHINGTON, July 24.—Experts to prove the value of the aeroplane for war purposes, now being carried on by the U. S. government under the auspices of the war and navy departments will be hurried through in time to enable Secretary Dickinson and Meyer to make formal reports to congress and request an appropriation of $75,000 for the purchase of six aeroplanes, to be assigned to a military and naval use.

Tabulated data now being prepared by the navy department shows that the aeroplane is better than the submarine and that it is seven-tenths less dangerous to the crew, while its cost is about one-fifth of that of the submarine.

It was learned yesterday that both officers had obtained verbal assurances from Senator George C. Perkins of California, chairman of the senate committee on naval affairs, and Congressman George Edmund Foss of Illinois, chairman of the house committee on naval affairs, that such an appropriation would be favorably considered and approved by them if its request was accompanied by an official report showing the possible advantages to be derived from the addition of the aeroplanes to the army and navy.

The clause in the message requesting the appropriation will be substantially as follows:

"That the amount asked, namely $75,000, will purchase six aeroplanes of the latest improved type and will leave a balance for an additional subsidiary equipment; that $75,000 is approximately three-fourths of the cost of one 12-inch cannon; that the larger caliber guns mounted at the various forts in the United States, being stationary, can be badly damaged by a small torpedo dropped from a height of 500 feet; that although even at this day the aeroplane is yet at its experimental stage, it has already developed such serious possibilities in its offensive tactics as to make imperative that the United States take advantage of this economical and promising carrier; that it is estimated that the government improved aeroplane, fully equipped to carry a necessary amount of ammunition and a crew of three to five men, will not cost to exceed $15,000; that an aeroplane is comparatively as potential and safe overhead as the submarine is today under water."

It is figured that there have been 20 calamities in which submarines have lost the lives of all those on board and other accidents which caused the death of one or more of the crew from asphyxiation or other causes.

In favor of the aeroplane it is pointed out that ordinarily not more than two deaths can occur at the time an aeroplane is disabled and crashes down; that this number cannot exceed five.

It is recommended that military or naval aeroplanes for purposes of offense be limited to a crew of three men, including the driver; that a parachute as a complement of safety offers no little advantage to the aeronaut; that the aeroplane offers a slight body for attack; that the vulnerability of the driver crew is encompassed by means of a protective steel plate beneath the men, and that its weight, based upon its length and width, need not be great. It is estimated that an oblong steel plate three-eighths of an inch thick, by 5 by 7 feet, will deflect a well-directed shot from guns that can shoot upward with facility.

Experiments by the Italian government have gone to show that an aeroplane can, with impunity, make all its observations and wait for the time of attack without worrisome risk from dangers from below. As a result the Italian government is holding up the dreadnought building program.

OUTING FOR ORPHANS

The ladies of the sewing circle of which Mrs. Charles H. Boisvert is president, are planning an outing for the boys and girls of the orphanage, to take place August 15. The outing will be held at South Lowell. As the day is the feast day of the Assumption, a religious ceremony in honor of the day will be held at St. Mary's chapel upon the arrival of the merry-makers at South Lowell.

MINNEAPOLIS Minn., July 25.—Look who's here! A state, Minnesota, by name, which has so much money in its treasury that in all probability no taxes for 1911 will be levied on the people. There is nearly $4,000,000 in the Minnesota state treasury, a surplus without precedent. Moreover, this enormous surplus is growing constantly, the settlement of big lumber cases, inheritance tax suits and other litigation in favor of the state being responsible in large part for the doubling of the treasury funds since last October. It is understood that Gov. A. O. Eberhardt, at the suggestion of Attorney General George T. Simpson and other state officers will recommend that no tax levies be made for next year. The state officials are wondering what is to be done with the surplus riches of the commonwealth.

HO FOR THE BEACH

United Irish League Excursion on Aug. 11

The United Irish league decided last evening to run the "Ho for the Beach" excursion on Thursday, Aug. 11, and as usual to Revere. The headquarters for the day will be at the Metropolitan hotel, and tickets for leading attractions fronting on the beach will be provided for those who take in the excursion.

At last night's meeting, in the absence of President Bourke, Mr. Dennis McDowell presided, and a large committee was chosen to conduct the excursion.

The arrangements for the convention at Revere in September were discussed and it was stated that Hon. John E. Redmond would speak in Lowell in the fall, although the exact date has not yet been fixed. The picnic committee which includes the executive committee, will meet again next Friday evening when a large attendance is requested.

The committee fixed the date earlier than usual in order to have the excursion out of the way before the big liberalian convention.

WINDOWS BROKEN

STONES LAND IN ROOM OF WORCESTER PRIESTS

WORCESTER, July 25.—A series of acts of vandalism in South Worcester terminated at 1 o'clock yesterday morning when three young men, evidently under the influence of liquor, riddled the windows in the St. Aloysius total abstinence society's clubhouse on Sheridan street.

Since the Sacred Heart church rectory was damaged by fire last May, the priests of the parish have been sleeping in the upper part of the St. Aloysius society's clubhouse. With their yesterday morning a guest was Rev. Bernard Doherty of Louisville, Ky.

All the priests were sleeping soundly when their slumbers were broken by the sound of breaking glass and stones landing on the floor of the sleeping room. They rushed to the windows to see three young men throwing stones from Sheridan street. They shouted and the three young men ran away, followed by police officers who had been attracted by the sound of breaking glass.

The police and priests have an idea who the vandals are, but no arrests have been made. An investigation showed that practically every window in the lower part of the house had been shattered and many panes of glass were broken in the rooms in the upper section occupied by Rev. Fr. Bernard S. Conaty, Rev. Fr. Francis H. Swift and Fr. Doherty.

SIX INJURED

AUTO OVERTURNED WAGON ON REVERE BOULEVARD

REVERE, July 25.—About 4 p. m. yesterday Supt. West and Engineer Sackett of the park department brought in two automobiles loaded with injured from a sensational smashup on the boulevard between Oak Island grove and Point of Pines. None of the victims was found to be seriously hurt, however.

They comprised a family party from West Lynn who were driving toward the bathhouse in a democrat wagon when their vehicle was struck from the rear by an automobile. In the wagon were Mr. and Mrs. Balkus and their three children, and Miss Wilke, a nurse. The collision tossed the wagon and its occupants about 16 feet, landing the wagon upside down upon the sidewalk.

Word of the accident was brought to the park police station and Supt. H. W. West in his own runabout and Engineer George J. Sackett in a larger car made a fast run up the beach to the spot. They loaded the injured people into the two automobiles and soon had them in the emergency room.

Mr. Balkus had a cut on his head and a bruised arm. Mrs. Balkus' head injury was to her left. The nurse had a bruised arm and one of the children drenched slight cuts. All were able to leave without assistance except Mrs. Balkus, who was sent in a curative to her home, 39 Ada street, West Lynn.

The driver of the automobile which did the damage was William H. Hayes, who will have to answer to a charge of reckless driving placed against him by the police.

ACCIDENT LIST

ONE OF THE HOTTEST

The Victims Treated at the Hospitals

Amerigo D'Arcezo, aged one year and son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph D'Arcezo, while playing with matches last evening at the home of his parents, 32 Keene street, set fire to his clothing and before the flames had been extinguished his whole right side had been severely burned. The ambulance was summoned and he was taken to St. John's hospital where he received treatment. Despite the fact that the child was badly burned it is expected that he will recover.

Clarence Derrington, of 21 Sagamore street, fell while working among some lumber in a yard off Willie street, late Saturday afternoon and broke his shoulder blade. The ambulance took him home and his case was treated there.

Harry Lee, a youth of 18, was going up the stairs of his residence at 90 Epping street, last night when he fell and dislocated his right thumb. The thumb was treated at the Emergency hospital.

Walter C. Thayer, aged 32 years and employed by Patton, the electrician at Tevksbury Centre, was moving some boards Saturday afternoon and suffered a severe laceration of the wrist of the right hand which came in contact with a nail. He went to the Emergency hospital where several stitches were taken in the wound.

Frank Johnson, aged eight years and living at 17 Spring street, while playing with some other boys in Middlesex street Saturday night met with a painful accident. One of his playmates lifted a plank which was too heavy for him to hold, the result being that the plank fell on Johnson's hand and cut a severe gash on the little finger of that hand. He was taken to the Emergency hospital where five stitches were taken in the wound.

John Mack, aged 16, of Virgin street, while swimming in the Concord yesterday afternoon dove and struck his head on a rock at the bottom, cutting a bad gash in it. The city ambulance took him to the Lowell hospital, where several stitches were taken.

INJURIES FATAL

JOHNSON DIED ON THE WAY TO HOSPITAL

WALYAND, July 25.—George Johnson, colored, employed by L. F. Priest of Gloucester, fell from his wagon in this town yesterday afternoon and the wheels passed over his body.

He was placed in an auto and taken to the Waltham hospital, but when the auto arrived there Johnson was dead. The man was on his way to the Boston market with a load of vegetables. It is believed that he was asleep and that a sudden lurch threw him from the seat.

Went to Waltham later with an undertaker and took the body back to Gloucester. Johnson was about 35.

AIMED AT CAT

BUT MAN SHOT HIS WIFE INSTEAD

NEW YORK, July 25.—In shooting at a chicken-stealing cat Saturday in South River, N. J., Eugene Thompson shot his wife. She was wounded in the right shoulder but not dangerously.

Thompson and his wife were in the house when the cat was seen hearing away its prey. Thompson rushed for his gun and his wife raised a window screen so that he could get a good shot. Running back, his anxiety to get a good shot was so great that he pulled the trigger when several feet from the window.

UNION SERVICE HELD

The Eliot and Highland Congregational and the Grace Universalist churches united their services yesterday morning and the three congregations gathered in goodly numbers at the Eliot church. Rev. R. A. Greene, D. D., pastor of the Grace Universalist church, conducted the services and preached a sermon. The Eliot church choir furnished the music.

MORE PINKHAM CURES

Added to the Long List Due to This Famous Remedy

Oronogo, Mo.—"I was simply a nervous wreck. I could not walk across the floor without my heart fluttering and I could not even receive a letter. Every mouth I had such a bearing down sensation, as if the stovepipes would fall on me. Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has done my nerves a great deal of good and has also relieved the bearing down. I recommended it to some friends and two of them have been greatly benefited by it."—Mrs. MAE McKnight, Oronogo, Mo.

Another Grateful Woman.

St. Louis, Mo.—"I was bothered terribly with a female weakness and had backache, bearing down pains and pains in lower parts. I began taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound regularly and used the Sanative Wash and now I have no more troubles that way."—Mrs. AL. HEAZON, 5722 Prescott Ave., St. Louis, Mo.

Because your case is a difficult one, doctors having done you no good, do not continue to suffer with out giving Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound a trial. It surely has cured many cases of female ills, such as inflammation, ulceration, displacements, fibroid tumors, irregularities, periodic pains, backache, that bearing-down feeling, indigestion, dizziness, nervous prostration, ing to sleep and it was hot trying to keep awake. Altogether 100,000-odd population wished itself in a cooler climate.

At the seashore it was fine and dandy but going and coming was too much. The cars were crowded and every place one entered seemed like a furnace. The fellow who remained at home and lounged about with as little on as the lady would allow was the wise guy. A glass of ice cold lemonade once in a while doesn't do any harm in hot weather, but the man who tries to cool off by using alcoholic beverages is simply trying to make it hotter for himself.

It was 95 in Merrimack square at 10 o'clock this forenoon, at the pumping station in Centralville it was 93 and 83 at the boulevard. Any place there was an argument it was over 100, but arguments were scarce.

The weather man isn't promising us any relief and the chances are that we will have to grin and bear it for another day or two. It is up to us to pursue the even tenor of our way and to pull through with as little exertion as possible.

toward the north the light could not be better and the 235 rifle and revolver targets all arranged so that a counter firing post can be used gives an equipment unequalled in accuracy, approached by any other range in the United States.

SCHOOL CRAFT

IS UP TO THE GRAND JURY FOR TRIAL

NEW YORK, July 25.—Prosecutor of the Pleas Garven of Hudson county has asked Senator Joseph S. Frating, head of the New Jersey school boards, to send him a copy of the testimony taken by the committee in its inquiry into school affairs in the county. The prosecutor wants the testimony for use in an investigation to be conducted by the grand jury.

Former Representative Eugene W. Leake, counsel to John Day, counsel to the committee, would like to quit concerning his real estate transactions engineered by Register of Deeds John J. McMahon, former custodian of school moneys in North Bergen, hearing on his sale of a school site to the township, issued a statement yesterday in which he declared that if Day appears before the committee he will "politely inform" of the sale of lands to the North Bergen township for public school property is none of its business. Mr. Leake said that the legislature has no right to conduct an investigation which involves the private affairs of the individual. He held that if a crime has been committed it is up to the grand jury to investigate, but he insisted that there has been no crime or dishonesty.

Walters said that his brother and companion, Dinsler, who is also 16 years of age, had been engaged in target practice. Dennis Smith loaded his rifle and placed it against a nearby tree.

About this time a launch came up containing a boy and girl acquaintance of the young marksmen, and a merry throng was soon playing about the wharf. Dennis was romping about with an unnamed little girl of about 10 years when a shot was heard and Dennis fell, mortally wounded in the temple.

As soon as the older heads began to make inquiries as to the shooting no one could be found who would admit having touched the loaded gun.

The boy died a few hours later at the Mt. Holly hotel.

AT CAMP PERRY

RIFLEMEN WILL ENGAGE IN PRACTICE AUG. 8

WASHINGTON, July 25.—Beginning August 8, Camp Perry, Ohio, will be the center of interest for all American riflemen, the National Rifle association for eighteen days thereafter there will be shot the greatest series of rifle and revolver matches ever held in this country. Three organizations combine their matches to make the meeting a great success. They are the National board for promotion of rifle practice, the National Rifle association of America and the Ohio State Rifle association. The state of Ohio supplies the range and the government gives a large sum of money for prizes in the national match, and a large number of gold, silver and bronze medals and also furnished target officers to run the National Rifle association and National Rifle Association matches. The national guard of each state and territory is entitled to send a team whose expenses are charged up to the money appropriated by congress for rifle practice in that state or territory and almost every state and territory has a national guard is represented at the matches. In addition there are a large number of individual shots who attend at their own expense and compete for the rich prizes in the individual matches. Among the leading events of the tournament to run the National Rifle association and the National Rifle association matches which are distinctly governmental matches, the first being confined to teams of twelve men and the second and third being open to any rifle or revolver shot who wishes to compete. Other great matches are the Herckley cup, Carrow cup, Adjutant's general cup, Governor's, Wimbledon and Leech cups, marine corps, President's, Evans Skirmish, Hall, Peters' individual Skirmish, Du Pont individual Tyro and the team and individual matches for the police forces of the various cities.

Competitors are supplied with their tents and cots and mattresses free of charge but are expected to furnish their own blankets. Meals are supplied to the members of the state teams without cost and to other individuals at fifty cents each.

Camp Perry is located on the south shore of Lake Erie, 29 miles from Toledo and 18 miles west of Sandusky, being thus within reach of such popular resorts as Cedar Point and Put-In-Bay. It is an ideal camp ground, thoroughly drained and supplied with filtered water. The shooting begins

Sworn to by John H. Harrington, proprietor, Martin H. Reidy, business manager, and Alfred Pilote, pressman, of The Sun, before me, January 1, 1910. J. JOSEPH HENNESSY, Notary Public.

This is by far the largest average circulation of any newspaper in Lowell.

It seems that the work of the bug chasers is bound to increase.

It would be better if everybody would fall in line for the auto races. The objectors stand in the way of the public good.

President Taft says everybody should have three months' vacation. He will confer a great favor if he revises the statement downward and tell us how everybody can get three weeks or even three days.

MAYOR WHITE'S RESIGNATION

Mayor White has resigned. That, we believe, was the wisest thing he could do. His friends hope that his action in this respect may have some influence with the courts in granting him a new trial or else in some way mitigating his sentence.

THE AMES FLYING MACHINE

The people of Massachusetts will watch with considerable interest the progress made by Congressman Ames in his invention of a flying machine. Should he be successful and make a few flights around the state, he would certainly compel a great many of the Dodge shouters to look up to him. It might elect him.

MINORS MUST HAVE HEALTH CERTIFICATES

That is a good law which compels minors going to work to have certificates of health. Formerly they were obliged to have only certificates of age, and these the employers were unable to controvert. Most employers, however, can distinguish between a good healthy minor and one in poor health.

HEAT BRINGS SPEED MADNESS

It seems that on warm Sundays the chauffeurs lapse into speed madness. The result is that every Sunday brings a number of deaths and nearly as many smashed autos. Two weeks ago yesterday the New England record in this respect was quite appalling. The results should be a warning for others, but it seems some people are unwilling to learn in this way.

THE CONCORD RIVER

The sewer department might be requested to look into the condition of the Concord river about the Rogers street bridge with a view to ascertaining what is necessary to put the river at that point in a sanitary condition. It would be well also to ascertain where all the filth and rubbish comes from that is at the present time choking the river and causing it to grow over with grass and weeds. The city cannot tolerate that condition much longer.

THE BUREAU OF MINES

The law establishing a new bureau of mines went into effect this month, and the bureau is now at work looking into the causes of accidents with a view to adopting preventive measures. There is no doubt whatever that there is great need for such a movement. A Bureau of Mines can accomplish a great deal of good by more rigorous inspection, by stricter regulations and by insisting that the miners shall be properly protected while at work. It will be the function of the bureau also to pass upon the quality of explosives used in coal mining as these are sometimes responsible for disasters. The vast number of miners killed in our American mines reflects upon the vigilance of our officials. In no other country are the mining fatalities nearly so great as in this. The reason is that the operatives think only of production and do not take sufficient precaution against accidents.

THE PUBLIC BATH QUESTION

Many parents have become so much afraid of their boys going alone to river or canal to bathe that they appointed certain times, usually Sundays, when the boys will be taken under the guardianship of the father or somebody else to a place where they can go in bathing without danger. The places resorted to for this purpose are Beaver brook, Silver lake, Crystal lake and Lake Mascopie. It takes time to reach some of these places but any father would rather take his boys where they can have an opportunity to go in bathing with safety than let them run the risk of getting drowned by going alone.

This is but another illustration of the need of public baths, a need that seems to be but little realized by the members of our city council. The people who want public baths should put the question to the candidates who ask their support at the approach of city election. If the voters decided not to elect anybody who would not favor public baths this public necessity might be provided within a single year.

THE DOWN RIVER BOULEVARD

The Board of Trade proposition to reserve the land between the new state highway and the river free for scenic purposes is one that should be favored all along the line. The strip of land will not be very wide at any point and the property owners can afford to give this land in return for the far greater benefits from the highway. The people who own automobiles are anxious to see the highway completed as soon as possible for the reason that the present road between Lowell and Lawrence on the north side of the river is one of the worst in the state. The state highway from Lawrence to Newburyport is very inviting to the motorists, but when they come to the section between Lawrence and Lowell they are disgusted and turn in some other direction unless they are obliged to pass. According to the plan of the Board of Trade the new state highway would in all respects resemble our boulevard, thus affording an unobstructed view of the beautiful scenery on both sides of the river.

SEEN AND HEARD

A few samples of "favorite action":
 "Money cheerfully refunded if goods are not satisfactory."
 "Teeth extracted without pain."
 "If the waiter is insolent or neglectful we will excuse it a favor if you will report him at the office."
 "Yes, we're distantly related to an English nobleman, but we seldom speak of it."
 "Strange I can't call your name! I know it just as well as I do my own."
 "Don't mention it old boy; glad to accommodate you."
 "No, I never use it except for medicinal purposes."
 "No, indeed, Mrs. Hicks; you haven't kept us waiting one minute."
 "You're too clever for a town like this; why don't you reach out to a bigger city?"

"I wish you had come along; the trip was not complete without you."
 "There's a name other than fiction for this kind of stuff."

"Tis Ames' aim to dislodge Lodge."

Don't look down on the man who takes every occasion to tell you that his ancestors came over in the Mayflower. He may be a good man, for all that.

The greatest philanthropists in the world must be the promoters at mining enterprises, who advertise to everybody the opportunity to get ten dollars for one out of their stock, when they might just as well keep it for themselves.—Somerville Journal.

A young woman paced up and down in the telegraph office and incidentally watched the receiver's window. Finally a young man came to the window, called the young woman and handed to her a piece of paper which she hastily read and, with a sigh of satisfaction, pushed into her bag and left the office.

The clerk at the window smiled. "We have some funny ones," he said, "but this one just about reaches the limit for novelty ideas. This woman came to me with a post card which was addressed to her husband and upon which was written something in dots and dashes. She said that it came from a woman operator in a telegraph office, and that, while she knew the woman, the dots and dashes were too much for her and she thought there was something up."

"I made the translation, and here is what I read: 'Please forget what I said Saturday for I would not have you changed in any way, as I love every inch of you, my dear.'"

"Well, I'd hate to express my opinion, but I would give half of my month's pay to see what happens when 'wife' meets 'hubby' with the translated postal card!"

THE BABY

He has his father's Roman nose. He has his mother's wondrous eyes. His little girl got some, I suppose. Suggests his grand-dad's pate so wise.

He has no teeth, but on the whole there's lots of room to put them in; his mother's mother pays him well by giving him her chin.

The dimple on his little cheek—O what a lovely thing it is! "The ever playing hide-and-seek, And shows what wealth of smiles his."

This dimple is his mother's—sure! A perfect little fortune of fun. "The dimple was first to lure Us twain from two to one."

But whence hath come this fund of merriment?

That he doth make at night and day? 'Tis louder than a troop of boys. Let loose at recess time to play.

It has a wild, strenuous roar. Mixed with a sort of charming chuck; I fear me some old ancestor Was captain of a lug.

—John Kendrick Bangs, in the Christian Endeavor World.

"Every time I go shopping I thank heaven that I have a good business head," said the woman who boasts that her quick wit always saves her from financial loss. "A saleswoman came over a belt I bought. The only thing that saved her was my business instinct. First I bought a belt for $1.25 and paid with a $2 bill. In handling my change the girl dropped a quarter into the paper and boxes that strewn the floor back of the counter, and I could have held her accountable, but she looked so tired and worried that I hadn't the heart to do that, so how do you think she settled it?"

"Her husband gave it up."

"Why," said she triumphantly, "I just exchanged my $1.25 belt for a dollar one and neither of us lost anything."

"Remarkable instinct, my dear," said the husband, and she smiled over his approval.

"By marrying a man whose name begins with X I have incurred one trouble that I had always expected to be spared," said the young woman. "I have incurred the trouble of being made initial handkerchiefs. Apparently manufacturers do not make handkerchiefs marked with the letter X. Often when I see a sale of initial handkerchiefs advertised I start downtown before breakfast hoping to snatch up any number with my letter before the rest of the Xs arrive, but my haste is profitless. Early or late the shoppers who need letter X handkerchiefs fare just the same, for they are not on the market."

"Since the exigencies of my own case have driven me to paying over a hundred dollars for X handkerchiefs I have noticed several peculiarities about initial handkerchiefs. In any lot that has been dumped on the counter at a big sale the Ss, Ts, Ds and Bs outnumber any other letter two to one early in the morning, but at night there are scarcely any left, which indicates that persons whose names begin with those letters are right on the job at a bargain sale. G is a rare letter in initial handkerchiefs and Z and Y are almost as hard to find as X."

PEOPLE OF NOTE

Announcement is made that deserving young employees of Studelaker Brothers Manufacturing company, South Bend Ind., will be given university education by that concern, and that while the young men are in school they will be allowed full pay. The company will keep a record system by which the efforts of young employees to better themselves mentally can be easily known, and when it is thought that an employee has made satisfactory development, tuition for one year in some university or technical school will be provided with a year's vacation on pay.

E. Phillips Oppenheim is coming to America, having recently resigned his directorship in the manufacturing business which his father established in Leicester. Mr. Oppenheim is no stranger to this country, for his wife is an American and her parents reside in Chelsea. The Oppenheims home on the Norfolk coast of England is named "Wimplisimmet."

George Barr McCutcheon, having completed work on his forthcoming novel, "The Rat in the Ring," has just started with Mrs. McCutcheon on a six weeks' automobile trip through New England. They will end their tour at Kennebunkport, Me., where they will spend the rest of the summer near Mr. and Mrs. Booth Tarkington.

All Chicago public school principals hereafter will be drawn from the ranks of college graduates. The teacher who cherished an ambition to attain the position and salary of a principal will have to acquire a degree from an accredited college before becoming eligible to compete in the examinations for principals. Under the old rule qualifications consisted of eight years' teaching experience, or a college degree and four years' experience, or a normal school certificate and six years' experience. Now a candidate must be a graduate from an accredited college and have four years' successful experience in graded schools.

Frank E. Briggs, principal of the Edison High school, has accepted an offer of a similar position in Bar Harbor, Me. He is to return to his native state, where he was born in Paris, June 30, 1869. Six years later his parents moved to Mechanics Falls, in that state, where he lived for 10 years, with the exception of three years. He then moved to Lowell, where he attended the high school. He attended the grammar and high schools of Mechanics Falls, and from the latter was graduated in 1888, and a year later was graduated from the Edward Little high school of Auburn, Me. He then went to Bowdoin college, from which he was graduated in 1891. He is a member of the Alpha Delta Phi and Phi Beta Kappa fraternities. In his school experience he has been principal of academies in Lincoln, Bluehill and Cuyahoga, Me., and high schools in Nantucket, Lancaster and Littleton, to which will be added his labors in Bar Harbor.

William H. Wilson, son of the late Congressman William L. Wilson, author of the famous Wilson tariff bill, is a candidate for the democratic nomination for congress in the second district of West Virginia. The district is the same as was represented by the elder Wilson for twelve years.

Gary, Ind., built by the United States steel company, has received no end of advertisement, but it is not generally known that a somewhat startling undertaking of city building is now being carried forward in Alabama, near Birmingham, where a new city is being built on the site of a former one. The city is being built by land-survey artists, and nearly a thousand men, with steam shovels, traction engines and hundreds of teams are at work grading the property, laying miles upon miles of street pavements, erecting water mains, gas mains, etc. Corey appears to have been selected as the site of future plants of the steel corporation in the south, because, like Gary, it is a central point at which raw material can be assembled most cheaply. Coal mines are but a mile from the center of the city; iron mines are only three miles away; limestone quarries from which come the fluxing material for making pig-iron are only a mile away, and there is an abundant water supply within a convenient radius. But while the plan for the new city indicates a regard for details of all sorts, as to the way in fact be ready-made, with provision for schools, churches, etc., it is designed for the present at least on a smaller scale than Gary. It is reported that Corey will be complete within the next three or four months. A considerable number of possibilities of southern development which will be offered by the Panama canal seems to have entered into the steel company's plans for the construction of this new southern city.

THEATRE VOYONS

Today's feature picture at the Theatre Voyons is a magnificent production of Maceppa, a well known drama, but one that has not been played in Lowell for a long time. It is founded on historical incidents in Polish history and has been the play in which many actors have become famous. It requires a wealth of costumes and starling that in many times as elaborate as that required for the ordinary drama and its story is a genuine thriller. Every scene calls for the best of acting and the set company. Its makers, have really made a prize-worthy production of it. There are several other excellent pictures on the bill and the musical features will meet with approval. The feature picture will be talked on by Herbert Leroy, one of the most pleasing dramatic talkers ever heard in Lowell, and the whole program will be well worth while.

LAKEVIEW THEATRE

"The Outlaw's Sweetheart" is the title of the play selected for presentation this week at Lakeview theatre. It is a play that has been played by many of the leading western stock companies and has always given entire satisfaction, and there seems to be no reason why it should not do the same this week, since new and elaborate scenery will be used, together with the full strength of the company, including James Thatcher, Jack Rowe, Benn Johnson, Don Hurold, Robert Lee, Florence Farr, Francis Williams, Marcia Merrill, Mrs. Harold and others. It is a play full of thrilling incidents with a novel love story and a light vein of comedy all the way through it, and like many dramas of its kind there is a quality to this one difficult to define, yet pleasing, apparently, to everyone who sees it. It is a story that lends itself acceptably to dramatic action, allowing opportunity for picturesque stage settings, and is one that should be popular this week. Curtain rises at 7.30 and 8.15. Matinees every day except Monday.

In the "Puppy Love" $50,000 Suit

STAMFORD, Conn., July 25.—The suit filed by Russell Griswold, aged 27, against Miss Helen Woodruff Smith, aged forty, seeking $50,000 for alleged breach of promise, is amusing America. Young Griswold has pub-ished many letters and postcards which she has received from Miss Smith during the past ten years, in which the defendant, who used to be the wife of Homer Cummings, once mayor of Stamford and a member of the democratic national committee, but resumed her maiden name when she got divorced, addresses her admirer in fond and faithful terms. Miss Smith denies that anything other than "puppy love" was expressed in her letters.

NAPOLEON RIVET

Will Probably Be Electrocuted Tomorrow Morning

If the custom established by Warden B. F. Bridges of the State prison in the electrocution of prisoners condemned to death is followed, Napoleon Rivet will pay the penalty for the murder of Joseph J. Galloux at Lowell, Feb. 27, 1905, some time between midnight and 1 a. m. Tuesday morning.

The condemned man spent Sunday in his cell in the death house in despair, and his spiritual adviser, Rev. Augustine D. Malley, the Catholic chaplain of the State prison, to whom Rivet will make his last confession, before going to the chair, was a frequent visitor to the cell occupied by Rivet.

Rev. Fr. Malley prayed for the soul of the unfortunate man and told him of the great consolation found in devout prayer, and that he should place great faith in God who had power to forgive all sinners.

Rivet spent much of the day in reading, but at times he showed great distress and frequently cried out that "it was a shame to put a young man to death." Up to Thursday night he ate his meals with apparent relish, but that night he refused to eat his supper. Since then he ate fairly well the food he asked for and which was served him.

Rivet's father, mother and sister, who arrived from Quebec, Can., Saturday and visited their son that day at the prison to bid him their last farewell, will claim the body after the electrocution and will have the remains removed to the family lot for burial.

Rivet met his relatives at the death house Saturday with a smile, and assured them of his confidence that the governor would commute the sentence before night. He was calm and self-possessed and made no direct reference to the crime of which he was convicted.

Rivet's relatives occupied chairs beside the cell and then moved with their son in French for an hour. When the time for parting came Mrs. Rivet broke down after she walked away several feet and it was 10 minutes before she recovered. She was not allowed to kiss her son. The mother turned around and with her daughter threw kisses to Rivet as they went down the corridor.

On account of an attempt to smuggle poison to prisoners condemned to die the authorities are strict about letting anyone touch the doomed men.

The electrocution will be witnessed by about eight officials, namely: Medical Examiner Geo. B. Magrath, Surg. Gen. Charles C. Foster or his appointed representative, Dr. Joseph I. McLaughlin, the prison physician; Warden B. F. Bridges, Deputy Warden Nathan D. Allen, William C. Hill of the Associated Press, Rev. Augustine D. Malley, the Catholic chaplain of the prison, who will accompany Rivet to the chair, and Sheriff John R. Fairbairn of the East Cambridge jail.

OUTPUT OF DIAMOND MINE

Chambers Journal says: It has been affirmed (whether truthfully or not, must remain an open question, that prior to the opening up of the Kimberley mines in South Africa, a bushel measure would have held the world's supply of gems under reference which had been won.

Since 1870 the delinquency has been remarkably well made up, for during the eighteen years between that date and 1889 some 46,000,000 of carats—approximately, for no estimate of really disposed of their own day—of the world's supply of diamonds and surrounding districts having the statistical value of $280,000,000. A trifling effort in arithmetic will enable the enquirer to think of diamonds in tons. When we have become able to grasp this fact the question arises in the mind: "What does it mean?" With all this amazing weight in diamonds our minds are not relieved by the fact that production is still going on at an increased rate.

In Bechuanaland, or that part of it known as the Kalahari desert, are undeveloped resources. There are prospectors now in England who have for years past known of diamondiferous areas in and about the dead rivers Ob and Nosob. In the low, dry channels of these old time rivers much of promise exists, though the country the traverse has an evil reputation for drought. Both the Ob and Nosob in past ages must have been far nobler streams than any now existent in South Africa, possibly of a magnitude which would have enabled them to bear on their broad bosoms vessels of exceedingly deep draught.

In the event of their rich deposits being exploited to what use, we wonder, would the plethora of diamonds be put? There must be a world of wealth in the cellars of the various banks as represented by even the present surpluses. Diamonds cannot be said to possess a standard value such as gold has, nor is it to be thought that the huge proportion of the world's wealth represented by crown and family jewels will ever become intrinsically endangered. Perhaps it is this latter view on the question which keeps heart in those who traffic in these and other gems.

IN FOREIGN COUNTRIES

English and Chinese capital is being freely invested in mining properties in the Philippines.

The coal of Bantam, P. I., is now being shipped to Singapore as well as to Hongkong and the China coast. Gold mining operations continue at Benguet.

Transactions of the Philippine treasury in 1909 exceeded $250,000,000, or an average of $845,000 for each of the 300 working days of the year.

Honolulu sugar interests have just acquired 20,000 acres of rich sugar land at the Calamba, Laguna, P. I.

The new school year in the Philippines began on June 23 with largely increased attendance. This promises to be a banner year for the schools of the islands.

The United Kingdom conference has reduced the rate on hemp from Manila and Cebu by about 10 per cent.

Thousands of laborers are wanted for work on the sugar plantations of the Philippines, particularly at Mindoro, where there is a good harbor and where a railway from the harbor to the plantations is being constructed.

An English electrical manufacturer asks for Chinese factory students under a plan which appears to correspond to the American college apprentice system. This would naturally result in the sale in China of the goods made at that factory.

Hongkong's entering and clearing shipping in 1909 amounted to 527,230 vessels of 34,530,545 aggregate tons. This was a decrease from 1905 of 4332 vessels, but an increase in tonnage of 215,604. The daily average entry was 256.

The government of Australia has so far spent $33,600,000 on works to supply water for irrigation, domestic and stock purposes. Of this $12,500,000 has been expended on "irrigation works which command 1,100,000 acres and which now supply water for 350,000 acres. More reservoirs are needed for the surplus water sufficient to supply 250,000 acres. Settlers are also required to utilize it.

The coast line of China, about 2500 miles, gives about one mile of coast for every 500 miles of area.

IN STOLEN BOAT

Harkness Made Thrilling Trip From Brooklyn to Boston

BOSTON, July 25.—Wilfred J. Harkness, 29 years old, a sailor, who claims to belong in San Francisco, is a prisoner at the harbor police station. He was arrested Saturday, charged with stealing the handsome catboat Frances from its moorings off Bensonhurst, Brooklyn, on June 27.

Capt. Edward Pease of the harbor police received a circular Saturday giving an account of the theft of the boat. An hour later the yacht had been located and Harkness was under arrest.

Harkness does not deny his guilt. He said yesterday that he took the yacht so that he could come to Boston, as there were more opportunities here to ship as a sailor than in New York. He had no money and he declared there was no other way of his getting here. He did not explain his action in changing the name of the boat by transposing two of the letters, making her name read Frances instead of Francis.

He had advertised the boat for sale in some of the Boston papers, and mailed to her mast when she was recovered by Sgt. Hurd and Patrolmen McCarthy and Soutter was a "for sale" sign.

The Frances is 20 feet 6 inches long and 10 feet beam. She is splendidly equipped and is valued at about $1500. She is owned by S. Wickes of the Bensonhurst yacht club, Brooklyn.

Harkness had a thrilling trip during the trip around New York. He came by way of Sandy Hook and twice he was nearly drowned. When off Shinnecock the yacht ran into a furious gale and Harkness had to put over the boat and go astern to reef the sail on account of the long boom. While he was engaged in this work the boat capsized and he was two hours struggling in the water before he could get back to the yacht. In the meantime he had divested himself of his clothes and shoes. Then the Frances was struck by another storm which nearly overwhelmed her. Harkness reached here several days ago but it was not until a circular was received Saturday that the harbor police knew of the theft.

The police patrol Watchman "towed" the yacht from Mystic wharf to Constitution wharf, where it is now held awaiting the arrival of the owner, who is expected today.

Harkness will be arraigned in the East Boston court today. It is uncertain whether he will be prosecuted here or turned over to the Boston police. He can be prosecuted in either city.

STRIKE LEADERS

Say Inexperienced Trainmen Are to Blame for Wrecks

MONTREAL, July 25.—One solution of the Grand Trunk railroad strike is now in sight according to the company's officers. It is presented in a message yesterday by President Hays to Mackenzie King, minister of labor, asking adequate protection of the company's property and of its employees, especially those who have taken the places of strikers.

"While we were desirous of arbitration," said President Hays, "time for such action has passed." The strike leaders on the other hand expressed confidence in the steadfastness of their ranks now that Mr. King's last suggestion for further arbitration accepted by the men has been refused by the company. They still rely on a remedial freight parity.

The officials began the week with an ambitious program. It was announced that freight of all kinds would be accepted for immediate shipment. The ships which at various points closed a week ago, opened today. Practically all the ten thousand employees returned to their places.

Several minor wrecks alleged by railroad officials to be due to tampering with switches by meddling persons and declared by strike leaders to have been accidents resulting from handling of trains by inexperienced men have been called to the attention of the authorities. The local militia at Brockville which has been a storm center is said not to be doing satisfactory protective work. The city council is expected to request the government to send a detachment of regulars from Kingston.

CAPTAIN SLOCUM

Master of Famous Sloop is Given Up as Lost

NEW BEDFORD, July 25.—Capt. Vineyard Haven. Slocum, master of the famous sloop Spray and author of a book, "Sailing Alone Around the World," has been given up as lost by his wife.

Capt. Slocum sailed from Vineyard Haven for the West Indies more than a year and a half ago to escape the poverty of the approaching winter and he had not since been heard from. He was last seen by a reached the Bahamas and always made a point of keeping his whereabouts informed. Neither of his wives, Mrs. Slocum was 66, and he has made voyages to all the seas of the earth in the famous sloop.

Mrs. Slocum, his wife, is living at

"I believe beyond all doubt that Capt. Slocum is lost," said Mrs. Slocum, "He sailed Nov. 12, 1908, going south for the sake of his health. I had often thought of the loss of him on short voyages but I did not like to go on so long a voyage of the approaching winter and he, although he desired it. We expected to hear from him when he sailed alone and was last seen by a reached the Bahamas and always made a point of keeping his whereabouts informed. Neither of his wives, Mrs. Slocum was 66, and he has made voyages to all the seas of the earth in the famous sloop.

Mrs. Slocum, his wife, is living at was run down by a steamer at night. Capt. Ernest Deane of Chatham, who cruised in the West Indies last winter, made inquiries everywhere but could not learn that Capt. Slocum reached the islands.

Capt. Slocum was born in Nova Scotia and was a sailor all his days. He finally became a commander of vessels and was wrecked in the bark Aqueduct on the coast of Brazil. He built a sloop, the Liberdade, in which he cruised home and later exhibited his boat and curiosities at county fairs and along the coast.

He was given an old sloop abandoned at Fair Haven, Mass., and rebuilt her. She was 35 feet long and her timbers were largely green wood, apple tree trunks from an old orchard being used to quite an extent. Yet the vessel was taut and staunch, and after cruising along the coast he sailed from Yarmouth, N. S. on July 2, 1896, on a world cruise that lasted three years.

For a long interval at that time he was given up as lost. Later he visited Cape Cod along the coast, selling his books and curiosities.

In 1908 he brought home a piece of green coral weighing two tons. He purchased a farm at West Tisbury and undertook the culture of hops, with slight success.

Capt. Slocum has a wife and four children. One of his three sons, Victor, is now an aviating cruise. Another son is Benjamin, of Lynn, and a third, James Garfield Slocum, lives in New York city. His only daughter is Mrs. Arthur Joyce, of Attleboro.

PROF SCHOULL HAD TWO NARROW ESCAPES FROM DEATH

CHICAGO, July 25.—Prof. Walter Schoull, a Chicago astronomer, had two narrow escapes from death yesterday in a balloon race at Aurora with Prof. William McKinney of Washington when the large gas bag made a sudden descent of 700 feet and landed in the Fox river. McKinney rose to a height of 200 feet and was declared the winner. Schoull's balloon careened off to an island.

THIRD STRUGGLE For The Seawanhaka Cup

MANCHESTER, July 25.—Represented by two boats that are practically forty-foot racing canoes, the Royal St. Lawrence and Manchester Yacht clubs began their third struggle today for possession of the Seawanhaka cup and international trophy of fished fifteen years ago to encourage small boat racing. Between the two clubs the honors are even for the Manchester yachtmen were beaten on Lake St. Louis in 1903 and brought the cup back from Canada in 1905. If some old Salem boat Indian had attempted to race either the challenger St. Lawrence or the defender Massachusetts over the little triangular course of 1.1-3 miles to a side which was planned for today's race it is probable that the ancient mariner would have been beaten almost before he started. It is generally admitted that the two yachts that started today on the first of the international series are the highest type of a racing machine that has yet been built on a 25 foot waterline. One of the yachts has already made 13 knots in a reaching spin across Salem bay so Corinthian yachtmen not only from many points in Massachusetts but from yachts also from Canada put in here today to enjoy the fast work.

Possession of the cup will depend upon the result of the boat winding three races, the courses on each day alternating between triangular and a two-mile windward and leeward affair, all the courses being 12 miles in length.

Both boats were hauled out last night at Starboard for a final vanishing coat to their underbodies and when they slipped into the water this forenoon one yachtsman remarked that they looked pretty slippery.

HOT IN BOSTON But Thunder Showers Are Expected

BOSTON, July 25.—Starting with an official reading at 80 at 8 a. m. and a minimum during the night of 73, Boston's share of the hot wave had things stealing when business opened for the day. Inside of an hour the thermometers had jumped three or four degrees and from that time on the rise was steady with a proportionate decrease in vitality among the sweltering masses.

The local weather observers held out some hopes of thunder showers during the day.

FOUR MORE DEAD As a Result of the Heat

NEW YORK, July 25.—After its record rise to 97 degrees yesterday, marking the hottest day of the season, the official mercury hovered about or above the 80 degree mark all night, registering a minimum of 78 and at 8 o'clock this morning standing at 79, or two degrees above the figures for the same hour on Sunday. The prospects were for another scorching day although something of a breeze from the southwest and a lesser percentage of humidity tended to alleviate conditions. Despite this prostration cases began to be reported early.

Reports from the Brooklyn hospitals this morning added four to the list of dead from the effects of the torrid wave.

FOUR MORE DEAD As a Result of the Heat

NEW YORK, July 25.—After its record rise to 97 degrees yesterday, marking the hottest day of the season, the official mercury hovered about or above the 80 degree mark all night, registering a minimum of 78 and at 8 o'clock this morning standing at 79, or two degrees above the figures for the same hour on Sunday. The prospects were for another scorching day although something of a breeze from the southwest and a lesser percentage of humidity tended to alleviate conditions. Despite this prostration cases began to be reported early.

Reports from the Brooklyn hospitals this morning added four to the list of dead from the effects of the torrid wave.

HOT IN BOSTON But Thunder Showers Are Expected

BOSTON, July 25.—Starting with an official reading at 80 at 8 a. m. and a minimum during the night of 73, Boston's share of the hot wave had things stealing when business opened for the day. Inside of an hour the thermometers had jumped three or four degrees and from that time on the rise was steady with a proportionate decrease in vitality among the sweltering masses.

The local weather observers held out some hopes of thunder showers during the day.

Hot Spell Affects Children and the Aged

Each Hot Spell is Followed by Cholera Infantum Among the Babies and Death Among the Very Old — City Dispensary Crowded With Children Today

The long line of seats in the office of the city dispensary at city hall was crowded with children this morning awaiting the district physicians and the services of the dispensary.

The old saying that half the world knows not how the other half lives may be exemplified in Lowell whenever a hot spell such as we have had during the past few days comes upon us. Half of Lowell hasn't the slightest idea of how the denizens of the congested tenement districts of this city live through the hot weather or perhaps it would be easier to get more public breathing places, more charity for children's week and other blessings for the poor.

Two weeks ago we had a hot spell and a few days afterward the record at the board of health office showed a tremendous increase in the number of cases of cholera infantum, while the death record showed the dropping off of an unusual number of old people. The hot weather affects first the very young and the very old and every spell of intensely hot weather lasting over 48 hours is followed as invariably as darkness after daylight by an increased number of deaths among the very old and the very young.

Today but one case of cholera infantum had been reported while the

UNKNOWN MAN Was Overcome by the Heat

A man, whose identity is unknown at the present writing, was overcome by the heat about one o'clock this afternoon while passing through Lakeview avenue. He dropped on the sidewalk and was carried into a nearby house and the ambulance summoned. When the ambulance arrived the man was so delirious that while he was being taken into the ambulance he bit the ambulance physician on the thumb inflicting a painful injury. At the time of going to press, the man's condition had improved, and it is expected that he will recover.

HIS CHIN INJURED BY ELECTRICITY

Nicholas Bayann, residing at 58 Moody street, had his chin struck by the flooring of an elevator at the Boot mills about 6:45 o'clock this morning. The ambulance was summoned and he was removed to the Lowell hospital where he received treatment.

Wilton Looms Started In Carpet Today

For the first time in history the Wilton looms of the Bigelow Carpet company of this city were started and operated by electricity this morning. Some 10 or 12 looms in what is known as the "Little Mill" were started and electricity in the future will be the power, the looms having been run by a steam engine since 1885. The operatives claim that the electric power has an advantage over steam in that it is more regular and does not vary like steam and hence makes their work easier.

OLDEST CITIZEN Patrick O'Neil Aged 102 Is Dead

Patrick O'Neil, probably Lowell's oldest resident, died this morning at his home in Broadway, aged 102 years. He had been a resident of Lowell for many years and a devout member of St. Patrick's parish since its establishment. All of his relatives have been dead many years. The remains were removed to the establishment of J. F. O'Donnell & Sons.

SWISS DIPLOMAT HAS WON AN AMERICAN HEIRESS

WASHINGTON, July 25.—An engagement is said to exist between Henri Martin, Charge d'Affaires of the Swiss Embassy, and Miss Cecelia May, daughter of Colonel and Mrs. Henry May, and one of the richest and most popular belles of Washington society.

Mr. Martin has been attached to the Washington legation for several years. He is a universal favorite, both in the resident and diplomatic set. On Miss May's return from Europe, several years ago, she was presented to Mr. Martin, and a warm friendship is said to have sprung up between them. Miss May is accomplished historically, and has often appeared in society dramatics.

Mr. Martin is one of the most versatile of the eligible young bachelors of the diplomatic corps. He is a member of an ancient French-Swiss family, and has distinguished himself in the diplomatic corps. He is the champion amateur fencer of Switzerland and of Washington society. At the exclusive skating club formed by the younger set last season, he was the most fantastic figure and capers on roller skates proved tremendously attractive to the other members. Everybody, including Postmaster Frank Hitchcock, began to emulate his skill, and Captain Butt and Mr. Hitchcock both acquired some knees trying to cut "the Martin figure eight."

FIVE DEATHS REPORTED

To The Health Department Since Saturday

Death is not marching hand in hand with the present hot wave as was the case with the last hot wave that visited us, but the doctors say that the effect of this very hot weather will not be made manifest before tonight or tomorrow.

Five deaths were reported at the office of the board of health since Saturday at noon as against 30 deaths during a corresponding time of the last hot wave. One death from cholera infantum was reported on Saturday and there were over 20 deaths from cholera infantum during the last hot spell.

STORM WAS WELCOME

Paradoxical as it may seem, yet 'tis true, that it sometimes takes a shower to bring sunshine.

There wasn't much sunshine in the heart of the average citizen this afternoon until the rain drops began to fall and then the scene was changed. We swapped that all-gone look for a happy smile and we said all the nice things we could think of about the rain. Strange what a difference a few hours will make. The pessimist was heard to say this forenoon that we wouldn't have any rain for a week and the chances are he feels badly to think that he did not prove weather wise.

The rain was appreciated everywhere but more especially in the congested districts and so good did it seem to the children that they stood in the street while the rain drops played tag with them.

The only fault that could be found with the shower was that it did not last long enough. But it was a corker while it lasted, and it certainly did take a lot of heat out of the air.

WANT INDICTMENTS QUASHED

BOSTON, July 25.—Counsel for Arthur B. Sederquist, John E. Barry, Harry F. Curtis and Charles H. Rollins, all under indictment in connection with the failure of Sederquist, Barry & Co., brokers, filed special pleas in the superior court today. Upon his return his mother had vanished. The police were notified and every officer on the force as well as the members of the fire department assisted by private citizens began the hunt yesterday afternoon continuing throughout the night and today. James R. Keene Defendant in Action Brought by Firm

NEW YORK, July 25.—As a sequel of the disastrous collapse of the Hocking, Pool, a suit has been instituted against James R. Keene, the aged Wall street speculator, and the brokerage firm of Popper & Sternbach, for $750,000 damages on the charge of conspiracy. The action was brought by Henry S. Haskins and Henry S. Leverich, partners in Lathrop, Haskins & Co.

The accusation is made that Keene, through Popper & Sternbach, deliberately planned the ruin of Lathrop, Haskins & Co. in order to "increase his profits. The papers in the action tell in detail how the two pools were formed, how the stock was boomed, and how Keene, out of the wreckage, which he is charged with having secretly precipitated, reaped a harvest estimated at $3,500,000.

From an attorney close to the plaintiff it was stated that the suit would develop evidence which would be available for the district attorney in a criminal prosecution. It was even hinted that the district attorney's office already was considering the question of bringing the whole matter before the grand jury.

The complaint states that about March 1, 1909, Lathrop, Haskins & Co., entered into an agreement with Keene, together with J. M. Fluke & Co., Neuberger, Henderson & Loeb, Post & Flagg, Jewett Brothers, Day, Adams & Co., Markoe & Morrison, A. J. Elias & Co., Rollins & Co. and Orvis Brothers & Co., to buy at least 20,000 shares of the common stock of the Columbus and Hocking Coal and Iron company, or and how Keene, out of the wreckage, which he is charged with having secretly precipitated, reaped a harvest estimated at $3,500,000.

From an attorney close to the plaintiff it was stated that the suit would develop evidence which would be available for the district attorney in a criminal prosecution. LEADER SURRENDERS

Head of Boy Bandits Gave Himself Up to Police

NEW YORK, July 25.—The leader of the band of young thieves that has been terrorizing the lower section of Yonkers during the past week surrendered to the police yesterday. He is Aleck Kellogg, the son of William C. Kellogg, local agent of the Mutual Life Insurance company, of No. 15 Lowerville street.

Young Kellogg left town Saturday when he learned that the police were looking for him. He went to the house of an uncle in the Bronx, Frederick H. Kellogg, a lawyer, of No. 5 Beekman street, and was advised to give himself up, which he did.

Young Kellogg made a startling confession. He said he had tried to kill his mother twice and that some time prior to the present series of burglaries had entered the home of William Baggs, at No. 17 Lowerville street, at 2 o'clock in the morning. He carried a gun with him on that occasion and said he meant to use it if anyone attempted to arrest him.

Kellogg told the police that he only entered two homes, those of John Christopherson, on Wendover road, and T. Kennard Thomson, on Madeline drive. Later, when questioned by Captain George Cooley, he confessed to having robbed also the homes of John Guiteau, of No. 237 Bruce avenue, and Mrs. Francis J. Tuttle, of No. 223 Valentine lane.

The one hundred and seventy pieces of silver and other valuables which Captain Cooley recovered in the cave in Van Courtlandt park, the hiding place of the band, was only part of the plunder. As to the remaining portion, Kellogg told the captain he had given it to a friend named William Dobbins, who was to pawn it and divide the proceeds with him.

Captain Cooley has been in the police department twenty-eight years, but says he never came in contact with a cooler or more skilled criminal than Aleck Kellogg.

Six years ago Kellogg lived in Bridgeport, Conn., and while a resident of that place he said he waylaid a young woman. For this crime he was sent to the state reformatory for a period of two years. Before this he was arrested twice for stealing.

Kellogg is only thirteen years old, but looks like a boy of eighteen. He weighs 110 pounds and is very strong and athletic. His father says that when he was an infant Aleck met with a mishap, falling on a sidewalk and striking on his head. Specialists say the only thing that will cure him of his desire to steal is a surgical operation.

Aleck cannot read, but he has a mania for moving pictures.

After Aleck surrendered the other boys arrested charged with committing the recent burglaries, De Leon Hall and Van Eyrie Kilpatrick, discussed their activities more freely. They stated that they had made plans to blow up the safe in the paymaster's office at the Shady Lane shaft, on the Bronx valley sewer, and to rob the homes of Alexander Stolz, attorney for the Valley Farms company, and the Valley Farms company, and sev-

WORK RESUMED
In Merrimack Woolen Mill Today

The Merrimack Woolen mill in Dracut resumed operations, in part, this morning after a shut down of one week. The weaving department was the only department that started with a full force and it was stated that the full complement of help will not be employed at once but the plant will gradually return to its former busy schedule.

The Beaver Brook mill at Collinsville didn't start up today as was confidently expected by the operatives. The Beaver Brook mill shut down all its departments with the exception of the finishing room one week ago and the operatives were notified that the suspension would be for one week only.

6 O'CLOCK GIRL SURRENDERED She Was Wanted on Charge of Stealing Jewelry

BOSTON, July 25.—The officials at the district attorney's office were surprised to receive a visit from an eighteen year old girl who said she came from New York to surrender to the authorities. The girl, whose name is Louise Jones, has been missing from this city since April 20, when her default was recorded in the municipal court where she had been summoned to answer a charge of stealing $3800 worth of jewelry from H. W. Fossick, a jewelry salesman. In the absence of a $5000 bond Miss Jones was committed to jail today.

THE HARPOON WON

HULL, July 25.—The Harpoon owned and sailed by C. F. Adams, 2nd, the Quincy Yacht club challenger for the Quincy cup, won the second race of the series in Hull bay today, defeating the Ciria, the Manchester Yacht club challenger, by one minute and ten seconds. The Eel, the Eastern Yacht club challenger, finished far astern and the Sally XI, representing the Corinthian Yacht club, withdrew from the race just before reaching the windward mark on the second round. She mistook the course number and turned the wrong mark. The Sally XI was in second place at the time, less than a minute behind the Harpoon.

The race was twice around a six mile triangle, giving the yachts a reach, a beam and a run. The breeze was blowing as hard as twenty knots. The Harpoon won by her work up the wind. The others held her on the wind but going to weather she distanced them.

HE HYPNOTIZES HIMSELF

NEW YORK, July 25.—John Pickering, a private of Company C, Fifth regiment, hypnotized himself yesterday in the state camp at Sea Girt, N. J.

Pickering was on guard duty at the governor's cottage during church service. He stood still, and to better maintain the rigid position demanded by the circumstances fixed his gaze upon an object and remained looking at it intently without relaxing his muscles until he collapsed. He was quietly removed to the hospital and is recovering.

RICH HEIR GOES FLYING

ST. LOUIS, July 25.—Andrew Drew, who recently fell heir to a St. Louis fortune, travelled home in the balloon Missouri yesterday afternoon, covering 19 miles in 25 minutes.

Despite warning of friends, he started in a stiff wind from the Aero club grounds to qualify as a pilot. With only five sacks of ballast aboard, he did not endeavor to go far and the wind had not abated when he came down near Collinsville, Ill.

Aeronaut and balloon were dragged through a corn field and the ripping of the 40,000 cubic foot bag failed to stop the progress on the ground until the balloonist was badly shaken up.

Drew goes east this week and will soon make five trips from North Adams, Mass.

AGED SUITORS DISTURBED
NEW YORK, July 25.—Policeman Clement, of the Mercer street station, arraigned Mrs. Agnes Martin and Charles Sears, an elderly couple, in the Jefferson Market Court yesterday on the charge of intoxication and disorderly conduct, and told the court that his prisoners had almost caused a riot in Washington square late on Saturday night among the foreign element, by their abuse of persons who came near to the bench on which they were seated.

"We are going to be married, Judge," said the woman, "and we went to the square to talk over the wedding arrangements. We had much to talk about concerning the furnishing of our little flat on Lexington avenue. But those rude people in the park kept annoying us, and I had to tell them what I thought of them." A fine of $1 was imposed.

CLEVELAND'S ANCESTOR SOLD

BOSTON, July 25.—Through the efforts of residents of the town of Westfield the genealogy of the late President Cleveland may soon be worked out, thus revealing one of the most romantic chapters in the early history of Massachusetts.

On a tour of investigation, which has occupied most of the last ten years, and which, with its last stopping place in Westfield, has now led to the island of Guernsey in the English channel, Miss Rose Cleveland, sister of the late president, thus hopes to set forth a new chapter in the history of the famous president.

Through this search, now temporarily halted in the little island where Miss Cleveland is at present carrying on the work, there has been established beyond a doubt the fact that two generations of ancestors of George Cleveland were after their arrival in America, some 200 years ago, held in slavery, one of them, the late president's great-grandfather, being sold to a woman in Canada for sixteen gallons of rum.

KILLS INTRUDER Louis V. Seydel, a Broker, Shot Down an Intruder

KINGSTON, N. Y., July 25.—Louis Victor Seydel, a New York broker, with a summer home two miles west of West Park, shot and killed Clement Demaron, a saloon-keeper of West Park, yesterday morning. The tragedy occurred in the yard of Seydel, which is about 150 yards from Blah-sides, the summer retreat of John Burroughs, the naturalist. The burglar, Louis Seydel, who has an office at No. 29 Broadway, was formerly owned by Ernest Ingersoll.

Seydel claims the killing was in self defense, as Demaron, after threatening on Saturday to "fix him," returned yesterday with several companions and trespassed upon his property. He says Demaron advanced toward him with a heavy stone uplifted to throw, and was shot by him while in this menacing attitude.

After the shooting Seydel hurried to Poughkeepsie in five himself up. He later surrendered to the authorities at West Park, and is now in jail to await the action of the grand jury. Long after he surrendered, deputy sheriffs, in ignorance of the fact, were searching for him.

Yesterday the construction of the summer houses for rich New Yorkers was responsible for the killing. Demaron, in addition to keeping a saloon and boarding house, does teaming for contractors, hauling lumber up the mountain side. Demaron's team was too light to haul a heavy load of lumber up the steep grade on Saturday afternoon and he stopped the horses when they reached the Seydel place and began unloading in Seydel's yard. Seydel objected and hot words passed between the two, at the close of which Demaron retreated with a threat to "fix Seydel."

Yesterday morning Demaron and five men who board at his home, ascended the mountain and stopped at the Seydel place. Seydel was in the woods nearby, but came into the open when he saw Demaron leave the band and walk into his yard. Demaron carried a stone in his hand, and advancing toward Seydel, lifted his arm as though he intended to throw it. Seydel retreated, but quickly returned with his MINNEAPOLIS, July 25.—W. I. Howland, Jr., of Glenview turned in the lowest score of the first half of the squads which competed in today's 18 holes of the qualifying round of the western golf championship at the Menikahda club. Howland's score was 72 which equalled the course records. Howland was paired with Albert Seckel of Hinsdale, the eastern intercollegiate champion, who was two strokes behind. Many cards were turned in below 80.

NINE INJURED

In a Crash Between Bridge Cars

NEW YORK, July 25.—Two cars of the B. R. T. collided on the Williamsburg Bridge yesterday. Eight passengers were injured and a motorman, Joseph Halegut, of No. 149 Myrtle avenue, Brooklyn, was taken to Gouverneur hospital in a critical condition. Halegut sustained a severe injury to his back and was hurt internally. At the hospital last night it was said he was dying.

Those who needed the services of the ambulance surgeon after the accident were Ida Sandberg, fifty-three years old, of No. 149 East Broadway; Alexander Maldinsky, forty-four, of No. 38 Prospect street; Hymen Kissen, twenty-six, of No. 18 Highland avenue; Tony Campanelli, fifty-seven, of No. 34 Lexington avenue; Henry Ludwig, forty-three, of No. 69 Seidler avenue, and Louis Peggulien, thirty-nine, of No. 26 Bedford street.

A car of the Hamburg-avenue line left the Manhattan terminal of the bridge a few minutes after 6 o'clock yesterday morning and was followed by a car of the Grand street line. In the middle of the structure the Hamburg car, which was crowded with passengers, came to a sudden halt. The motorman of the Grand street car, taken unawares, was unable to stop his car before the crash came.

When the collision occurred the passengers on both cars were thrown in all directions. The screams of the women were heard by Policeman Coughlin, of the bridge squad, who summoned help by blowing his police whistle. When the reserves from the station arrived they found the passengers in a panic. Six of them were lying prostrate on the floor of the Hamburg car.

Coughlin summoned the ambulance surgeon and then made an investigation. He found Halegut, the motorman, unconscious. He was bleeding from his mouth and ears. Coughlin picked him up and carried him to the roadway, from where he was taken to the hospital.

After being attended by the surgeon, the others left for their homes. Half an hour later Michael Jacobitch, 25, of Elmhurst, L. I., and Julius Stelator, 22, of 110 Chrissy street, Manhattan, were found on the bridge suffering from shock. They said they had been in the car collision. Ambulance Surgeon Ehrlich was recalled and found the men suffering from shock. He attended them and then took them home.

ANNUAL OUTING

OF THE LOWELL PRESSMEN'S UNION

The Lowell Pressmen's union held its annual outing at Harvey's grove in Dracut Saturday afternoon. There were about two hundred members and friends present. The feature of the afternoon sports was the ball game, and the P. L. Warren company won the game by a score of 5 to 2. Their opponents were the great fellows from the Courier-Citizen company. There were many special features in the game. Frank Carey of the Courier-Citizen job department made a home run, and then again on the next time at bat he made one of the famous John Ward bunts and reached second base.

Frank Maloney of Lowell won the one-half mile run, and also the hop, step and a jump. There certainly was a great deal of fun in the 100 yard dash, and it was anybody's game until the last heat was run. The real fellows in the race were Joe Maloney of Lawrence, and Joe Gray of Lowell. The Lawrence man won the prize, a cuckoo clock, after three very hard try outs.

After the sports the entire company ended the very nice repast prepared by the chef of the Central, Mr. Harvey.

WOLF TONE GUARDS

HAD A MOST ENJOYABLE TIME YESTERDAY

The Wolf Tone Guards, 62 men strong, omitted their regular drill at their armory yesterday morning and instead they boarded cars for the extension of Richardson's grove in Pelham, where an outing was held after the company had been put through the different military movements. The occasion was a most enjoyable one and allowed the guards an opportunity to enjoy a day of real camp life. A dinner was served at 2 o'clock that was quite an elaborate spread and during the afternoon there was a continuous lunch. The members returned to the city at 5 o'clock after a most delightful day spent on the field and in the pine woods.

ON SHORT TIME

Hires

Means Health and Purity

Two questions alone are vital in the use of any beverage—Is it pure? Is it healthful?

The ingredients used in the manufacture of Hires are personally selected by its inventor, every one possessing a known health value. Many of them could be had at less than half their cost, but they would be less than half as good. The flavor—by which you judge—would be there, but the quality—by which we judge—would not.

Hires could not be made in cleaner vessels by cleaner methods—the tanks are glass-lined, the pipes are solid block tin, the water distilled and the workmen are clean—all under the constant supervision of a practical chemist—a graduate and formerly a professor in one of our foremost technical colleges.

Hires is pre-eminent in healthfulness and purity. It aids digestion and relieves indigestion. Without a trace of false stimulants or irritants such as soap bark, etc.

But don't ask for rootbeer—ask for Hires and thus be sure to get the only genuine rootbeer.

PASTOR MISSING

AND THE CONGREGATION WAITED IN VAIN

NEW YORK, July 25.—Nobody entered the pulpit of the New Apostolic church, at No. 207 East One Hundred and Twentieth street, yesterday at the hour of service. The congregation waited in suspense. Announcement at last came that their pastor, the Rev. Frederick E. Mieren, had disappeared.

They immediately started inquiries by telephone and personal visits to persons who had last seen him. His family had had no information of him since he left home Friday morning to collect some rent and church moneys.

One of his parishioners, Peter Smit, reported having walked to the corner of West One Hundred and Twenty-eight street and Third avenue, at about 7 o'clock Friday evening. There Mr. Mieren boarded a Westchester car for home, No. 2510 Popular street, Westchester.

That being the latest trace they could get of the missing clergyman, his family and his parishioners notified the police.

Mrs. Mieren said she feared her husband had been waylaid for the money he had collected.

He was described to the police as 41 years old, 150 pounds in weight, five feet, seven inches tall, beard and moustache sandy.

PRESIDENT TAFT

TO SPEAK AT ROCKLAND TOMORROW MORNING

ROCKLAND, Me., July 25.—The Mayflower, with President Taft on board, was sighted off Dark harbor, Islesboro, at 10.50 o'clock this morning. The yacht was more than an hour behind her schedule, having been held up during the night by a heavy fog which enveloped the Maine coast for several hours and then lifted.

Wireless advices today were to the effect that President Taft's ankle was rapidly improving. The president's plans for today included the brief stop at Dark harbor this morning, a sail across Penobscot bay from that point to Rockport, eight miles from here, to lunch with Mrs. A. H. Chatfield of Clifton, who has a summer place there, and then a return to Dark harbor, where the party will visit during the afternoon and evening Mrs. Taft's sister, Mrs. Thomas McLaughlin of Pittsburg.

The president will visit Rockland tomorrow morning at 11 o'clock for a drive through the city and to make a brief speech entirely eschewing politics.

The last time Mr. Taft was in Rockland he came as secretary of a committee to speak in favor of Congressman C. E. Littlefield, who had been made a special object of attack by the labor unions. Mr. Littlefield was re-elected but soon afterward announced his resignation to practice law in New York.

The Mayflower anchored off Bennachamp Point, Rockport, at 11.15.

LONG TRIP IN CANOE

BOSTON, July 25.—Somewhere out on the broad Atlantic off the New England coast, Lawyer Nathaniel Watson Ladd is being rocked in the cradle of the deep. His cradle is a sixteen-foot canoe, no more worthy of being called a sea-going craft than any ordinary frail canoe. Under a broad sunshade of a straw hat the cretillie lawyer is steering his tiny shell of a boat Bostonward.

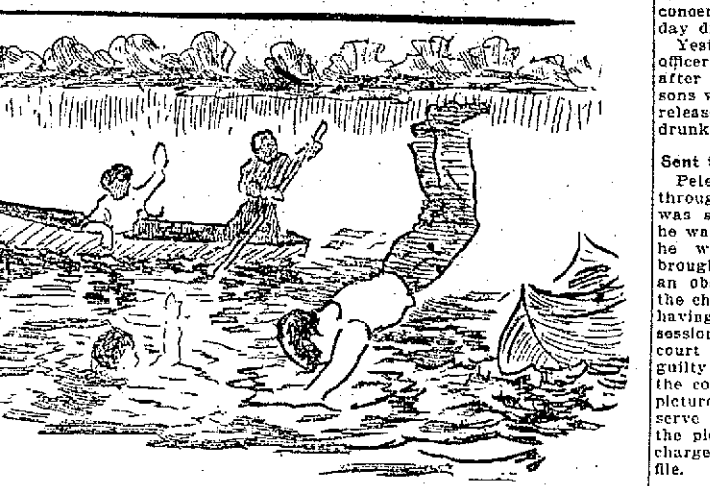

Ladd is sixty-two years of age. He takes to the sea in vacation time, like a duck to water. Watson left New York last Thursday and has been hailed off Nantucket.

TWO MEN PROSTRATED

WORCESTER, July 25.—Worcester sweltered today in an official temperature of 91.5 without any tempering breeze to relieve the situation. Street thermometer registers as high as 73 degrees. Two men were prostrated.

TWO MORE DROWNED

Young Lady Drowned While Boating at Long Pond

The upper sketch shows the happy quartet having fun in an overloaded boat. The middle sketch shows the often fatal results of such folly. The lower sketch shows swimmers diving for the body of the drowned Pole.

Miss Mary Hennessey, Aged 21, of Chelsea, Fell From Boat While Fooling and was Drowned—Body Recovered This Morning—Another Drowning in the Merrimack

Long Pond was the scene of another drowning yesterday when Miss Mary Hennessey, aged 21 years, of Chelsea, was thrown from a row boat while fooling with a companion. The body was recovered at 5 o'clock this morning by J. F. O'Donnell and Sons and this forenoon was conveyed to her home in Chelsea.

Accompanied by three friends, Miss Margaret McCann of Boston, Proctor M. Denno of Everett and Fred Crowley of Cambridge, she started to row around the pond preparatory to going in bathing. Miss McCann and young Crowley, who are each 16 years of age, were at the oars, while Miss Hennessey and Denno sat in the stern seat. The latter two started fooling and Denno pushed the young woman's arms behind her head in such a manner that she lost her balance. She immediately clutched Denno and the pair together went into the pond. As they went down Miss Hennessey released her hold on her companion and Denno came to the surface. He could swim but little and had difficulty in keeping afloat. Miss Hennessey did not come to the surface again.

The boat was moving along fast and in the excitement attending the tragedy young Crowley dropped an oar overboard and was thus prevented from going back to the rescue immediately. Meanwhile William Crowley, a brother of Fred, who was canoeing a short distance away, hastened to the scene and dove for Miss Hennessey while his brother rescued Denno. Twice he brought her to the surface only to have her slip his grasp before assistance could arrive.

Miss Hennessey, with Miss McCann had come up to Dracut to spend the week end at the house of Mrs. Benjamin Bent, on the shore of the pond. Miss McCann had been here several times before in the past four years. Miss Hennessey had spent two weeks at the Bent house three years ago and had never visited the pond until this year.

The parents of the unfortunate girl were notified shortly after the accident and had taken place. They are Henry P. and Mary E. Hennessey of 236 Everett

MAN SENT TO JAIL

For Having Obscene Pictures in His Possession

Workman Assaulted Boy in the Mass. Yard and Was Arrested—Fifteen Drunks Let Off by Probation Officer

There was a rather large attendance of drunk offenders in the dock in police court this morning when Judge John J. Pickman mounted the rostrum. Undoubtedly the extreme heat of Saturday was responsible in a large measure for the number present.

Saturday afternoon and night the patrol wagon was kept busy responding to calls and when the close of the day came there had been 23 booked for drunkenness. Sunday proved to be rather quiet so far as drunks were concerned and there were but few Sunday drunks in court this morning.

Yesterday morning the probation officer called at the police station and after interviewing the different persons who had been placed under arrest, released 15, who had been arrested for drunkenness.

Sent to Jail. Peter Richards was staggering through the streets Saturday night and was sent to the police station where he was booked for being drunk. While he was being searched, there was brought to light about 25 pictures of an obscene nature and in addition to the charge of drunkenness, a charge of having obscene pictures in his possession was preferred against him. In court this morning Richards pleaded guilty to both complaints and after the court had a look at several of the pictures he sentenced Richards to serve two months in jail for having the pictures in his possession and the charge of drunkenness was placed on file.

Assault and Battery. Pamfilo Sciaro was placed under arrest about eight o'clock this morning after he had assaulted Emil Roussault, a water boy, employed by the company which is constructing the new mill in Bridge street for the Massachusetts Cotton mills. According to the police, Sciaro got into an argument with Roussault, who is about 16 years of age, and without any provocation whatsoever, struck the boy over the head with a broom handle. The boy was taken to St. John's hospital where it was found that he was suffering from a deep gash on the head. Word was then sent to the police station and the alleged assailant was placed under arrest. In court this morning, through an interpreter, Sciaro entered a plea of

Were Present at a Game. The constabulary of Billerica is bound to put a stop to gaming in Billerica and yesterday Officer Martin Conway paid a visit to Pinehurst park and found William E. McDonald, and Charles B. Cannon, two young men who reside in Wilmington, present at a game of craps. They were placed under arrest and this morning in court each was fined $4.

Back to the Farm. Michael Erogan, who was arrested for drunkenness, has been away from the state farm but a short time and this morning when he entered a plea of guilty to a complaint charging him with being drunk, the court ordered him returned to Bridgewater.

BLACK WATER SNAKE KILLED

There are tame ducks at Willow Dale or "Breezy Point," so called, and every day for the last week or so one or more of the little ducks would be found dead and with a hole in his throat. It was evident that the enemy had sucked the duck's life blood and the people there were at a loss to know what sort of water animal could swim out and kill the ducks. The fiend was discovered this afternoon and was shot to death. It was a big black water snake. He was six feet long and his head was almost as large as a cat's head. He had been dining sumptuously for a week on chicken duck's blood, but he'll dine no more.

UPRISING IN HONDURAS

WASHINGTON, July 25.—Official reports of the uprising of the Honduran government and details of the progress of the revolutionary movement were received at the state department today from American Minister McCreery at Tegucigalpa.

The first conflict mentioned by the minister took place on Friday at Puerto Cortez where the revolutionists attacked the barracks.

Four vessels are known to be off the coast of Honduras with a considerable number of men aboard.

SEARCH FOR MISSING CASHIER

NEW YORK, July 25.—A general alarm has been sent to the police throughout the United States and Canada for the arrest of Erwin Wider, cashier of the Russo-Chinese bank, who is charged by the bank's officers with having taken $70,000 in bonds from a safety deposit box. Reports today say that Wider has taken securities far in excess of that sum and approximating $600,000. The bank, it is said, thinks that Wider has hidden some of the securities.

FOR USE IN WAR

Congress to be Asked For Money For Six Aeroplanes

WASHINGTON, July 24.—Experts to prove the value of the aeroplane for war purposes, now being carried on by the U. S. government under the auspices of the war and navy departments will be hurried through in time to enable Secretaries Dickinson and Meyer to make formal reports to congress and request an appropriation of $75,000 for the purchase of six aeroplanes, to be assigned to a military and naval use.

Tabulated data now being prepared by the navy department shows that the aeroplane is better than the submarine and that it is seven-tenths less dangerous to the crew, while its cost is about one-fifteenth of that of the submarine.

It was learned yesterday that both officers had obtained verbal assurance from Secretary George C. Perkins of California, chairman of the senate committee on naval affairs, and Congressman George Edmund Foss of Illinois, chairman of the house committee on naval affairs, that such an appropriation would be favorably considered and approved by them if its request was accompanied by an official report showing the possible advantages to be derived by the addition of the aeroplanes to the army and navy.

The clause in the message requesting the appropriation will be substantially as follows:

"That the amount asked, namely $75,000, will purchase six aeroplanes of the latest improved type and will leave a balance for an additional subsidiary equipment; that $75,000 is, approximately, three-fourths of the cost of one 12-inch cannon; that the large-caliber guns mounted at the various forts in the United States take advantage of this economical and promising carrier; that it is estimated that the government improved aeroplane, fully equipped to carry a necessary amount of ammunition and a crew of three to five men, will not cost to exceed $15,000; that an aeroplane is comparatively as potential and safe overhead as the submarine is today under water."

It is figured that there have been 20 casualties in which submarines have lost the lives of all those on board and other accidents which caused the death of one or more of the crew from asphyxiation or other causes.

In favor of the aeroplane it is pointed out that ordinarily not more than two deaths can occur at the time an aeroplane is disabled and crashes down; that this number cannot exceed five.

It is recommended that military or naval aeroplanes for purposes of offense be limited to a crew of three men, including the driver; that a parachute as a complement of safety officers no little advantage to the aeronaut; that the aeroplane offers a slight body for attack; that the vulnerability of the driver or crew can be encompassed by means of a protective steel plate beneath the men, and that its weight, based upon its length and width, need not be great. It is estimated that an oblong steel plate three-eighths of an inch thick, by 5 by 7 feet, will deflect a well-directed shot from guns that can shoot upward with facility.

Experiments by the Italian government have gone to show that an aeroplane can, with impunity, make all its observations and wait for the time of attack without worrisome risk from dangers from below. As a result the Italian government is holding up the dreadnought building program.

GOVERNOR AND CAPITOL OF STATE THAT IS TOO RICH TO LEVY TAXES

MINNEAPOLIS Minn., July 25.—

Look who's here! A state, Minnesota by name, which has so much money in its treasury that in all probability no taxes for 1911 will be levied on the people. There is nearly $4,000,000 in the Minnesota state treasury, a surplus without precedent. Moreover, this enormous surplus is growing constantly, the settlement of big lumber cases, inheritance tax suits and other litigation in favor of the state being responsible in large part for the doubling of the treasury funds since last October. It is understood that Gov. A. O. Eberhardt, at the suggestion of Attorney General George T. Simpson and other state officers will recommend that no tax levies be made for next year. The state officials are wondering what is to be done with the surplus riches of the commonwealth.

HO FOR THE BEACH SAVED BY WOMAN

United Irish League Excursion on Aug. 11

The United Irish league decided last evening to run the "Ho! for the Beach" excursion on Thursday, Aug. 11, and as usual to Revere. The headquarters for the day will be at the Metropolitan hotel, and tickets for leading attractions fronting on the beach will be provided for those who take in the excursion.

At last night's meeting, in the absence of President Rourke, Mr. Dennis McDowell presided, and a large committee was chosen to conduct the excursion.

The arrangements for the convention at Buffalo in September were discussed and it was stated that Hon. John E. Redmond would speak in Lowell in the fall, although the exact date has not yet been fixed. The picnic committee which includes the executive committee, will meet again next Friday evening when a large attendance is requested.

The committee fixed the date earlier than usual in order to have the excursion out of the way before the big Hibernian convention.

WINDOWS BROKEN

STONES LAND IN ROOM OF WORCESTER PRIESTS

WORCESTER, July 25.—A series of acts of vandalism in South Worcester terminated at 3 o'clock yesterday morning when three young men, evidently under the influence of liquor, rattled the windows in the St. Aloysius total abstinence society's clubhouse on Sheridan street.

Since the Sacred Heart church rectory was damaged by fire last May, the priests of the parish have been sleeping in the upper part of the St. Aloysius society's clubhouse. With them yesterday morning as a guest was Rev. Bernard Dolerty of Louisville, Ky.

All the priests were sleeping soundly when their slumbers were broken by the sound of breaking glass and stones landing on the floor of the sleeping room. They rushed to the windows to see three young men throwing stones from Sheridan street. They shouted and the three young men ran away, followed by police officers who had been attracted by the sound of breaking glass.

The police and priests have an idea who the vandals are, but no arrests have been made. An investigation showed that practically every window in the lower part of the house had been shattered and many panes of glass were broken in the rooms in the upper story occupied by Rev. Fr. Bernard S. Conaty, Rev. Fr. Francis H. Swift and Fr. Doherty.

SIX INJURED

AUTO OVERTURNED WAGON ON REVERE BOULEVARD

REVERE, July 25.—About 4 p. m. yesterday Supt. West and Engineer Sackett of the park department brought in two automobiles loaded with injured from a sensational smashup on the boulevard between Oak Island grove and Point of Pines. None of the victims was found to be seriously hurt, however.

They comprised a family party from West Lynn who were driving toward the bathhouse in a democrat wagon, when their vehicle was struck from the rear by an automobile. In the wagon were Mr. and Mrs. Balkus and their three children, and Miss Wilka Clifton, a nurse. The collision tossed the wagon and its occupants about 10 feet, landing the wagon upside down upon the sidewalk.

Word of the accident was brought to the park police station and Supt. H. W. West in his own runabout and Engineer George R. Sackett in a larger car made a fast run up the beach to the spot. They loaded the injured people into the two automobiles and soon had them in the emergency room.

Mr. Balkus had a cut on his head and a bruised arm. Mrs. Balkus' worst injury was to her foot. The nurse had a bad arm and one of the children received slight cuts. All were able to leave without assistance except Mrs. Balkus, who was sent in a carriage to her home, 89 Ada street, West Lynn.

The driver of the automobile which did the damage was William H. Hayes, who will have to answer to a charge of reckless driving placed against him by the police.

"Reptile George" Had a Narrow Escape

NEW YORK, July 25.—With the fangs of a South American reptile hooked in the flesh of his right forearm, George Brown, a trainer at Coney Island, yesterday was saved from fatal poisoning by the quick work of a woman trainer.

Brown, who is known as "Reptile George," was removing 19 snakes from a box in which they arrived, to an exhibition case. Madam Lucile Dorien, a trainer of dogs and ponies, was rehearsing her act when she heard Brown's cries. She ran into the room where she saw Brown fighting off three reptiles, from six to nine feet long.

As Madam Dorien rushed to Brown's aid one of the reptiles had already hooked the man's arm. Its fangs were in his flesh while its body coiled around his arm and neck. Madam Dorien took a knife from Brown's pocket and with quick strokes she cut loose the reptile. Then she made a cut in the flesh of the torn arm. Brown was dragged from the room and taken away with strips torn from his shirt, made a tourniquet and stopped the flow of blood. Brown was then attended by a doctor.

HYPNOTIC SMELL

PAPER HAMS WORK ON THE IMAGINATION OF PEOPLE

EAST ORANGE, N. J., July 25.—Up to two weeks ago Max Rose ran a butcher shop in East Orange. Then there was a fire in his place, Rose disappeared, and for the last thirteen days there has been a sign on the front door to the effect that the place had been attached and that nobody must touch the "goods and chattels within."

John Smith, a druggist next door, worried about that sign and wondered how long before it was presumably a horrible goods would be taken away. Through the windows he could see hams hanging in the front of the store, and pretty soon Smith in company with other neighbors began to think they were annoyed by odors from the neglected shop.

Finally Smith called up the board of health. Inspector Lindsey took up the case at once and with Smith as guide entered the place. Once inside they found that the hams were paper dummies and that there was not a crumb of meat in the building.

FELL FROM WINDOW

KNOWLES SUFFERED FROM EFFECTS OF HEAT

PROVIDENCE, July 25.—Edward F. Knowles, 51, a veteran carpenter and builder of the city, fell from a third-story window of the house he is now in-law at 506 Public street at a 10 o'clock morning and died yesterday at the hospital.

He was overcome by the heat last week and had suffered much from the effects of it Saturday night. It is supposed that he went from his bed to the window seeking fresh air and relief, leaned too far from the casement and fell headlong to the concrete in the rear of the dwelling.

BILLERICA

The town committee on finance met Saturday night to consider the expenses of the proposed bridge. Chairman Clark presided and Joseph F. Talbot reported that the bids received ranged from $2577 to $12,500.

In addition to the above expense the removal of the storehouse of the Paulkner Manufacturing company would cost $1500 and there would also be an expense of $500 for a temporary bridge while the new structure was being built.

The work of construction would be supervised by Engineer Worcester of Boston, whose charge would be 10 per cent of the actual cost of the bridge, or $557.70, making a total estimated cost of $3464.70.

The bridge committee thought that $3000 should be given and Mr. Talbot believed the job could be done well within that figure.

The article was discussed at some length and it was voted to recommend that the town borrow $3000 for said bridge as provided in the article. The matter of a sidewalk on Fordham bridge was also acted upon. The estimated cost would be $2500. Various other matters were discussed and favorably acted upon.

ACCIDENT LIST

The Victims Treated at the Hospitals

Amerigo D'Arco, aged one year and son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph D'Arco, while playing with matches last evening at the home of his parents, 22 Keene street, set fire to his clothing and before the flames had been extinguished his whole right side had been severely burned. The ambulance was summoned and he was taken to St. John's hospital where he received treatment. Despite the fact that the child was badly burned it is expected that he will recover.

Clarence Perrington, of 21 Sagamore street, fell while working among some lumber in a yard off Willie street, late Saturday afternoon and broke his shoulder blade. The ambulance took him home and his case was treated there.

Henry Lee, a youth of 18, was going up the stairs of his residence at 99 Epping street, last night when he fell and dislocated his right thumb. The thumb was treated at the Emergency hospital.

Walter C. Thayer, aged 52 years and employed by Patten the draper at 77 Parkhurst Center, was moving some boards Saturday afternoon and suffered a severe laceration of the wrist of the right hand which came in contact with a nail. He went to the Emergency hospital where several stitches were taken in the wound.

Frank Johnson, aged eight years and living at 17 Spring street, while playing with some other boys in Middlesex street Saturday night met with a painful accident. One of his playmates lifted a plank which was too heavy for him to hold, the result being that the plank fell on Johnson's hand and a severe crush on the little finger of that hand. He was taken to the Emergency hospital where five stitches were taken in the wound.

John Mack, aged 16, of Wiggin street, while swimming in the Concord river yesterday afternoon, dove and struck his head on a rock at the bottom, cutting a bad gash in it. The city ambulance took him to the Lowell hospital, where several stitches were taken.

INJURIES FATAL

JOHNSON DIED ON THE WAY TO HOSPITAL

WALYAND, July 25.—George Johnson, colored, employed by L. F. Priest of Gleanondale, fell from his wagon in this town yesterday afternoon and the wheels passed over his body.

He was placed in an auto and taken to the Waltham hospital, but when the auto arrived there Johnson was dead.

The man was on his way to the Boston market with a load of vegetables. It is believed that he was asleep and that a sudden lurch threw him from the seat.

Johnson was sent to Mr. Priest, who went to Waltham later with an undertaker and took the body back to Gleanondale. Johnson was about 35.

AIMED AT CAT

BUT MAN SHOT HIS WIFE IN STEAD

NEW YORK, July 25.—In shooting at a chicken-stealing cat Saturday in South River, N. J., Eugene Thompson shot his wife. She was wounded in the right shoulder but not dangerously.

Thompson and his wife were in the house when the cat was seen bearing away its prey. Thompson rushed for his gun and his wife raised a window screen so that he could get a good shot. Running back, his anxiety to get a good shot was so great that he pulled the trigger when several feet from the window.

A. Greene, D. D., pastor of the Grace Universalist church, conducted the services and preached a sermon. The Elliot church choir furnished the music.

MORE PINKHAM CURES

Added to the Long List Due to This Famous Remedy

Oronogo, Mo.—"I was simply a nervous wreck. I could not walk across the floor without my heart fluttering and I could not even receive a letter. Every month I had such a bearing down sensation, as if the floor would fall out. Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has done my nerves a great deal of good and has also relieved the bearing down. I recommended it to some friends and two of them have been greatly benefited by it."—Mrs. MAE McKnight, Oronogo, Mo.

Another Grateful Woman.

St. Louis, Mo.—"I was bothered terribly with a female weakness and had backache, bearing down pains and pains in lower parts. I began taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound regularly and used the Sanative Wash and now I have no more troubles that way."—Mrs. AL HENZOG, 5725 Prescott Ave., St. Louis, Mo.

Because your case is a difficult one, doctors having done you no good, do not continue to suffer without giving Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound a trial. It surely has cured many cases of female ill, such as inflammation, ulceration, displacements, fibroid tumors, irregularities, periodic pains, backache, that bearing-down feeling, indigestion, dizziness, nervous prostration, ing to sleep and it was hot trying to keep awake. Allocated 100,000-add hospital wished itself in a cooler climate.

At the seashore it was fine and dandy but going and coming was the rub. The cars were crowded and every place one entered seemed like a furnace. The fellow who remained at home and lounged about with a little on as the lady would allow was the wise guy. A glass of ice cold lemonade once in a while doesn't do any harm in hot weather, but the man who tries to cool off by using alcoholic beverages is simply trying to make it hotter for himself.

It was 90 in Afterlark square at 10 o'clock this forenoon; at the pumping station in Centralville it was 93 and 88 at the boulevard. Any place there was an argument it was over 100, but arguments were scarce.

The weather man isn't promising us any relief and the chances are that we will have to grin and bear it for another day or two. It is up to us to pursue the even tenor of our way and to pull through with as little exertion as possible.

toward the north the light could not be better and the 23d rifle and revolver targets at an investment so that a common ring point can be used gives it an equipment unequaled and scarcely approached by any other range in the United States.

SCHOOL GRAFT

IS UP TO THE GRAND JURY FOR TRIAL

NEW YORK, July 25.—Prosecutor of the Pleas Carven of Hudson county has asked Senator Joseph S. Frelinghuysen, head of the New Jersey school probers, to send him a copy of the testimony taken by the committee in its inquiry into school affairs in the county. The prosecutor wants the testimony for use in an investigation to be conducted by the grand jury.

Former Representative Eugene W. Leake, counsel to John Daly, the constable whom John P. Murray, counsel to the committee, would like to quiz concerning his real estate transactions engineered by Register of Deeds John J. McElroy, former custodian of school moneys in North Bergen, bearing on his sale of a school site to the township, issued a statement yesterday in which he declared that if Daly appears before the committee he will "politely inform it" that any profits which he made out of the sale of lands in the North Bergen township for public school property is none of its business. Mr. Leake said that the legislature has no right to conduct an investigation which involves the private affairs of the individual. He held that if a crime has been committed it is up to the grand jury to investigate, but he insisted that there has been no crime or dishonesty.

ONE OF THE HOTTEST

Yesterday Was a Roaster; Today Almost as Bad

Hot, isn't it?

It's absolutely safe to write that but it isn't safe to bring it in the street. Some men carry bricks for the fellow who says "hot, isn't it?"

The heat, however, is a legitimate subject to write about or to talk about and to grab the heat talk would be to muzzle the press. Some people contend that they never feel uncomfortable until somebody tells them that it's ninety in the shade. That may be true but we can't stop talking about the heat just on their account. They are in the minority and the majority rules. It was some hot in Lowell yesterday—ditto today. The mercury was putting it up to Barney Oldfield for a new record yesterday morning and at noon time the glasses in Merrimack square said 94. That was going some, but at 3 o'clock it was 97. At six o'clock it had dropped back to 92 and then it was hotter than—well—as it could be.

Besides the soaring of the mercury there was an extremely high range of humidity, which caused humanity to sweat. It was hot moving about, and it was hot sitting still; it was hot trying ing to sleep and it was hot trying to keep awake. Allocated 100,000-add hospital wished itself in a cooler climate.

At the seashore it was fine and dandy but going and coming was the rub. The cars were crowded and every place one entered seemed like a furnace. A glass of ice cold lemonade once in a while doesn't do any harm in hot weather, but the man who tries to cool off by using alcoholic beverages is simply trying to make it hotter for himself.

It was 90 in Afterlark square at 10 o'clock this forenoon; at the pumping station in Centralville it was 93 and 88 at the boulevard. Any place there was an argument it was over 100, but arguments were scarce.

The weather man isn't promising us any relief and the chances are that we will have to grin and bear it for another day or two. It is up to us to pursue the even tenor of our way and to pull through with as little exertion as possible.

toward the north the light could not be better and the 23d rifle and revolver targets at an investment so that a common ring point can be used gives it an equipment unequaled and scarcely approached by any other range in the United States.

SCHOOL GRAFT

IS UP TO THE GRAND JURY FOR TRIAL

NEW YORK, July 25.—Prosecutor of the Pleas Carven of Hudson county has asked Senator Joseph S. Frelinghuysen, head of the New Jersey school probers, to send him a copy of the testimony taken by the committee in its inquiry into school affairs in the county. The prosecutor wants the testimony for

THREE DOLLARS PER YEAR. TWENTY-FIVE CENTS PER MONTH

The sworn daily average circulation of The Lowell Sun for the year 1909 was

Sworn to by John H. Harrington, proprietor, Martin H. Reidy, business manager, and Alfred Pilotte, pressman, of The Sun, before me, January 1, 1910. J. JOSEPH HENNESSY, Notary Public.

This is by far the largest average circulation of any newspaper in Lowell.

It seems that the work of the bug chasers is bound to increase.

It would be better if everybody would fall in line for the auto races. The objectors stand in the way of the public good.

President Taft says everybody should have three months' vacation. He will confer a great favor if he revises the statement downward and tell us how everybody can get three weeks or even three days.

MAYOR WHITE'S RESIGNATION

Mayor White has resigned. That, we believe, was the wisest thing he could do. His friends hope that his action in this respect may have some influence with the courts in granting him a new trial or else in some way mitigating his sentence.

THE AMES FLYING MACHINE

The people of Massachusetts will watch with considerable interest the progress made by Congressman Ames in his invention of a flying machine. Should he be successful and make a few flights around the state, he would certainly compel a great many of the Lodge-shouters to look up to him. It might elect him.

MINORS MUST HAVE HEALTH CERTIFICATES

That is a good law which compels minors going to work to have certificates of health. Formerly they were obliged to have only certificates of age, and these the employers were unable to controvert. Most employers, however, can distinguish between a good healthy minor and one in poor health.

HEAT BRINGS SPEED MADNESS

It seems that on warm Sundays the chauffeurs lapse into speed madness. The result is that every Sunday brings a number of deaths and nearly as many smashed autos. Two weeks ago yesterday the New England record in this respect was quite appalling. The results should be a warning for others, but it seems some people are unwilling to learn in this way.

THE CONCORD RIVER

The sewer department might be requested to look into the condition of the Concord river about the Rogers street bridge with a view to ascertaining what is necessary to put the river at that point in a sanitary condition. It would be well also to ascertain where all the filth and rubbish comes from that is at the present time choking the river and causing it to grow over with grass and weeds. The city cannot tolerate that condition much longer.

THE BUREAU OF MINES

The law establishing a new bureau of mines went into effect this month, and the bureau is now at work looking into the causes of accidents with a view to adopting preventive measures. There is no doubt whatever that there is great need for such a movement. A Bureau of Mines can accomplish a great deal of good by more rigorous inspection, by stricter regulations, and by insisting that the miners shall be properly protected while at work. It will be the function of the bureau also to pass upon the quality of explosives used in coal mining as these are sometimes responsible for disasters. The vast number of miners killed in our American mines reflects upon the vigilance of our officials. In no other country are the mining fatalities nearly so great as in this. The reason is that the operatives think only of production and do not take sufficient precaution against accidents.

THE PUBLIC BATH QUESTION

Many parents have become so much afraid of their boys going alone to river or canal to bathe that they appointed certain times, usually Sundays, when the boys will be taken under the guardianship of the father or somebody else to a place where they can go in bathing without danger. The places resorted to for this purpose are Beaver brook, Silver lake, Crystal lake and Lake Mascopie. It takes time to reach some of these places but any father would rather take his boys where they can have an opportunity to go in bathing with safety than let them run the risk of getting drowned by going alone.

This is but another illustration of the need of public baths, a need that seems to be but little realized by the members of our city council. The people who want public baths should put the question to the candidates who ask their support at the approach of city election. If the voters decided not to elect anybody who would not favor public baths this public necessity might be provided within a single year.

THE DOWN RIVER BOULEVARD

The Board of Trade proposition to reserve the land between the new state highway and the river free for scenic purposes is one that should be favored all along the line. The strip of land will not be very wide at any point and the property owners can afford to give this land in return for the far greater benefits from the highway. The people who own automobiles are anxious to see the highway completed as soon as possible for the reason that the present road between Lowell and Lawrence on the north side of the river is one of the worst in the state. The state highway from Lawrence to Newburyport is very inviting to the motorists, but when they come to the section between Lawrence and Lowell they are disgusted and turn in some other direction unless they are obliged to pass. According to the plan of the Board of Trade the new state highway would in all respects resemble our boulevard, thus affording an unobstructed view of the beautiful scenery on both sides of the river.

SEEN AND HEARD

A few samples of favorite fictions: "Money cheerfully refunded if goods are not satisfactory."

"Teeth extracted without pain."

"If the waiter is insolent or neglectful we will esteem it a favor if you will report him at the office."

"Yes, we're distinctly related to an English nobleman, but we seldom speak of it."

"Strange I can't call your name! I know it just as well as I do my own."

"Don't mention it old boy; glad to accommodate you."

"No, I never use it except for medicinal purposes."

"No, indeed, Mrs. Hicks; you haven't kept us waiting one minute."

"You're too clever for a town like this; why don't you reach out to a bigger city?"

"I wish you had come along; the trip was not complete without you."

"There's a name other than fiction for this kind of stuff."

"This Ames' aim to dislodge Lodge."

Don't look down on the man who takes every occasion to tell you that his ancestors came over in the Mayflower. He may be a good man, for all that.

The greatest philanthropists in this world must be the promoters at mining enterprises, who advertise to everybody the opportunity to get ten dollars for one out of their stock, when they might just as well keep it for themselves.—Somerville Journal.

A young woman paced up and down in the telephone office and impatiently watched the receiver's window. Finally a young man came to the window, called the young woman and handed her a piece of paper which she hastily read and, with a sigh of satisfaction, pushed into her bag and left the office.

The clerk at the window smiled. "We have some funny ones," he said, "but this one just about reaches the limit for novelty ideas. This woman came to me with a post card which was addressed to her husband and upon which was written something in dots and dashes. She said that it came from a woman operator in a telephone office, and that, while she knew the woman, the dots and dashes were too much for her and she thought there was something up."

"I made the translation, and here is what I read: 'Please forget what I said Saturday for I would not have you, changed in any way, as I love every inch of you, my dear!'"

"Well, I'd hate to express my opinion, but I would give half of my month's pay to see what happens when 'wife' meets 'hubby' with the translated postal card!"

THE BABY

He has his father's Roman nose. He has his mother's wondrous eyes. His hair—he'll get some, I suppose—Suggests his grand-dad's pate so wise.

He has no teeth, but on the whole There's lots of room to put them in; His mother's mother pays him well By giving him her chin.

The dimple on his little cheek—O what a joyous thing it is! 'Tis ever playing hide-and-seek, And shows what wealth of smiles his.

This dimple is his mother's—sure! A perfect little fount of fun. 'Twas that, I think, was first to lure Us twain from two to one.

But whence hath come this fund of noise That he doth make at night and day? 'Tis louder than a troop of boys. Let loose at recess time to play.

It has a wild, electric roar, Mixed with a sort of charming chug; I fear me some old ancestor Was captain of a tug.

"Every time I go shopping I thank heaven that I have a good business head," said the woman who boasts that her quick wit always saves her from financial loss. "A saleswoman came very near getting into trouble today over a belt. The only thing that saved her was my business instinct. First I bought a belt for $1.25 and paid with a $2 bill. In handling my change the girl dropped a quarter into the paper and boxes that strewn the floor back of the counter and could not find it. Of course I could have held her accountable, but she looked so tired and worried that I

Announcement is made that deserving young employees of Studebaker Brothers Manufacturing company, South Bend Ind., will be given university education by that concern, and that while the young men are in school they will be allowed full pay.

The company will keep a record system by which the efforts of young employees to better themselves mentally can be easily known, and when it is thought that an employee has made satisfactory development, tuition for one year in some university or technical school will be provided with a year's vacation on pay.

E. Phillips Oppenheim is coming to America, having recently resigned his directorship in the manufacturing business which his father established in Leicester.

Mr. Oppenheim is no stranger to this country, for his wife is an American and her parents reside in Chelsea. The Oppenheims' home on the Norfolk coast of England is named "Whipsnicket."

George Barr McCutcheon, having completed work on his forthcoming novel, "The Rose in the Ring," has just started with Mrs. McCutcheon on a six weeks' automobile trip through New England. They will end their tour at Keene, N.H., where they will spend the rest of the summer near Mr. and Mrs. Booth Tarkington.

All Chicago public school principals hereafter will be drawn from the ranks of college graduates. The teacher who cherished an ambition to attain the position and salary of a principal will have to acquire a degree from an accredited college before being eligible to compete in the examinations for principals.

Under the old rule qualifications consisted of eight years' teaching experience, or a college degree and four years' experience, or a normal school certificate and six years' experience. Now a candidate must be a graduate from an accredited college and have four years' successful experience in graded schools.

Frank E. Briggs, principal of the Littleton High school, has accepted an offer of a similar position in Bar Harbor, Me. He is to return to his native state where he was born in Paris June 30, 1859. Six years later his parents moved to Mechanics Falls, in that state, where he lived for 10 years, with the exception of three years, from 1884 to 1887, when he lived in Bradford, Mass., and there one year attended the high school. He attended the grammar and high schools of Mechanics Falls, and from the latter was graduated in 1888, and a year later was graduated from the Edward Little high school of Auburn, Me. He then went to Bowdoin college, from which he was graduated in 1894. He is a member of the Alpha Delta Phi and Phi Kappa fraternities. In his school experience he has been principal of academies in Lincoln, Bluehill and Corinna, Me., and high schools in Nantucket, Lancaster and Littleton, to which will be added his labors in Bar Harbor.

Gary, Ind., built by the United States Steel company, has received no end of advertisement, but it is not generally known that a somewhat simpler and more substantial building is now being carried forward in Alabama, near Birmingham, where a new city to be called Corey is in course of construction. It has been laid out by landscape artists, and nearly a thousand men, with steam shovels, traction engines and hundreds of teams are at work grading the property, laying miles upon miles of street, pavements, curbs, gutters, water mains, gas mains, etc. Corey appears to have been selected as the site of future plants of the steel corporation in the south, because of its central position. It is a beautiful mile from the center of the city; iron mines are only three miles away; limestone quarries from which come the fluxing material for making pig-iron are only a mile away, and there is an abundant water supply within a convenient radius. But while the plan for the new city indicates a regard for details of all sorts so that it may in fact be ready-made, with provision for schools, churches, etc., it is designed for the present at least on a smaller scale than Gary. It is reported that Corey will be complete within the next three or four months. A consideration of the possibilities of southern development which will be offered by the Panama canal, seems to have entered into the steel company's plans for the construction of this new southern city.

THEATRE VOYONS

Today's feature picture at the Theatre Voyons is a magnificent production of Maseppa, a well known drama, but one that has not been played in Lowell for a long time. It is founded on historical incidents in Polish history and has been the play in which many actors have become famous. It requires a wealth of costumes and staging that is many times as elaborate as that required for the ordinary drama and its story is a genuine thriller.

Every scene calls for the best of acting and the scenic company is making have really made a praiseworthy production of it. There are several other excellent pictures on the bill and the musical features will meet with approval. The feature picture will be talked on by Herbert Leroy, one of the most pleasing dramatic talents ever heard in Lowell, and the whole program will be well worth while.

LAKEVIEW THEATRE

"The Outlaw's Sweetheart" is the title of the play selected for presentation this week at Lakeview theatre. It is a play that has been played by many of the leading western stock companies and has always given entire satisfaction, and there seems to be no reason why it should not do the same this week since new and elaborate scenery will be used, together with the full strength of the company, including James Thacher, Jack Rowe, Ben Johnson, Don Harold, Robert Lee, Florence Farr, Francis Williams, Marcella Merrill, Mrs. Harold and others.

It is a play full of thrilling incidents with a novel love story and a light vein of comedy all the way through it, and like many dramas of its kind there is a quality to this one difficult to define, yet pleasing, apparently, to everyone who sees it. It is a story that lends itself acceptably to dramatic action, allowing opportunity for picturesque stage settings, and is one that should be popular this week. Curtain rises at 2.30 and 8.15. Matinees every day except Monday.

In the "Puppy Love" $50,000 Suit

STAMFORD, Conn., July 25.—The suit filed by Russell Griswold, aged 27, against Miss Helen Woodruff Smith, aged forty, seeking $50,000 for alleged breach of promise, is amusing America. Young Griswold has published many letters and postcards which he has received from Miss Smith during the past ten years, in which the defendant, who used to be the wife of Homer Cummings, once mayor of Stamford and a member of the democratic national committee, but resumed her maiden name when she got a divorce, addresses her admirer in fond and fanciful terms. Miss Smith denies that anything other than "puppy love" was expressed in her letters.

NAPOLEON RIVET

Will Probably Be Executed Tomorrow Morning

If the custom established by Warden B. F. Bridges of the State prison in the electrocution of prisoners condemned to death is followed, Napoleon Rivet will pay the penalty for the murder of Joseph J. Gailoux at Lowell, Feb. 27, 1908, some time between midnight and 1 a. m. Tuesday morning.

The condemned man spent Sunday in his cell in the death house in despair, and his spiritual adviser, Rev. Augustine D. Malley, the Catholic chaplain of the State prison, to whom Rivet will make his last confession before going to the chair, was a frequent visitor to the cell occupied by Rivet.

Rev. Fr. Malley prayed for the soul of the unfortunate man and told him of the great consolation found in devout prayer, and that he should place great faith in God who had power to forgive all sinners.

Rivet spent much of the day in reading, but at times he showed great distress and frequently cried out that it was a shame to put a young man to death. Up to Thursday night he ate his meals with apparent relish, but that night he refused to eat his supper. Since then he ate fairly well the food he asked for and which was served him.

Rivet's father, mother and sister, who arrived from Quebec, Can., Saturday and visited their son that day at the prison to bid him their last farewell, will claim the body after the electrocution and will have the remains removed to the family lot for burial.

Rivet met his relatives at the death house Saturday with a smile, and assured them of his confidence that the governor would commute the sentence before night. He was calm and self-possessed and made no direct reference to the crime of which he was convicted.

Rivet's relatives occupied chairs outside the cell and then converted with their son in French for an hour. When the time for parting came Mrs. Rivet broke down after she walked away several feet and it was 10 minutes before she recovered. She was not allowed to kiss her son. The mother threw kisses to Rivet as they went down the corridor.

A LAUNCH WRECKED 6TH REGIMENT CAMP

Five Persons Were Burned In Capt. Greig of Co. K Was Officer Of the Day

BOSTON, July 25.—A 22-foot gaso-line launch used by Italian fishermen was wrecked at 4.30 yesterday morning while it was starting from the Eastern Packet wharf, Atlantic avenue. The gasoline tank which furnished the power exploded. Five men in the boat were hurled into the water. The men, all of whom were burned and otherwise injured, were: Samuel Garcia, 38 years old, burns on the hands. Salvatore Garcia, 33, burns on the face and left wrist. Manuel Matilez, 33, burns on the wrists. Carmello Garcia, 40, burns on both hands. Giuseppe Labina, 35, burns and contusions. The men were treated at the relief hospital as out patients and then went home. The first three walked to the hospital with Patrolman McManus of division 1, who heard the explosion. The latter was carried to the relief hospital in the police ambulance. All the men are relatives and live at 282 North street. They are fishermen. Yesterday morning they were starting out in the launch for bait. The bait used is clams, which they get at low tide in the mud flats of the Mystic river and off the East Boston and South Boston shores. The tide was about half ebb when the party got ready to leave the wharf. It is stated that the gasoline tank in the boat leaked some, a fact that was noticed by Samuel Garcia, owner of the boat. He applied the spark which starts the machinery. Instead of doing that the spark struck the leak from the gasoline tank and the result was the explosion. Patrolman McManus ran down the wharf and found the entire party on the launch had been thrown into the water. The launch Standard, which supplies gasoline to the Italian fishermen at the dock, happened to be near at hand. The men who were thrown or jumped into the water swam to the Standard and were assisted on board. McManus hurried to the nearest patrol box and notified station 1, asking that the fireboat be summoned and that the ambulance be sent to carry the injured men to the hospital. The fireboat from East Boston was dispatched to the scene and quickly put out the fire on the launch, which was so badly damaged by the explosion that it sank in the dock. When the ambulance arrived Carmello Garcia and Labina were put in it and sent to the hospital. McManus walked with the three others to the hospital in Haymarket square. The damage to the boat was placed at $75.

SOUTH FRAMINGHAM, July 25.—There has been a continual stream of visitors to the camp of the 6th Infantry, M. V. M. yesterday and fully 500 persons were on the field to witness the two ceremonies last evening. As usual, the fair sex predominated. The morning hours were fairly busy, as there was considerable work to be done, and there was a school for both officers and non-commissioned officers, at which Lieut. Marshall, U. S. A., was instructor, and both were very interesting. At 7.30 Chaplain William F. Duesseault held divine service at headquarters, in which the band assisted, and later in the day nearly 150 men attended mass at Rev. Fr. Heffernan's church. The first ceremony of the day was the inspection and muster, and the regiment made a very fine appearance. On account of the large number of men attending mass some of the companies were very weak, one company parading with only two squads. Maj. James H. Smyth, A. T. G., M. V. M., made an inspection of the men and accoutrements, while Lieut. Marshall, the U. S. inspector, examined the arms, which was a rather tedious undertaking, but as fast as he finished each company it was marched to quarters. The heat during the ceremony was terrible, there was hardly a breath of air and the order of standing so long was trying to both officers and men. The ceremony over, the men had a rest until evening parade, with the exception of those detailed for guard duty. The band was mounted by 1st Lieut. George M. Downes, battalion adjutant, who did well, and with one or two slight errors a commonly was a good show. The band made itself rather conspicuous by being the only non-commissioned officer who knew his position and maintained it. The evening parade was a fine exhibition and was taken by Lieut. Col. Cyrus H. Cook. The three battalions came on to the line in good shape and there was decidedly more snap put into the work than on the previous evening. The march past was well up to the standard. The passage of the South Framingham company, under command of Capt. Sullivan, was loudly applauded by the assembly, which showed they were in the home of their friends, but the company fully deserved the plaudits. It paraded with full ranks, and the citizens have every reason to be proud of the soldiers. At retreat when the flag came down and the band played the "Star Spangled Banner" it was noticeable that very few of the visitors recognized the ceremony by the removal of their hats. Most stringent orders should be issued with regard to men leaving their quarters in other than in the regulation uniform and more attention should be paid to military courtesy, which was one of the strong points brought out by Lieut. Marshall at the non-commissioned officers' school. Among the guests yesterday was Brig. Gen. Henry Parsons, retired, M. V. M., an old commander of the regiment, and he received a warm welcome. Among other military men who were in camp were Maj. Phineas L. Rider and Lieut. Lewis M. McCullen, 2d Infantry; Maj. Charles P. Nostrom, retired, M. V. M.; Maj. Ernest C. Springer, retired, M. V. M.; Maj. William J. Williams, retired, M. V. M.; Capt. James A. Cully, 9th Infantry, M. V. M.; Capt. Fred M. Whiting, C. A. C., M. V. M.; Lieut. John Hall, cavalry, M. V. M., and Capt. H. H. Baker, 8th Infantry, M. V. M. Several autos came down from Fitchburg, filled with the friends of Capt. McDowell of Co. D, and who royally entertained them. The officer of the day was Capt. James N. Calk of Co. K, and 1st Lieut. Francis J. Ganaway of Co. E was officer of the guard. The strength of the regiment yesterday was 55 officers and 712 men. A committee headed by Capt. Gardiner Pearson is working out a program for a big athletic tournament in which sparring and baseball will be features.

Man Was Killed and Woman Was Injured

BOSTON, July 25.—One man was killed and a woman severely injured yesterday afternoon at Mattapan square by being run over by an automobile as they stepped from a Brockton car which had just pulled into the square. The victims were Orrin Whitten, aged 62, married, a prominent resident of Avon, and Mrs. Annie H. Tucker, 60, of 241 Elm street, West Somerville. The automobile which ran into them was owned and operated by George H. Toothaker, of 870 Washington street, Dedham. As the car from Brockton, came into Mattapan square at 3.10 in the afternoon Mr. Whitten and Mrs. Tucker were among the first to alight. Just as Mr. Whitten started across the street towards the sidewalk the automobile came around the rear end of the car, coming from Milton and turning into River street on the way to Hyde Park. The automobile was traveling slowly, according to witnesses, and the horn was sounded, but Mr. Whitten was unable to dodge the heavy machine. Mr. Toothaker did what he could to steer away from the old man, but one of the fenders struck him, throwing him under the front wheels and machinery. In turning aside to avoid hitting him, Mr. Toothaker ran into Mrs. Tucker, throwing her to the ground. The machine was brought to an instant stop, directly upon Mr. Whitten, who was unconscious. It took the combined efforts of several men to lift the heavy machine enough so that the man could be extricated. Dr. Aubrey J. Collins, of 1649 Blue Hill avenue, the nearest physician, was at once hurried to the scene and he did what he could for the victims of the accident. Mr. Whitten being in the meantime taken into Fallon's drug

THE WHEAT TRADE BLOWN TO DEATH

Believes That Worst Man Was Killed by Dynamite

CHICAGO, July 25.—The wheat trade now believes that the worst has already been heard regarding the spring wheat crop of North America. Rains last week checked the backward tendency that was universally conceded for the spring wheat crop in a good part of the northwest on both sides of the international line. Harvest is now getting rapidly under way this side of the line, and it may soon be followed by a revision of market values in that section. Meanwhile the trade here is waiting for the first big run of new winter wheat. It is starting a little later than last year, but promises to be considerable for a time. Upon the extent and continuance of this run very largely depends the course of the market for the year. If arrivals are large enough to pile up a surplus of accumulation it may mean a hard fight for the bullers in higher prices. If the run is small or of short duration, the bear is likely to have to go into retirement again. There are problems ahead of the present crop that have never before occurred. There is no foreign outlet, while the domestic trade is only just recovering from the effects of reckless overloading. The crop, if statistics are of value, appears to be adjusted to about normal home needs, with a modest margin for export. In view of his recent lesson, the domestic miller will probably pursue a hand-to-mouth policy, which means that the first run of new crop wheat will have to be carried by the speculator. Will he take the property at current levels, or will he wait for the seller to make lower ones? As far as winter wheat is concerned the quality is becoming finer and merits well of the investor. The quality of the spring wheat is a matter of doubt. Samples thus far shown are of the quality; but shrivelled wheat may be in evidence as the harvest progresses. Prospects are that the crop to be harvested the latter part of the present calendar year will come from a larger acreage in Europe, although drought has been retarding seedings and growth in sections. In any event, unless there are more serious crop losses in Europe than have yet been reported, there is no cause for anxiety during the present crop year on the part of the importing countries. Supplies promise to be more than ample.

16 YEARS IN ALL

HALL SENTENCED AGAIN AT PORTSMOUTH NAVY YARD

PORTSMOUTH, N. H., July 25.—James Hall, the naval convict who in March created a sensation by his confession of the murder of Anna Schumacher at Rochester, N. Y., and who was turned over to the civil authorities of Monroe county, only to have them find out that Hall's confession was bogus and only a subterfuge to get away from the navy, has just been sentenced to his third naval confinement. He receives a sentence of five years on a charge of assault on Chief Master-at-Arms Mayer of the prison ship Southern and he now has combined sentences of 16 years to serve. He had previously received a court-martial sentence for attempting to escape from the prison ship by the false story told relative to the murder. Owing to the long imprisonment that stars Hall in the face, he will be transferred from the prison ship Southern to the naval prison on Seal Island, where the most dangerous and troublesome of the naval convicts are confined. By many, Hall is thought to be insane as since he has been returned to the prison ship he maintains that he committed the crime at Rochester, N. Y., as well as other outlandishness.

FRANKLIN, N. H., July 25.—Daniel McDonald of North Wilmett was blown to pieces by dynamite yesterday at Andover. He was visiting Henry Kennison, who was digging a well on his place. A hole had been drilled in the well and Mr. Kennison intended to use the dynamite Monday; but McDonald suggested that an attempt be made to blast the rock yesterday afternoon. The fuse was lighted, but when it looked as if the fuse had not burned the unfortunate man stepped over the charge and attempted to light it. The charge exploded and frightfully mangled his body and limbs.

AFTER PREACHING

PASTOR SERVED ICE CREAM TO HIS CONGREGATION

MIDDLETOWN, Conn., July 25.—With the temperature standing at 93 degrees in the shade, Rev. George B. Gilbert, an Episcopal clergyman of this city, invited his congregation at Maromas, a suburb of this city, to remain after the services yesterday and enjoy a dish of ice cream with him. Maromas is a farming community and as many of those who attend the church services are compelled to travel long distances, Pastor Gilbert said he thought they deserved some reward for their faithfulness, in addition to the pleasure to be derived from the service.

The cream was some Mr. Gilbert had himself and while many of his flock were seated on the verandas with a palm leaf fan, Rector Gilbert was busy in his woodshed turning the crank of his five-gallon ice cream freezer.

All who attended the service accepted the invitation to remain while the ice cream was dished out. The parishioners all seemed well pleased with the treat and Mr. Gilbert was heartily commended for his thoughtfulness. A number of the wardens of the church and their wives assisted the rector in washing the dishes after the rest of the congregation had gone home.

HOW TO TREAT SKIN DISEASES

A Simple Remedy That Can Be Tried For 10 Cents

Many skin diseases like Eczema and Salt Rheum are due to an external cause that is little understood, and are not the result of impure blood. The taking of internal remedies is a waste of time and money, as many sufferers can testify. The simplest and safest remedy is Cadum, the new medical preparation. Cadum, when applied, excludes the air and all external agents that cause inflammation and irritation. It stops the itching at once, and the healing process begins immediately. Wonderful cures are reported not only of Eczema and Salt Rheum, but of less serious troubles like Psoriasis, Ringworm, Acne, Herpes, Scaly Skin, Scabs, Pimples, Rash, Eruptions, Blisters, Blackheads, etc. Trial box, 10c. CARDINAL GIBBONS

Urges Young Men to Render Loyal Public Service

WESTMINSTER, Md., July 25.—Cardinal Gibbons, who passed his 76th birthday at the Westminster home of B. P. Shriver, took occasion to urge young men to give loyal public service, saying that in serving the country they will be serving God. He also spoke at length on the evils of divorce.

"Your Eminence," he was asked, "do you not think that this would be an appropriate occasion to send a message to the young men of the nation?"

The cardinal was silent a moment, then said: "Perhaps it is. Please so that the subject may be an appropriate one. I would tell the young men of these United States to love their country and cherish its greatness, and speak this with the same earnestness as I bespeak love and fear of God."

"Let more young men of education and virtuous ideals give themselves to the public service, and if they do so with clean hearts and hands, the present evils of government must be eliminated. In serving your country, you are serving God. I have preached this and written it again and again."

"The better class of our citizens so often stand aloof from practical politics and the conduct of campaigns. One result of universal suffrage is that elections very frequently turn upon the votes of that large class made up by the rougher and baser sort. As I have written in 'Our Christian Heritage,' to influence and organize this vote is the 'dirty work of politics.'"

Antagonism for Divorce

In expressing his antagonism toward divorce, the cardinal said:

"Divorce is a cancer which is eating into the very vitals of our life. Society—our whole civilization—uprights itself upon the sanctity of the home and the unity of the family. When you attack the family you attack government itself. And government to protect and perpetuate itself must expunge from its statutes the criminal divorce laws, which the best of our life abhors."

"I pray for the time when men and women may be persuaded to understand the seriousness of marriage. Regardless of religious convictions, they should understand when they marry that they are entering upon a contract which is not of a day or a year, but of a lifetime. They should know that they must bear and be true. The husband cannot pull one way and the wife another. They must pull in the traces together."

"Ponder," said he, "the helpless little children of these homes destroyed by divorce. Instead of ruling their passions and lives, they are ruled by them. The father goes one way and the mother the other, never to meet again."

"The children are left without an anchorage. They know not to whom to appeal for affection. They turn to the father to learn that he hates their mother. They turn to the mother to learn and have it said in their minds and hearts that she hates their father. Their lives are blighted in the bud. How can we expect them to burgeon into true and tender men and women? How can we expect them to do anything else with their lives than what their parents have done?"

Children Have No Chance

"Ah, these children of divorced parents! They are the bitter sorrow of life. They are given no chance, and woe unto them who are responsible!"

"The ease with which divorce may be obtained in some of our states is nothing less than criminal. One of the favorite grounds of these days is what is called 'incompatibility of temper.' A man may have a man of his little blinding words fly from their tongues. There is never a thought of forbearance on the part of either."

"There is never a thought of the children. Only the selfish pride of the parents is concerned. Divorce is there is an action brought for divorce. 'Incompatibility of temper! Bah! I say to the laws which permit such things. They affront God and every one who fears him.'"

The cardinal was asked whether or not he felt any infirmities of age.

"I feel," said he, "as capable as I did 30 years ago. Thank God. I have premonitions at times that my joints do not work so smoothly as they once did, and once in a while I imagine that the mind is a trifle sluggish. Otherwise I am the man I was 30 years ago."

"And there is no reason why I should feel my age. You see, I have always lived most abstemiously. But, you see, I have had to live quietly and regularly. My stomach has never been very strong, and so has compelled me to be careful. I have in this one may see how wonderfully God moves to perform his works, and I thank him."

"I thank God that he called me, and that he has permitted me to continue in his service through these many years. I am content, happy. It is much to be given to any mortal to be able to say that. If it were given to me to live all of these 76 years again, I should not wish them different. The calling of a priest is a difficult one, but there is sublime happiness in the dedication of one's self to service."

TWO ELECTROCUTED BRUSH BLAZE

Men Paid the Death Penalty This Morning

A Lively Fire at Willow Dale Yesterday Afternoon

OSSINING, N. Y., July 25.—In Sing Sing prison today two men paid the penalty for murders in New York City. They were Carl Loose, convicted of the murder of his daughter, and Giuseppe Gambaro, a fratricide.

Loose was the first to go to the chair. He went to his death without a word. Gambaro was equally composed and equally silent. Only one shock was used in each case.

Loose was convicted in New York City of the murder in November, 1908, of his daughter Mattie. He killed the girl and shot his son, the Rev. Frederick William Loose, while trying to murder his wife.

Gambaro shot and killed his brother Vincenzo on February 8, 1909.

The explosion occurred in the plant of the Cincinnati Ball Crank company, and the detonation was heard for a distance of more than a mile. The injured are: Captain Jacob Cross, Lieutenant Charles Brenner; Pipemen Anthony Rengelsberger, Fred Engelke and Frank Gardner.

The effect of the strike on the mills is claimed by the mill men to be unappreciable.

TWELVE INJURED

As Result of Passenger's Prank

ST. LOUIS, July 25.—A prank of a passenger on an interurban returning from Creve Coeur lake shortly after 1 o'clock this morning caused a wreck in which twelve persons were injured, several of them dangerously. BIG REAL ESTATE DEAL

Green Brothers, proprietors of the Five and Ten Cent store in Merrimack street near the corner of Palmer street, have purchased the property known as the Welles block at the corner of Merrimack and Kirk streets. It is understood that the purchasers intend to modernize the building by making alterations which will greatly improve the stores on the ground floor, while the upper stories will be remodeled to suit tenants.

The plans for the improvements are being drawn by Percy F. Gilbert, the well known architect.

The building was formerly owned by H. H. Hunnewell and is assessed for $70,000, of which $45,000 is on the land. The tenants on the ground floor at the present time are Abels Brothers, the Misses Rogers, and Head & Shaw.

CHAMPION LARNED

BROOKLINE, July 25.—With two Longwood cups already in his possession National Singles Champion William A. Larned went out to the Longwood courts today to play Maurice E. McLoughlin of San Francisco in the challenge match for another silver trophy in which Larned has already two legs and needed today's match to retain permanently.

It was the first time that the veteran and the young Pacific coast champion have crossed tennis racquets in an important tournament and anticipating that McLoughlin's brilliant play of last week might give Larned something better than a three-set match thousands of tennis enthusiasts reached the grounds an hour or two before the players came onto the court.

McLoughlin's career, although somewhat brief, has been spectacular and has included a brilliant exhibition in the nationals at Newport last year and a place on the Davis cup team to Australia last winter.

William A. Larned's place in tennis history is too well known to bear recounting.

Ended In a Landed Marathon

NEW YORK, July 25.—The eighth annual Battery to Coney Island swimming race, which started from the city's lower sea wall at 11:50 a. m. yesterday, wound up as a thrilling land as well as sea Marathon late yesterday afternoon.

Stopped by impassable cross-currents and high rolling waves at Norton's point, after they had covered twelve of the fourteen miles, the swimmers who had survived that far were taken ashore in boats which had followed them. Then, doubtful what to do, but deeming it the best thing to get to the finish point—the Majestic hotel, at the foot of Coney's Twentieth street—most of the swimmers, with whatever strength they had left over the sands and streets.

Commodore Henry G. Mason of the United States Volunteer Life Saving Corps, under the auspices of which the race was conducted, declared it "no contest" and announced that it will be started again on Sunday.

From now on, a special medal will be given to every man who reached the barrier of currents at Norton's point.

Sixteen of the racers "finished." First honors went to Clifford H. Benedict, of the Tilton Point division of life savers, located at South Norwalk, Conn. Next came Arthur O'Neill, of No. 137, Eighty-sixth street, Bath Beach, Phila. Talferall, of life saving division No. 2, stationed in Brooklyn, was a good third.

Thirty-one swimmers lined up at the Battery early in the morning. Each was provided with a certificate from his doctor showing him to be in good physical condition.

There was a lot of delay about securing rowboats and attendants to accompany the racers, but finally 20 craft of various types were manned with strong-armed watermen, and just before noon the pistol crack, sent the thirty-one overboard with a splash.

By the time Governor's island was reached the speedy starters began to "come back" to the main group, and the take-it-easy contestants, forged to the front. Half a dozen found that the choppy bay and the strong currents were too much for them.

Well up toward the front were Benedict and O'Neill, who seemed to recognize each other as dangerous rivals.

It was after 4 o'clock when the leaders reached Norton's point. Here they came to a stop. The wind was strong easterly and that drove high waves directly at them, and the current, swirling around toward the Bay, was dead against them. Their most powerful strokes failed to carry them a foot past the point, and after a struggle of five minutes they threw their hands up and begged to be towed in.

The way the men finished, after the first three who have been named was—Henry Brower, fourth; William D. Harris, fifth; H. Farraris, sixth; William O'Freest, seventh; Thomas Chalmers, eighth; Leonard Gray, ninth, and Joseph Chermabino, tenth.

Despite the fact that the trip was a long one, about 1000 miles being covered only about 12 hours elapsed from the time the party left Lowell Saturday afternoon until it returned this morning.

The chassis manufactured by the Thomas company for police patrol purposes were inspected and while no decision on the part of the Lowell men has been made as yet they were very much impressed with the fine quality of the chassis. The bodies for these machines are not kept in stock, but are made to order, owing to the fact that the officials of different cities have different ideas as to the bodies. They are constructed according to the specifications framed by the purchasers.

After inspecting the factory a large touring car was taken and the various points of interest in Buffalo, including its many parks, were visited and the party was taken to Niagara Falls. The American side of the falls was viewed from different points of vantage, after which the party was taken over the Niagara river into Canada, where the celebrated Horse Shoe falls of the Niagara were seen.

Dinner was enjoyed at the palatial Clifton House on the Canadian side of the river. Then a fast trip was made back to Buffalo and after some more sight-seeing the Lowell men boarded their train and arrived in Lowell early this morning.

It was the fact that the trip was a long one, about 1000 miles being covered only about 12 hours elapsed from the time the party left Lowell Saturday afternoon until it returned this morning.

IN STOLEN BOAT

Harkness Made Thrilling Trip From Brooklyn to Boston

BOSTON, July 25.—Whitford J. Harkness, 35 years old, a sailor, who claims to belong in San Francisco, is a prisoner at the harbor police station. He was arrested Saturday, charged with stealing the handsome catboat Frances from its moorings off Bensonhurst, Brooklyn, on June 27.

Capt. Edward Pease of the harbor police received a circular Saturday giving an account of the theft of the boat. An hour later the yacht had been located and Harkness was under arrest.

Harkness does not deny his guilt. He said yesterday that he took the yacht so that he could come to Boston, as there were more opportunities here to ship as a sailor than in New York. He had no money and he declared there was no other way of his getting here. He did not explain his action in changing the name of the boat by transposing two of the letters, making her name read Frances instead of Francis.

He had advertised the boat for sale in some of the Boston papers, and called to her mast when she was recovered by Sergt. Hird and Patrolmen McCarthy and Soutter was a "for sale" sign.

The Frances is 26 feet 6 inches long and 10 feet beam. She is splendidly

STRIKE LEADERS

Say Inexperienced Trainmen Are to Blame for Wrecks

MONTREAL, July 25.—One solution of the Grand Trunk railroad strike is now in sight according to the company's officers. It is presented in the message yesterday by President Hays to Mackenzie King, minister of labor, asking adequate protection of the company's property and of its employees, especially those who have taken the places of strikers. "While we were desirous of arbitration," said President Hays, "time for such action has passed." The strike leaders on the other hand expressed confidence in the steadfastness of their ranks now that Mr. King's last suggestion for further arbitration accepted by the men has been refused by the company. They still rely on a remedial freight paralysis.

The officials began the week with an

CAPTAIN SLOCUM

Master of Famous Sloop is Given Up as Lost

NEW BEDFORD, July 25.—Capt. Joshua Slocum, master of the famous sloop Spray and author of a book, "Sailing Alone Around the World," has been given up as lost by his wife.

Capt. Slocum sailed from Vineyard Haven for the West Indies more than a year and a half ago to escape the severity of the approaching winter and has not since been heard from. He was last seen when he was sailing alone and was last seen by a passing steamship, which reported the sloop as making heavy weather. Capt. Slocum was 65, and he had made voyages to all the seas of the earth in the famous sloop.

Mrs. Slocum, his wife, is living at was run down by a steamer at night. Capt. Ernest Dean of Chilmark, who cruised in the West Indies last winter, made inquiries everywhere but could not learn that Capt. Slocum reached the islands.

Capt. Slocum was born in Nova Scotia and was a sailor all his days. He finally became a commander of vessels and was wrecked in the bark Aqueduct on the coast of Brazil. He built a sloop, the Liberdade, in which he cruised home and later exhibited his boat and curiosities at county fairs and along the coast.

He was given an old sloop abandoned at Fair Haven, Mass., and rebuilt her. She was 36 feet long and her timbers were largely green wood, apple tree trunks from an old orchard being used to quite an extent. Yet the vessel was stout and staunch, and after cruising along the coast he sailed from Yarmouth, N. S., on July 2, 1895, on a world cruise that lasted three years. For a long interval at that time he was given up as lost. Later he visited ports all along the coast, selling his books and curiosities.

In 1908 he brought home a piece of green coral weighing two tons. He purchased a farm at Westisbury and undertook the culture of hops, with slight success.

Capt. Slocum has a wife and four children. One of his three sons, Victor J., is now on a whaling cruise. Another son is Benjamin A. of Lynn, and a third, James Garfield Slocum, lives in New York city. His only daughter is Mrs. Arthur Joyce of Attleboro.

FOUR MORE DEAD As a Result of the Heat

NEW YORK, July 25.—After its record rise to 97 degrees yesterday, marking the hottest day of the season, the official mercury hovered about or above the 80 degree mark all night, registering a minimum of 78 and at 8 o'clock this morning standing at 79, or two degrees above the figures for the same hour on Sunday. The prospects were for another blazing day although something of a breeze from the southwest and a lesser percentage of humidity tended to alleviate conditions. Despite this prostration cases began to be reported early.

Reports from the Brooklyn hospitals this morning added four to the list of dead from the effects of the torrid wave.

FOUR MORE DEAD As a Result of the Heat

NEW YORK, July 25.—After its record rise to 97 degrees yesterday, marking the hottest day of the season, the official mercury hovered about or above the 80 degree mark all night, registering a minimum of 78 and at 8 o'clock this morning standing at 79, or two degrees above the figures for the same hour on Sunday. The prospects were for another blazing day although something of a breeze from the southwest and a lesser percentage of humidity tended to alleviate conditions. Despite this prostration cases began to be reported early.

Reports from the Brooklyn hospitals this morning added four to the list of dead from the effects of the torrid wave.

FLORENCE ROCHE

Becomes Bride of Admiral Grinnell

BOSTON, July 25.—Japan's Yankee admiral, Henry W. Grinnell, was married today to Miss Florence Roche, daughter of the late James Jeffrey Roche, the well known author, who ended his days in the United States consular service. The ceremony was performed in the Roman Catholic cathedral of the Holy Cross in the presence of relatives and a few friends.

Admiral Grinnell is 74 years of age and was an intimate friend of the late father of the bride. The bride is 25 years old. Admiral Grinnell served with Farragut at Mobile bay, and later was in the naval service of one of the South American republics. Still later he was adviser in the Japanese naval establishment previous to the China-Japanese war and for his services he was made a rear admiral in the Mikado's fleet.

KILLED HIMSELF

MAN DESPONDENT BECAUSE HE WAS OUT OF WORK

BOSTON, July 25.—Luke Mullen, 20, a lodger at 28 High street, Charlestown, committed suicide yesterday in the bathroom at his lodging house by inhaling illuminating gas. Mullen was found by Lester S. Fletcher, a lodger, who was obliged to climb through a window to get inside and unlock the door.

It is believed Mullen ended his life in a fit of despondency because he was out of work. He had been lodging at 28 High street, Charlestown, for three weeks and during that time has spoken to Mrs. Margaret McCullough of his intention to go west to work.

Early yesterday morning he took a gas tube, entered the bathroom and locked himself inside. Affixing one end of the tube to the gas jet and placing the other end in his mouth he turned on the gas.

Dr. Fitzpatrick of High street was called and upon examining Mullen declared him dead. Medical Examiner Magrath pronounced it a case of suicide. Mullen has relatives living on Franklin street, Somerville.

DISASTROUS FIRE

ANNOYED AT PUBLICITY GIVEN COUNTERFEITING CASE

BOSTON, July 25.—Warden Bridges of the state prison is annoyed that the connection of Patrick J. Hanley, alias Corkey Hanley, with the prison counterfeiting scheme had become public. Hanley is confined in the Cherry Hill wing and is not allowed to go to the shops. The reason, the warden admits, is that some of the material used in the counterfeiting was found in Hanley's "neighborhood."

"We are not making charges against Hanley or any one else while we are investigating the matter," he said. "Hanley is not in solitary confinement and has not been. At this time we are not making charges against anybody and nobody has a right to make any such charges until the investigation is completed."

Hanley is serving a twenty-five year sentence as a habitual criminal. He has been known to the police for twenty-seven years as a desperate criminal. While a prisoner at the state prison he joined the notorious seven gang which made its escape by crawling through a small sewer from the yard to the river.

When the counterfeiting was exposed by a fellow prisoner, Hanley was taken from his cell, which was then searched by the prison officers. A plaster of paris mould with the impress of a genuine half dollar, $40 in counterfeit half dollars and particles of the tin and lead alloy used in the coins were found under the prisoner's cell. The officers are confident that Hanley had a skilful confederate who made the mould.

DESERTS HIS WIFE

Negro Taint in Family Breaks Up Their Home

PITTSBURG, Pa., July 25.—Mrs. Caroline Harkins, a woman still handsome at 50, is a grass widow and practically a raving maniac because yesterday her husband for the last 25 years, and the father of her four grown children, discovered that generations back the great-grand-grandmother of Mrs. Harkins was a mulatto.

Without the semblance of a negro feature, with beautiful auburn hair, now streaked with gray, Mrs. Harkins has associated with white persons and always has been regarded as white.

Two weeks ago Mrs. Harkins' mother came from the south to visit her. The older woman delights in smoking a pipe.

Saturday her daughter remonstrated with her and the older woman came back with the tart reply:

"I guess a pipe won't contaminate your house. Your great-grand-mother was a negro, so you needn't put on any airs."

Mr. Harkins was present and heard the conversation. He turned to his wife and asked her if the negro allegation was true. She didn't answer. Her husband then took his hat and left the house vowing he never would return.

For two hours after her husband had left Mrs. Harkins went into a stupor. Then she became hysterical and practically a maniac. Her children, unable to calm her, called in the police. They, not knowing the circumstances, locked the woman up for the night.

Yesterday she was calmer and told her story to Magistrate Louis Almont. Before dawn she was arraigned. She acknowledged that she had been told in her childhood that there was a strain of negro blood in her family and she said she had done everything on earth to hide the fact from her husband and children.

Nothing has been heard of Harkins since he left his home and the police fear he may have committed suicide, as he always has been strictly a family man, wrapped up in his wife and children. He is a coal dealer and is in comfortable circumstances.

CAPTAIN BERNIER

To Attempt the Northwest Passage

OTTAWA, Ont., July 25.—Captain Bernier, the Canadian navigator, is now enroute to Canadian Arctic regions with the government's permission to attempt the Northwest passage and bring his vessel around to Victoria B. C., a feat which was unsuccessfully tried by Peary, Ross, Franklin and other navigators during the last century.

Captain Bernier sailed from Quebec on the Arctic under sealed orders last month. A letter has been received from him at the department of marine dated Chateau bay, off the Labrador coast, July 13, with a memorandum giving the program of his two years' cruise.

The last time the Northwest passage was made was in 1854 by McClure. He, however, did not bring his vessel through but walked across the ice to Melvin Island. Captain Bernier's voyage of four years ago was via the southern passage of Victoria Island.

MAN WAS KNIFED

HE WAS CUT ABOUT THE HEAD

ARLINGTON, July 25.—Two Italians rushed into the residence of Dr. Harold Webb on Pleasant street last evening and asked him to go with them; and attend a man they had found on Winter street suffering from cuts about the head.

Before starting Dr. Webb notified the police and Patrolman Joseph Cahill was detailed upon the case. Dr. Webb found Dominic Tavernise of 72 Broadway lying in a field of winter street and upon examination found that he had received several cuts about the head, evidently inflicted with a pocket knife.

After his wounds were dressed Tavernise told Patrolman Cahill that he became involved in a discussion with Vincenzo Mazzaro and Dominic Mazzetta, both of whom live on Decatur street. One of them, according to Tavernise, rushed at him with some sharp instrument, but he could not tell which one did the cutting and neither of the Italians could be located last night.

LOSS IS $15,000

Fire in U. S. Machinery Co.'s Plant

BEVERLY, July 25.—The United Shoe Machinery company, at whose plant fire did $15,000 damage yesterday morning, will immediately make repairs and there will be no delay in work at the plant.

The fire started from oil barrels near a frame storehouse.

On arrival of the department the frame storehouse was a mass of flames and the fire had made its way to building B, which is a cement structure, setting fire to the window casings and working its way into the building, totally destroying a restaurant which accommodates several hundred men who eat their dinners at the factory.

The light from the fire lit up the heavens for miles around and the smoke from the oil made its way into the sky which gave the people the idea that the entire plant was in flames.

Shortly after the fire alarm was sounded the whistle on the shoe machinery plant commenced to blow, calling out the fire department connected with the plant. The blowing of the whistle not only called out the firemen connected with the plant, but thousands of citizens who rushed to the scene of the fire on hearing it.

WILL SUE TAFT BOAT DESTROYED

Man Hit by President's Son's Auto The Occupants Were Rescued

BEVERLY, July 25.—The greatest surprise was caused at the Beverly hospital yesterday by the announcement that Michele Thithwolla, the Italian laborer injured by Robert Taft, the president's son, a month ago, will bring suit for damages.

It was generally considered that the man would be given opportunities far exceeding those recently arriving in the country and in such lowly station. He is now well on the road to recovery.

Thithwolla, who was a section hand, was run into by an automobile driven by Robert Taft, who had been out driving with two Yale classmates, Lindell King of Minneapolis and George Harrison of Washington, D. C.

Thithwolla ran out into the street near Pride's crossing, in front of the car, and was hit and thrown into the side of the road. He was hurried to the Beverly hospital with a fractured skull.

The president himself threw all the resources at his command into the task of saving the man's life, rushing experts to the hospital, and personally assuring the very best of care the country could afford. To this marshalling of surgical skill the section hand owes his life.

NEW YORK, July 25.—An explosion of an oil stove on the big motorboat Don Quixote today set the craft ablaze and within a half hour burned her to the water's edge at her anchorage off Bergen beach. Her owner, Arthur Ralsay of Brooklyn and his wife who had been sleeping on the boat had a narrow escape from death.

Ralsay, who is a member of the Bergen Beach Yacht club, was lighting the stove when it exploded. As the flames caught on the woodwork both he and Mrs. Ralsay were forced to jump into the water. They clung to the gunwale of the craft while the flames devoured the boat. Help reached them from the shore just as they were threatened by the double peril of exhaustion and the advance of the flames toward the part of the boat to which they were clinging.

BOY WAS KILLED

Run Over by Boston & Northern Car

BOSTON, July 25.—Edward Morley, a 7-year-old Charlestown boy, was run over by an electric car yesterday afternoon in front of an open window less than 10 feet away where his mother was watching him play on the sidewalk. He died a short time later at the Relief hospital after his leg had been amputated, and physicians had to be called in to attend to the mother, who collapsed when she saw her child ground beneath the wheels of the car.

Mrs. Morley, who lives at 95 Chelsea street, had told her son that he might play outside on the sidewalk, where it was cooler than in the house. To make sure that he did not stray into the street she moved her chair to the window and kept a careful eye upon him. The street car track in front of the house is within a foot of the curb. The boy was on the edge of the sidewalk and suddenly stumbled. Mrs. Morley shrieked as she saw a Boston & Northern car upon him.

The little boy scrambled back but could not quite save himself, and a wheel of the heavy car crunched across his leg. The child was hurried to the Relief station, where it was decided that an amputation alone could save his life, and even that appeared to be hopeless. It was performed, but within a few minutes the boy was dead.

SOLDIERS PATROL TOWN

NEW ORLEANS, July 25.—Further confirmation of disturbed conditions recently at Cuba, Honduras, is brought by passengers arriving here on steamer Olcutin yesterday. The Olcutin sailed from Cuba Thursday. Then soldiers were patrolling the town. The feeling of alarm was apparently the outcome of a rumor that former President Bonilla is threatening to begin a revolution. There was no actual uprising.

EXTRA FOR WATER METER

Case Growing Out of the Warrenville Extension

In the case of the City of Lowell vs. Edward Cawley, an action of contract to recover the sum of $675.43, of which sum $356.80 was the price of one Hersey Detector meter and the remainder the interest on the cost of extension of the water main through Rogers street to Warrenville, Judge Fisher has just made a finding in favor of the defendant so far as the cost of the meter is concerned, and in favor of the plaintiff as to the rest of the amount claimed. In his finding the judge rules that under the agreement between Cawley and the city the latter had the right to affirm the sale of the

DECORATED BY BRITAIN

NEW YORK, July 25.—Thomas A. Broadbent, a slender, undersized young man, went to work as a machinist in a Yonkers manufacturing establishment last March. To his brother workmen he was simply a modest efficient young Englishman with some knowledge of ships. Occasionally, they knew, also, very formal-looking documents would come to him, after which he would come to this city to see the British consul general or some other dignitary. This excited some curiosity, which was never gratified until yesterday, when Broadbent's friends learned that in his own country he was considered to have performed the most heroic act of the year 1909 in all the British maritime service, that the official documents meant honors and other official recognition, that he was a holder of the king's medal, the legion of honor of the sea; that he had the Liverpool Shipwreck and Humane society medal, and, best of all, a personal letter of commendation from King Edward VII.

STORM WAS WELCOME

Paradoxical as it may seem, yet 'tis true, that it sometimes takes a shower to bring sunshine. There wasn't much sunshine in the heart of the average citizen this afternoon until the rain drops began to fall and then the scene was changed. We swapped that all-gone look for a happy smile and we said all the nice things we could think of about the rain. Strange what a difference a few hours will make. The pessimist was heard to say this forenoon that we wouldn't have any rain for a week and the chances are he feels badly to think that he did not prove weather wise. The rain was appreciated everywhere but more especially in the congested districts and so good did it seem to the children that they stood in the street while the rain drops played tag with them. The only fault that could be found with the shower was that it did not last long enough. But it was a corker while it lasted, and it certainly did take a lot of heat out of the air.

WORK RESUMED LARCENY CHARGE

In Merrimack Woolen Mill Today
The Merrimack Woolen mill in Dracut resumed operations, in part, this morning after a shut down of one week. The weaving department was the only department that started with a full force and it was stated that the full complement of help will not be employed at once but the plant will gradually return to its former busy schedule. The Beaver Brook mill at Collinsville didn't start up today as was confidently expected by the operatives. The Beaver Brook mill shut down all its departments with the exception of the finishing room one week ago and the operatives were notified that the suspension would be for one week only. Saturday, however, they were notified that the shutdown would continue for another week.

UNKNOWN MAN

Was Overcome by the Heat

A man, whose identity is unknown at the present writing, was overcome by the heat about one o'clock this afternoon while passing through Lakeview avenue. He dropped on the sidewalk and was carried into a nearby house and the ambulance summoned. When the ambulance arrived the man was so delirious that while he was being taken into the ambulance he bit the ambulance physician on the thumb inflicting a painful injury. At the time of going to press, the man's condition had improved, and it is expected that he will recover.

HIS CHIN INJURED

Nicholas Bayann, residing at 58 Moody street, had his chin struck by the flooring of an elevator at the Boot mills about 6.45 o'clock this morning. The ambulance was summoned and he was removed to the Lowell hospital where he received treatment.

BY ELECTRICITY

Wilton Looms Started in Carpet Today

For the first time in history the Wilton looms of the Bigelow Carpet company of this city were started and operated by electricity this morning. Some 10 or 12 looms in what is known as the "Little Mill" were started and electricity in the future will be the power, the looms having been run by a steam engine since 1883. The operatives claim that the electric power has an advantage over steam in that it is more regular and does not vary like steam and hence makes their work easier.

OLDEST CITIZEN

Patrick O'Neil Aged 102 Is Dead

The remains were removed to the establishment of J. F. O'Donnell & Sons.

SWISS DIPLOMAT

HAS WON AN AMERICAN HEIRESS

WASHINGTON, July 25.—An engagement is said to exist between Henri Martin, Charge d'Affaires of the Swiss Embassy, and Miss Cecelia May, daughter of Colonel and Mrs. Henry May, and one of the richest and most popular belles of Washington society. Mr. Martin has been attached to the Washington legation for several years. He is a universal favorite, both in the resident and diplomatic set. On Miss May's return from Europe, several years ago, she was presented to Mr. Martin, and a warm friendship is said to have sprung up between them. Miss May is accomplished, historically, and has often appeared in society dramatics. Mr. Martin is one of the most versatile of the eligible young bachelor diplomats. He is a member of an ancient French-Swiss family, and has distinguished himself in the diplomatic corps. He is the champion amateur tennis player of Switzerland, and of Washington society. At the exclusive skating club formed by the younger set last season Mr. Martin's fantastic figures and capers on roller skates proved tremendously attractive to the other members. Everybody, including Postmaster Frank Hitchcock, began to emulate his skill, and Captain Butt, and Mr. Hitchcock both acquired sore knees trying to cut "the Martin figure eight."

PROF. CRANE HERE

The Invincible "Larry" Visits His Home

Prof. Lawrence Crane, the famous magician and vaudeville performer, whose name is a household word from the Atlantic to the Pacific, and who is known in Lowell as Larry McCrann, is at home for a week on his annual visit to his mother, for Larry, at the height of his prosperity and fame has never forgotten the "old folks at home." Larry came from the coast sending his wife ahead and stopping over in Reno to see the big fight. He was a Jeffries man and lost a few pennies, but he says it was no frame up, and that Jeffries did the best he could, the answer being that a man can't come back. Prof. Crane will remain in Lowell for a few weeks and will return for the festivities of Liberator Week after which he leaves for Europe where he is booked for three seasons at a salary that is most fair to content.

FIVE DEATHS REPORTED

To The Health Department Since Saturday

Death is not marching hand in hand with the present hot wave as was the case with the last hot wave that visited us, but the doctors say that the effect of this very hot weather will not be made manifest before tonight or tomorrow. Five deaths were reported at the office of the board of health since Saturday at noon as against 20 deaths during a corresponding time of the last hot wave. One death from cholera infantum was reported on Saturday and there were over 20 deaths from cholera infantum during the last hot spell.

From Camp to Council Chamber

The common council will meet in regular session tomorrow night and President Jewett will preside, though he is now at South Framingham with the rest of the soldier boys. Councilman John P. Davis is also at South Framingham and he will probably come along with Mr. Jewett. There isn't any business of very great importance coming before the meeting, but they say an old place is better than South Framingham. Committee on Sewers The committee on sewers went a-viewing this afternoon and this evening the committee will give hearings on a list of petitions including the following: C. H. Hibbard, that a sewer be laid in French street from the lower catch basin to Bridge street. Joseph Holtan, for abatement of sewer assessment in Bridge street. Stephen Breen, that sewer be laid in Crawford street from Fourth avenue to White street. H. W. Knowlton and others, that a sewer be laid in Monadnock avenue, from Westford street northerly about 350 feet. Patrick Farrell and others, that the sewer in Manchester street be extended.

WANT INDICTMENTS QUASHED

BOSTON, July 25.—Counsel for Arthur B. Sederquist, John E. Barry, Harry F. Curtis and Charles H. Rollins, all under indictment in connection with the failure of Sederquist, Barry & Co., brokers, filed special pleas in the superior court today. The pleas consist of a motion to quash the three indictments against them, a request for a bill of particulars, a request for access to the jury records and a plea in abatement.

The men are charged with the larceny of over $500,000, conspiracy to steal and bucket shopping. They are all out on bail.

DISPENSARY CROWDED

Hot Spell Affects Children and the Aged

The long line of seats in the office of the city dispensary at city hall was crowded with children this morning awaiting the district physicians and the services of the dispensary. The old saying that half the world knows not how the other half lives may be amplified in Lowell whenever a hot spell such as we have had during the past few days comes upon us. Half of Lowell hasn't the slightest idea of how the denizens of the congested tenement districts of this city live through the hot weather or perhaps it would be easier to get more public breathing places, more charity for children's week and other blessings for the poor. Two weeks ago we had a hot spell and a few days afterward the record at the board of health office showed a tremendous increase in the number of cases of cholera infantum, while the death record showed the dropping off of an unusual number of old people. The hot weather affects first the very young and the very old and every spell of intensely hot weather lasting over 48 hours is followed as invariably as darkness after daylight by an increased number of deaths among the very old and the very young. Today but one case of cholera infantum had been reported while the oldest man in Lowell, Patrick O'Neil, passed away. But if this weather keeps up for several days more deaths and more cases of cholera infantum may be expected. Facilities for bathing are scarce in the congested tenement districts while many a family cannot afford the ice necessary to keep food in proper shape before its consumption. A passerby on Pawtucket street any day during the hot weather will see a constant stream of children beginning as early as five o'clock in the morning going to and from the Gage ice houses with every old kind of an improvised vehicle carrying small bits of ice to their homes, the broken pieces that fall from the wagons in the loading. Those who haven't the ownership of a small wagon or go-cart carry the congealed luxury in aprons, bits of paper or even in their hands, frequently stopping when their hands get too cold. To the credit of the Gage company he it said that the company tolerates considerable inconvenience from the children and never drives them away nor refuses them the ice. Doorways and roofs are the favorite sleeping places of the tenement folks on hot nights while some of the men take to the commons rather than experience the discomfort of a bed in a close room.

SEARCH FOR MISSING WOMAN

OXFORD, July 25.—The banks of the French river and the adjoining woods in the town of Charlestown were scoured all night and today by searching parties who are hunting for a trace of Mrs. Francis Bond, an 80-year-old woman, who disappeared yesterday. Mrs. Bond, accompanied her son Edmund yesterday on a carriage trip after ferns. Mr. Bond went into the woods for the ferns, the mother, who is partly blind, remaining in the carriage. Upon his return his mother had vanished. The police were notified and every officer on the force as well as the members of the fire department assisted by private citizens began the hunt yesterday afternoon continuing throughout the night and today. Up to 1.30 this afternoon there had been no clue.

SUED FOR $750,000

James R. Keene Defendant in Action Brought by Firm

NEW YORK, July 25.—As a sequel of the disastrous collapse of the Hock-Pool, a suit has been instituted against James R. Keene, the aged Wall street speculator, and the brokerage firm of Popper & Sternbach, for $750,000 damages on the charge of conspiracy. The action was brought by Henry S. Haskins and Henry S. Levich, partners in Lathrop, Haskins & Co. The accusation is made that Keene, through Popper & Sternbach, deliberately planned the ruin of Lathrop, Haskins & Co. in order to increase his profits. The papers in the action tell in detail how the two pools were formed, how the stock was boomed, and how Keene, out of the wreckage, which he is charged with having secretly precipitated, reaped a harvest estimated at $3,500,000. From an attorney close to the plaintiff it was stated that the suit would develop evidence which would be available for the district attorney in a criminal prosecution. It was even hinted that the district attorney's office already was considering the question of bringing the whole matter before the grand jury. The complaint states that about March 1, 1909, Lathrop, Haskins & Co., entered into an agreement with Kerns, together with J. M. Fiske & Co., Neuberger, Henderson & Loeb, Post & Pigg, Jewett Brothers, Day, Adams & Co., Markos & Morrison, A. J. Elias & Co., Rollins & Co. and Orris Brothers & Co., to buy at least 20,000 shares of the common stock of the Columbus and Hocking Coal and Iron company, or so much of it as James R. Keene should deem advisable. Keene was to be the "agent, manager and trustee" of the said joint venture. He was to make what purchases he thought advisable prior to September, 1909.

LEADER SURRENDERS

Head of Boy Bandits Gave Himself Up to Police

NEW YORK, July 25.—The leader of the band of young thieves that has been terrorizing the lower section of Yonkers during the past week surrendered to the police yesterday. He is Aleck Kellogg, the son of William C. Kellogg, local agent of the Mutual Life Insurance company, of No. 15 Lowerrie street. Young Kellogg left town Saturday when he learned that the police were looking for him. He went to the home of an uncle in the Bronx, Frederick H. Kellogg, a lawyer, of No. 5 Beckman street, and was advised to give himself up, which he did. Young Kellogg made a startling confession. He said he had tried to kill his mother twice and that some time prior to the present series of burglaries had entered the home of William Baggs, at No. 17 Lowerrie street, at 2 o'clock in the morning. He carried a gun with him on that occasion and said he meant to use it if anyone attempted to arrest him. Kellogg told the police that he only entered two homes, those of John Christopherson, on Vandover road, and T. Kennard Thomson, on Madolane drive. Later, when questioned by Captain George Cooley, he confessed to having robbed also the homes of John Guitau, of No. 23 Bruce avenue, and Mrs. Francis J. Tuttle, of No. 225 Valentin street. The one hundred and seventy pieces of silver and other valuables which Captain Cooley recovered in the cave in Van Courtlandt park, the hiding place of the bag, was only part of the plunder. As to the remaining portion, Kellogg told the captain he had given it to a friend named William Dobbins, who was to pawn it and divide the proceeds with him. Captain Cooley has been in the police department twenty-eight years, but says he never came in contact with a cooler or more skilled criminal than Aleck Kellogg. Six years ago Kellogg lived in Bridgeport, Conn., and while a resident of that place he said he was a young woman. For this crime he was sent to the state reformatory for a period of two years. Before this he was arrested twice for stealing. Kellogg is only thirteen years old, but looks like a boy of eighteen. He weighs 140 pounds and is very strong and athletic. His father says that when he was an infant Aleck met with a mishap, falling on a sidewalk and striking on his head. Specialists say the only thing that will cure him of

NEW YORK, July 25.—John Pickering, a private of Company C, Fifth regiment, hypnotized himself yesterday in the state camp at Sea Girt, N. J. Pickering was on guard duty at the governor's cottage during church services. He was quietly removed to the hospital and is recovering.

MANCHESTER, N. H., July 25.—A terrific electric storm accompanied by a deluge of rain swept over this city about 1 o'clock this afternoon and caused much damage. Two large barns on the North river near the state industrial school and owned by Optician George Brown were burned with a loss of $12,000, the barn of John Sauborn on Ash street was partially burned and bolts caused slight damage in several places. The cloudburst of rain washed streets and flooded some cellars.

UNION

The B. R. T. collided on the Williamsburg Bridge yesterday. Eight passengers were injured and a motorman, Joseph Halegut, of No. 149 Myrtle avenue, Brooklyn, was taken to Gouverneur hospital in a critical condition. Halegut sustained a severe injury to his back and was hurt internally. At the hospital last night it was said he was dying.

Those who needed the services of the L. W. Curtis Company took the game by the reins last night. The opponents were the great fellows from the Courier-Citizen company. There were many special features in the game. Frank Carey of the Courier-Citizen job department made a home run, and then again on the next time at bat he made one of the famous John Ward bunts and reached second base.

Frank Maloney of Lowell won the one-half mile run, and also the hop, step and a jump.

Congress to be Asked For Money For Six Aeroplanes

WASHINGTON, July 24.—Experiments to prove the value of the aeroplane for war purposes, now being carried on by the U. S. government under the auspices of the war and navy departments will be hurried through in time to enable Secretary Dickinson and Meyer to make formal reports to congress and request an appropriation of $75,000 for the purchase of six aeroplanes, to be assigned to a military and naval use.

Tabulated data now being prepared by the navy department shows that the aeroplane is better than the submarine and that it is seven-tenths less dangerous to the crew, while its cost is about one-fifteenth of that of the submarine.

It was learned yesterday that both officers had obtained verbal assurance from Senator George C. Perkins, California, chairman of the senate committee on naval affairs, and Congressman George Edmund Ross of Illinois, chairman of the house committee on naval affairs, that such an appropriation would be favorably considered and approved by them if its request was accompanied by an official report showing the possible advantages to be derived by the addition of the aeroplanes to the army and navy.

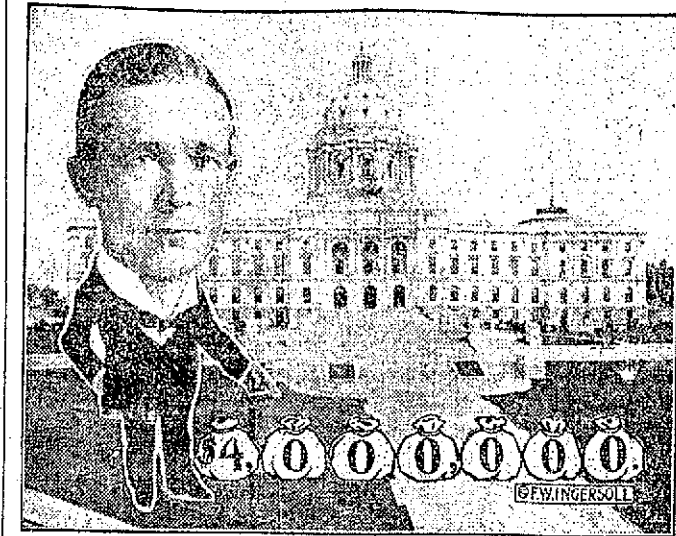

The clause in the message requesting the appropriation will be substantially as follows:

"That the amount asked, namely $75,000, will purchase six aeroplanes of the latest improved type and will leave a balance for an additional subsidiary equipment; that $75,000 is, approximately, three-fourths of the cost of one 12-inch cannon; that the large-caliber guns mounted at the various forts in the United States, being stationary, can be badly damaged by a small torpedo dropped from a height of 500 feet; that although even at this day the aeroplane is yet at its experimental stage, it has already developed such serious possibilities in its offensive tactics as to make imperative that the United States take advantage of this economical and promising carrier; that it is estimated that the government improved aeroplane, fully equipped to carry a necessary amount of ammunition and a crew of three to five men, will not cost to exceed $15,000."

GOVERNOR AND CAPITOL OF STATE THAT IS TOO RICH TO LEVY TAXES

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn., July 25.—Look who's here! A state, Minnesota by name, which has so much money in its treasury that in all probability no taxes for 1911 will be levied on the people. There is nearly $4,000,000 in the Minnesota state treasury, a surplus without precedent. Moreover, this enormous surplus is growing constantly, the settlement of big lumber cases, inheritance tax suits and other litigation in favor of the state being responsible in large part for the doubling of the treasury funds since last October. It is understood that Gov. A. O. Eberhardt, at the suggestion of Attorney General George T. Simpson and other state officers will recommend that no tax levies be made for next year. The state officials are wondering what is to be done with the surplus riches of the commonwealth.

United Irish League Excursion on Aug. 11

The United Irish league decided last evening to run the "Ho for the Beach" excursion on Thursday, Aug. 11, and as usual to Revere. The headquarters for the day will be at the Metropolitan hotel, and tickets for leading attractions fronting on the beach will be provided for those who take in the excursion.

At last night's meeting, in the absence of President Rourke, Mr. Dennis McDowell presided, and a large committee was chosen to conduct the excursion.

The arrangements for the convention at Buffalo in September were discussed and it was stated that Hon. John E. Redmond would speak in Lowell in the fall, although the exact date has not yet been fixed. The picnic committee which includes the executive committee, will meet again next Friday evening when a large attendance is requested.

The committee fixed the date earlier than usual in order to have the excursion out of the way before the big Hibernian convention.

WINDOWS BROKEN

STONES LAND IN ROOM OF WORCESTER PRIESTS

WORCESTER, July 25.—A series of acts of vandalism in South Worcester terminated at 3 o'clock yesterday morning when three young men, evidently under the influence of liquor, riddled the windows in the St. Aloysius total abstinence society's clubhouse on Sheridan street.

Since the Sacred Heart church rectory was damaged by a late May night, the priests of the parish have been sleeping in the upper part of the St. Aloysius society's clubhouse. With them yesterday morning as a guest was Rev. Bernard Doherty of Louisville, Ky.

All the priests were sleeping soundly when their slumbers were broken by the sound of breaking glass and stones landing on the floor of the sleeping room. They rushed to the windows to see three young men throwing stones from Sheridan street. They shouted and the three young men ran away, followed by police officers who had been attracted by the sound of breaking glass.

The police and priests have an idea who the vandals are, but no arrests have been made. An investigation showed that practically every window in the lower part of the house had been shattered and many panes of glass were broken in the rooms in the upper story occupied by Rev. Fr. Bernard S. Conaty, Rev. Fr. Francis H. Swift and Fr. Doherty.

AUTO OVERTURNED WAGON ON REVERE BOULEVARD

REVERE, July 25.—About 4 p. m. yesterday Supt. West and Engineer Sackett of the Revere fire department brought in two automobiles loaded with injured from a sensational smashup on the boulevard between Oak Island grove and Point of Pines. None of the victims was found to be seriously hurt, however.

The comprised a family party from West Lynn who were driving toward the house in a demerol wagon, when their vehicle was struck from the rear by an automobile. In the wagon were Mr. and Mrs. Balkus and their three children and Miss Wilka Ciglin, a nurse. The collision tossed the wagon and its occupants about 10 feet, landing the wagon upside down upon the sidewalk.

Word of the accident was brought to the park police station and Supt. H. W. West in his own runabout and Engineer George R. Sackett in a larger car came up to the scene. They loaded the injured people into the two automobiles and soon had them in the emergency room.

Mr. Balkus had a cut on his head and a bruised arm. Mrs. Balkus' worst injury was to her foot. The nurse had a bruised arm and one of the children received slight cuts. All were able to leave without assistance except Mrs. Balkus, who was sent in a carriage to her home, 88 Ada street, West Lynn.

The driver of the automobile which did the damage was William H. Haver, who will have to answer to a charge of reckless driving placed against him by the police.

"Reptile George" Had a Narrow Escape

Brown, who is known as "Reptile George," was removing 19 snakes from a box in which they arrived, to an exhibition case. Madame Lucile Dorian, a trainer of dogs and ponies, was rehearsing her act when she heard Brown's cries. She ran into the room where she saw Brown fighting off three reptiles, from six to nine feet long.

As Madame Dorian rushed to Brown's aid, one of the reptiles had already hooked the man. Its fangs were in his flesh while its body coiled around his arm and neck. Madame Dorian took a knife from Brown's pocket and with quick strokes she cut loose the reptile. Then she made a cut in the flesh of the torn arm. Brown was dragged from the room and Madame Dorian, with strips torn from her skirt, made a tourniquet and stopped the flow of blood. Brown was then attended by a doctor.

HYPNOTIC SMELL

PAPER HAMS WORK ON THE IMAGINATION OF PEOPLE

EAST ORANGE, N. J., July 25.—Up to two o'clock last night a raucous raucous in East Orange. Then there was a fire in his place, Ross disappeared, and for the last thirteen days there has been a sign on the front door to the effect that the place had been attacked and that nobody must touch the "goods and chattels within."

John Smith, a druggist next door, worried about that sign and wondered how long before the presumably perishable goods would be taken away. Through the windows he could see hams hanging in the front of the store, and pretty soon Smith in company with other neighbors began to think they were annoyed by odors from the neglected shop.

Finally Smith called up the board of health. Inspector Lindsey took up the case at once and with Smith as guide entered the place. Once inside they found that the hams were paper dummies and that there was not a crumb of meat in the building.

FELL FROM WINDOW

KNOWLES SUFFERED FROM EFFECTS OF HEAT

PROVIDENCE, July 25.—Edward F. Knowles, 81, a veteran carpenter and builder of this city, fell from a third-story window in the house of his son-in-law at 506 Park street at 2 o'clock yesterday morning and died yesterday at the hospital.

He was overcome by the heat last week and had suffered much from the effects of it Saturday night. It is supposed that he went from his bed to the window seeking fresh air and relief, tumbled over the railing, and fell headlong to the concrete in the rear of the dwelling.

BILLERICA

The town committee on finance met Saturday night to consider the expenses of the proposed bridge. Chairman Clark presided and Joseph P. Talbot reported that the bids received ranged from $5577 to $12,500.

In addition to the above expense the removal of the storehouse of the Faulkner Manufacturing company would cost $1500 and there would also be an expense of $500 for a temporary bridge while the new structure was being built.

The work of construction would be supervised by Engineer Worcester of Boston, whose charge would be 10 per cent of the actual cost of the bridge, or $387.70, making a total estimated cost of $16,177.

The bridge committee thought that $3000 should be given and Mr. Talbot believed the job could be done well within that figure.

The article was discussed at some length and it was voted to recommend that the town borrow $3000 for said bridge as provided in the article. The matter of a sidewalk on Fordham bridge was also acted upon. The estimated cost would be $2000. Various other matters were discussed and favorably acted upon.

ACCIDENT LIST

The Victims Treated at the Hospitals

Amerigo D'Arezzo, aged one year and a son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph D'Arezzo, while playing with matches last evening at the home of his parents, 32 Keene street, set fire to his clothing and before the flames had been extinguished his whole right side had been severely burned. The ambulance was summoned and he was taken to St. John's hospital where he received treatment. Despite the fact that the child was badly burned it is expected that he will recover.

Clarence Perrington, of 21 Sagamore street, fell while working among some lumber in a yard off Wile street, late Saturday afternoon, and broke his shoulder blade. The ambulance took him home and his case was treated there.

Harry Lee, a youth of 18, was going up the stairs of his residence at 98 Epping street, last night when he fell and dislocated his right thumb. The thumb was treated at the Emergency hospital.

Walter C. Thayer, aged 32 years and employed by Patton the florist at Tewksbury Centre, was moving some boards Saturday afternoon on the playing with some other boys in the alley street Saturday night met with a painful accident. One of his playmates lifted a plank which was too heavy for him to hold, the result being that the plank fell on Johnson's hand and cut a severe gash on the little finger of that hand. He was taken to the Emergency hospital where five stitches were taken in the wound.

John Mack, aged 16, of Wiggin street, while swimming in the Concord river yesterday afternoon dove and struck his head on a rock at the bottom, cutting a bad gash in it. The city ambulance took him to the Lowell hospital, where several stitches were taken.

INJURIES FATAL

WALYAND, July 25.—George Johnson, colored, employed by L. F. Priest of Glenadon, fell from his wagon in this town yesterday afternoon and the wheels passed over his body.

He was placed in an auto and taken to the Waltham hospital, but when the auto arrived there Johnson was dead. The man was on his way to the Boston market with a load of vegetables. It is believed that he was asleep and that a sudden lurch threw him from the wagon.

Word was sent to Mr. Priest, who went to Waltham later with an undertaker and took the body back to Glenadon. Johnson was about 35.

AIMED AT CAT

BUT MAN SHOT HIS WIFE INSTEAD

NEW YORK, July 25.—In shooting at a chicken-stealing cat Saturday in South River, N. J., Eugene Thompson shot his wife. She was wounded in the right shoulder but not dangerously.

Thompson and his wife were in the house when the cat was seen bearing away its prey. Thompson rushed for his gun and his wife raised a window screen so that he could get a good shot. Running back, his anxiety to get a good shot was so great that he pulled the trigger when several feet from the window.

UNION SERVICE HELD

The Elliot and Highland Congregational and the Grace Universalist churches united their services yesterday morning and the three congregations gathered in goodly numbers at the Elliot church. Rev. R. A. Greene, D. D., pastor of the Grace Universalist church, conducted the services and preached a sermon. The Elliot church choir furnished the music.

ONE OF THE HOTTEST

Yesterday Was a Roaster; Today Almost as Bad

Hot, isn't it? It's absolutely safe to write that but it isn't safe to spring it in the street. Some men carry bricks for the fellow who says "hot, isn't it?"

The heat, however, is a legitimate subject to write about or to talk about and to crab the heat talk would be to muzzle the press. Some people contend that they never feel uncomfortable until somebody tells them that it's ninety in the shade. That may be so but we've stopped talking about the heat just on their account. They are in the minority and the majority rules. It was some hot in Lowell yesterday—ditto today. The mercury was putting it up to Barney Oldfield for a new record yesterday morning and at noon time the glasses in Merrimack square said 94. That was going some, but at 3 o'clock it was 97. At six o'clock it had dropped back to 83 and then it was hotter than—well—say it yourself.

Besides the soaring of the mercury there was an extremely high range of humidity, which caused humanity to sweat. It was hot moving about, and it was hot sitting still; it was hot trying to sleep and it was hot trying to keep awake. Altogether 100,000-odd population wished itself in a cooler climate.

At the seashore it was fine and dandy but going and coming was the rub. The cars were crowded and every place one entered seemed like a furnace. The fellow who remained at home and lounged about with a little on as the law would allow was the wise guy. A glass of ice cold lemonade once in a while doesn't do any harm in hot weather, but the man who tries to cool off by using alcoholic beverages is simply trying to make it hotter for himself.

It was 90 in Merrimack square at 10 o'clock this forenoon; at the pumping station in Centralville it was 93 and 88 at the boulevard. Any place there was an argument it was over 100, but arguments were scarce.

The weather man isn't promising us any relief and the chances are that we will have to grin and bear it for another week or two. It is up to us to pursue the even tenor of our way and to pull through with as little exertion as possible.

toward the north the light could not be better and the 236 rifle and revolver targets all arranged so that a common firing point was used. It is an equipment unequalled and scarcely approached by any other range in the United States.

NEW YORK, July 25.—Prosecutor of the Pless Garven of Hudson county has asked Senator Joseph S. Frélinghuysen, head of the New Jersey school probers, to send him a copy of the testimony taken by the committee in its inquiry into school affairs in the county. The probers want the testimony for use in an investigation to be conducted by the grand jury.

Former Representative Eugene W. Leake, counsel to John Daly, the constable whom John P. Murray, counsel to the committee, would like to quiz concerning his real estate transactions engineered by Rudolph and Deeds John J. McMahon, former custodian of school moneys in North Bergen, bearing on his sale of a school site to the township, issued a statement yesterday in which he declared that if Daly appears before the committee he will "politely inform" that any profits which he made out of the sale of lands to the North Bergen township for public school property is none of its business. Mr. Leake said that the legislature has no right to conduct an investigation which involves the private affairs of the individual. He held that if a crime has been committed, the grand jury is to investigate, but he insisted that there has been no crime or dishonesty.

The party on the Mt. Holly wharf is said to have included several boys and girls from Washington, a Mr. Yeatling of Colonial Beach and several young folks from the Mt. Holly neighborhood.

Walters said that his brother and companion, Dinger, who is also 16 years of age, had been engaged in target practice. Bennie Smith loaded his rifle and placed it against a nearby tree. About this time a launch came up containing a boy and girl acquaintance of the young man, and a merry throng was soon singing about the wharf. Bennie was romping about with an unnamed little girl of about 10 years when a shot was heard and Bennie fell, mortally wounded in the temple.

As soon as the older heads began to make inquiries as to the shooting no one could be found who would admit having touched the loaded gun. The boy died a few hours later at the Mt. Holly hotel.

AT CAMP PERRY
RIFLEMEN WILL ENGAGE IN PRACTICE AUG. 8

WASHINGTON, July 25.—Beginning August 8, Camp Perry, Ohio, will be the center of interest for all American riflemen. Commencing that day and for eighteen days thereafter there will be the greatest series of rifle and revolver matches ever held in this country. Three organizations combine their matches to make the meeting a great success. They are the National board for promotion of rifle practice, the National rifle association, and the Ohio State rifle association. The state of Ohio supplies the range and the government gives a large sum of money for prizes in the national match, and a large number of gold, silver and bronze medals and also furnishes the officers and men to run off the National Board and National Rifle Association matches.

The national guard of each state and territory is entitled to send a team whose expenses are charged up to the money appropriated by congress for rifle practice in that state and territory and almost every shot who opens a rifle which has a national guard is represented at the matches. In addition there are a large number of individual shots who attend at their own expense and compete for the rich prizes in the individual matches. Among the leading shots who will take part are the National Team, the National Individual and the National Pistol matches which are distinctly governmental matches, the first being confined in teams of twelve men and the second and third being open to any one who revolvers who wish to compete. Other great matches are the Herrick cup; Catrow cup; Adjutant's general cup; Governor's; Wimbledon and Leech cups, marine corps; President's; Evans Skirmish; Hall, Peters' Individual Skirmish, Du Pont, Individual Tyro and the team and individual matches for the police forces of the various cities.

Competitors are supplied with their tents and cots and mattresses free of charge but are expected to furnish their own blankets. Meals are supplied to the members of the state teams without cost and to other individuals at fifty cents each.

Camp Perry is located on the south shore of Lake Erie, 29 miles east of Toledo and 18 miles west of Sandusky, being thus within reach of such popular resorts as Cedar Point and Put-in-Bay. It is an ideal camp ground, thoroughly drained and supplied with filtered water. The shooting being

Sworn to by John H. Harrington, proprietor, Martin H. Reidy, business manager, and Alfred Pilotte, pressman, of The Sun, before me, January 1, 1910. J. JOSEPH HENNESSY, Notary Public.

This is by far the largest average circulation of any newspaper in Lowell.

It seems that the work of the bug chasers is bound to increase.

It would be better if everybody would fall in line for the auto races. The objectors stand in the way of the public good.

President Taft says everybody should have three months' vacation. He will confer a great favor if he revises the statement downward and tell us how everybody can get three weeks or even three days.

MAYOR WHITE'S RESIGNATION

Mayor White has resigned. That, we believe, was the wisest thing he could do. His friends hope that his action in this respect may have some influence with the courts in granting him a new trial or else in some way mitigating his sentence.

THE AMES FLYING MACHINE

The people of Massachusetts will watch with considerable interest the progress made by Congressman Ames in his invention of a flying machine. Should he be successful and make a few flights around the state, he would certainly compel a great many of the Lodge shouters to look up to him. It might elect him.

MINORS MUST HAVE HEALTH CERTIFICATES

That is a good law which compels minors going to work to have certificates of health. Formerly they were obliged to have only certificates of age, and these the employers were unable to controvert. Most employers, however, can distinguish between a good healthy minor and one in poor health.

HEAT BRINGS SPEED MADNESS

It seems that on warm Sundays the chauffeurs lapse into speed madness. The result is that every Sunday brings a number of deaths and nearly as many smashed autos. Two weeks ago yesterday the New England record in this respect was quite appalling. The results should be a warning for others, but it seems some people are unwilling to learn in this way.

THE CONCORD RIVER

The sewer department might be requested to look into the condition of the Concord river about the Rogers street bridge with a view to ascertaining what is necessary to put the river at that point in a sanitary condition. It would be well also to ascertain where all the filth and rubbish comes from that is at the present time choking the river and causing it to grow over with grass and weeds. The city cannot tolerate that condition much longer.

THE BUREAU OF MINES

The law establishing a new bureau of mines went into effect this month, and the bureau is now at work looking into the causes of accidents with a view to adopting preventive measures. There is no doubt whatever that there is great need for such a movement. A Bureau of Mines can accomplish a great deal of good by more rigorous inspection, by stricter regulations and by insisting that the miners shall be properly protected while at work. It will be the function of the bureau also to pass upon the quality of explosives used in coal mining as these are sometimes responsible for disasters. The vast number of miners killed in our American mines reflects upon the vigilance of our officials. In no other country are the mining fatalities nearly so great as in this. The reason is that the operatives think only of production and do not take sufficient precaution against accidents.

THE PUBLIC BATH QUESTION

Many parents have become so much afraid of their boys going alone to river or canal to bathe that they appointed certain times, usually Sundays, when the boys will be taken under the guardianship of the father or somebody else to a place where they can go in bathing without danger. The places resorted to for this purpose are Beaver brook, Silver lake, Crystal lake and Lake Massawippi. It takes time to reach some of these places but any father would rather take his boys where they can have an opportunity to go in bathing with safety than let them run the risk of getting drowned by going alone.

This is but another illustration of the need of public baths, a need that seems to be but little realized by the members of our city council. The people who want public baths should put the question to the candidates who ask their support at the approach of city election. If the voters decided not to elect anybody who would not favor public baths this public necessity might be provided within a single year.

THE DOWN RIVER BOULEVARD

The Board of Trade proposition to reserve the land between the new state highway and the river free for scenic purposes is one that should be favored all along the line. The strip of land will not be very wide at any point and the property owners can afford to give this land in return for the far greater benefits from the highway. The people who own automobiles are anxious to see the highway completed as soon as possible for the reason that the present road between Lowell and Lawrence on the north side of the river is one of the worst in the state. The state highway from Lawrence to Newburyport is very inviting to the autoists, but when they come to the section between Lawrence and Lowell they are disgusted and turn in some other direction unless they are obliged to pass. According to the plan of the Board of Trade the new state highway would in all respects resemble our boulevard, thus affording an unobstructed view of the beautiful scenery on both sides of the river.

SEEN AND HEARD

A few samples of favorite fiction: "Money cheerfully refunded if goods are not satisfactory." "Teeth extracted without pain." "If the waiter is insolent or neglectful we will esteem it a favor if you will report him at the office." "Yes, we're distinctly related to an English nobleman, but we seldom speak of it." "Strange I can't call your name! I know it just as well as I do my own." "Don't mention it I do boy; glad to accommodate you." "No, I never use it except for medicinal purposes." "No, indeed, Mrs. Hicks; you haven't kept us waiting one minute." "You're too clever for a town like this; why don't you reach out to a bigger city?" "I wish you had come along; the trip was not complete without you." "There's a name other than fiction for this kind of stuff."

'Tis Ames' aim to dislodge Lodge.

Don't look down on the man who takes every occasion to tell you that his ancestors came over in the Mayflower. He may be a good man, for all that.

The greatest philanthropists in the world must be the promoters at mining enterprises, who advertise to everybody the opportunity to get ten dollars for one out of their stock, when they might just as well keep it for themselves.—Somerville Journal.

A young woman paced up and down in the telegraph office, waiting for a message. She had been waiting for a long time. Finally a young man came to the window, called the young woman and handed to her a piece of paper which she hastily read and, with a sigh of satisfaction, pushed into her bag and left the office.

The clerk at the window smiled. "We have some funny ones," he said, "but this one just about reaches the limit for novelty ideas. This woman came to me with a post card which was addressed to her husband and upon which was written something in dots and dashes. She said that it came from a woman operator in a telegraph office, and that, while she knew the woman, the dots and dashes were too much for her and she thought there was something up."

"I made the translation, and here is what I read: 'Please forget what I said Saturday for I would not have you changed in any way, as I love every inch of you, my dear!'"

"Well, I'd hate to express my opinion, but I would give half of my month's pay to see what happens when 'while meets hubby' with the translated postal card!"

THE BABY

He has his father's Roman nose. He has his mother's wondrous eyes. His hair—well, I suppose—suggests his grand-dad's pate so wise; He has no teeth, but on the whole there's lots of room to put them in; His mother's mother pays him well; By giving him her chin.

The dimple on his little cheek—O what a joyous thing it is! 'Tis over playing hide-and-seek, And shows what wealth of smiles his.

This dimple is his mother's—sure! It's a little hint of fun, 'Twas that, I think, was first to lure Us twain from two to one.

But whence hath come this fund of noise That he doth make at night and day? 'Tis louder than a troop of boys Let loose at recess time to play. It has a wild, wild sound, Mixed with a sort of churning hum; I fear me some old ancestor Was captain of a tum.

—John Kendrick Bangs, in the Christian Endeavor World.

"Every time I go shopping I thank heaven that I have a good business head," said the woman who boasts that her quick wit always saves her from financial loss. "A saleswoman came very near getting into trouble today over a belt I bought. The only thing that saved her was my business instinct. First I bought a belt for $1.25 and paid with a 3¢ coin. In handing me the paper and boxes that strewed the floor back of the counter and could not find it. Of course I could have held her accountable, but she looked so tired and worried that I hadn't the heart to do that, so how do you think we settled it?"

Her husband gave it up.

"Why," said she triumphantly, "I just exchanged my $1.25 belt for a dollar one and neither of us lost anything."

"Remarkable instinct, my dear," said the husband, and she smiled over his approval.

"By marrying a man whose name begins with X I have incurred one trouble that I had always expected to be spared," said the young woman. "I have made it impossible to buy ready-made initial handkerchiefs. Apparently manufacturers do not make handkerchiefs marked with the letter X. Often when I see a sale of initial handkerchiefs advertised I start downtown before breakfast hoping to snatch up any embroidered with my letter before the rest of the lot arrive, but my haste is pointless. Early or late the shoppers who need letter X handkerchiefs fare just the same, for they are not on the market."

"Since the exigencies of my own case have driven me to pawing over countless handkerchief counters, I have noticed several peculiarities about initial handkerchiefs. In any lot that has been dumped on the counter at a big sale the Ss, Ts, Ds and Bs outnumber any other letter two to one early in the morning, but at night they are scarce. All which indicates that persons whose names begin with those letters are right on the job at a bargain sale. G is a rare letter in initial handkerchiefs and Z and Y are almost as hard to find as X."

PEOPLE OF NOTE

Announcement is made that deserving young employees of Studebaker Brothers Manufacturing company, South Bend Ind., will be given university education by the company, and that while the young men are in school they will be allowed full pay. The company will keep a record system by which the efforts of young employees to better themselves mentally can be easily known, and when it is thought that an employee has made satisfactory development, tuition for one year in some university or technical school will be provided with a year's vacation on pay.

E. Phillips Oppenheim is coming to America, having recently resigned his directorship in the manufacturing business which his father established in Leicester. Mr. Oppenheim is no stranger to this country, for his wife is an American and her parents reside in Chicago. The Oppenheims have a home on the Norfolk coast of England named "Wimpisimmet."

George Harr McCutcheon, having completed work on his forthcoming novel, "The Rose in the Ring," has just started with Mrs. McCutcheon on a six weeks' automobile trip through New England. They will end their tour at Kennebunkport, Me., where they will spend the rest of the summer near Mr. and Mrs. Booth Tarkington.

All Chicago public school principals hereafter will be drawn from the ranks of college graduates. The teacher who cherished an ambition to attain the position and salary of a principal will have to acquire a degree from an accredited college before becoming eligible to compete in the examinations for principals. Under the old rule qualifications consisted of eight years' teaching experience, or a college degree and four years' experience, or a normal school certificate and six years' experience. Now a candidate must be a graduate from an accredited college and have four years' successful experience in graded schools.

Frank E. Briggs, principal of the Littleton High school, has accepted an offer of a similar position in Bar Harbor, Me. He is to return to his native state, where he was born in Paris, June 30, 1869. Six years later his parents moved to Mechanics Falls, in that state, where he lived for 19 years, with the exception of three years, from 1881 to 1887, when he lived in Bradford, Mass., and there one year attended the high school. He attended the grammar and high schools of Mechanics Falls, and from the latter was graduated in 1888, and a year later was graduated from the Edward Little high school of Auburn, Me. He then went to Bowdoin college, from which he was graduated in 1891. He is a member of the Alpha Delta Phi and Phi Delta Kappa fraternities. In his school experience he has been principal of academies in Lincoln, Blagden and Cor. Me., and high schools in Nantucket, Lancaster and Littleton, to which will be added his labors in Bar Harbor.

William H. Wilson, son of the late Congressman William L. Wilson, author of the famous Wilson tariff bill is a candidate for the democratic nomination for congress in the second district of West Virginia. The district is the same as was represented by the elder Wilson for twelve years.

Gary, Ind., built by the United States Steel company, has relieved the end of advertisement, but it is not generally known that a somewhat similar undertaking of city building is now being carried forward in Alabama, near Birmingham, where a new city to be called Corey is in course of construction. It has been laid out by landscape artists, and nearly a thousand men, with steam shovels, traction engines and hundreds of teams, are at work grading the property, laying miles upon miles of street pavements, curbs, gutters, water mains, gas mains, etc. Corey is to be a central point at which raw material can be assembled most cheaply. Coal mines are but a mile from the center of the city; limestone and only three miles away; the fluxing material for making pig iron are only a mile away, and there is an abundant water supply within a convenient radius. But while the plan for the new city indicates a regard for details of all sorts so that it will be ready to start with a vision for schools, churches, etc., it is designed for the present at least on a smaller scale than Gary. It is reported that Corey will be complete within the next three or four months. A consideration of the possibilities of southern development appear will be offered by the Panama canal seems to have entered into the steel company's plans for the construction of this new southern city.

THEATRE VOYONS

Today's feature picture at the Theatre Voyons is a magnificent production of Maseppa, a well known drama, but one that has not been played in Lowell for a long time. It is founded on historical incidents in Polish history and has been the play in which many actors have become famous. It requires a wealth of costumes and stage properties, and is as elaborate as that required for the ordinary drama and its story is a genuine thriller. Every scene calls for the best of acting and the Selig company, its makers, have really made a praiseworthy production of it. There are several other excellent pictures on the bill and the musical features will meet with approval. The feature picture will be talked on by Herbert Leroy, one of the most pleasing dramatic talkers ever heard in Lowell, and the whole program will be well worth while.

LAKEVIEW THEATRE

"The Outlaw's Sweetheart" is the title of the play selected for presentation this week at Lakeview theatre. It is a play that has been played by many of the leading western stock companies and has always given entire satisfaction, and there seems to be no reason why it should not do the same this week, since new and elaborate scenery will be used, together with the full strength of the company, including James Thatcher, Jack Rowe, Don Johnson, Don Harold, Robert Lee, Florence Parr, Francis Williams, Alvin Merrill, Mrs. Harold and others. It is a play full of thrilling incidents with a novel love story and a light vein of comedy all the way through it, and like many dramas of its kind there is a quality to this one difficult to define, yet pleasing, apparently, to everyone who sees it. It is a story that lends itself acceptably to dramatic action, allowing opportunity for picturesque stage settings, and is one that should be popular this week, since the ticket prices are 2.50 and 5.00. Matinees every day except Monday.

Miss Smith denies that anything other than "puppy love" was expressed in her letters.

NAPOLEON RIVET

Will Probably Be Executed Tomorrow Morning

If the custom established by Warden B. F. Bridges of the State prison in the execution of prisoners condemned to death is followed, Napoleon Rivet will pay the penalty for the murder of Joseph J. Galloux at Lowell, Feb. 27, 1908, some time between midnight and 1 a. m. Tuesday morning.

The condemned man spent Sunday in his cell in the death house in despair, and his spiritual adviser, Rev. Augustine D. Malley, the Catholic chaplain of the State prison, to whom Rivet will make his last confession before going to the chair, was a frequent visitor to the cell occupied by Rivet since then he ate fairly well the food he asked for and which was served him.

Rivet's father, mother and sister, who arrived from Quebec, Can., Saturday and visited their son that day at the prison to bid him their last farewell, will claim the body after the electrocution and will have the remains removed to the family lot for burial.

Rivet met his relatives at the death house Saturday with a smile, and assured them of his confidence that the governor would commute the sentence before night. He was calm and self-possessed and made no direct reference to the crime of which he was convicted.

Rivet's relatives occupied chairs outside the cell and then conversed with their son in French for an hour. When the time for parting came Mrs. Rivet broke down after she walked away several feet and it was 10 minutes before she recovered. She was not allowed to kiss her son. The mother turned around and with her daughter threw kisses to Rivet as they went down the corridor.

On account of an attempt to smuggle poison to prisoners condemned to die the authorities are strict about letting anyone touch the doomed men. The electrocution will be witnessed by about eight officials, namely: Medical Examiner Geo. B. Maynard, Surgeon Charles C. Foster or his appointed representative, Dr. Joseph I. McLaughlin, the prison physician; Warden B. F. Bridges, Deputy Warden Nathan D. Allen, William C. Hill of the Associated Press, Rev. Augustine D. Malley, the Catholic chaplain of the prison, who will accompany Rivet to the chair, and Sheriff John R. Fairbairn of the East Cambridge jail.

OUTPUT OF DIAMOND MINE

Chambers Journal says: It has been affirmed (whether truthfully or not must remain an open question, that prior to the opening up of the Kimberly mines in South Africa, a bushel measure would have held the world's supply of gems under reference which had been won.

Since 1870 the deficiency has been remarkably well made up, for during the eighteen years between that date and 1889 some 46,000,000 of carats—approximately, for no estimate of diamonds were won in Kimberly and surrounding districts having the statistical value of $250,000,000. A trifling effort in arithmetic will enable the enquirer to think of diamonds in tons. When we have become able to grasp this fact the question which naturally must come to the mind is, "What are the chances of them?" With all this amazing weight in diamonds our minds are not relieved by the fact that production is still going on at an increased rate.

In Bechuanaland, or that part of it known as the Kalahari desert, are undeveloped resources. There are prospectors now in England who have for years past known of diamondiferous areas in and about the dead rivers Oh and Nosob. In the low, dry channels of these old time rivers much of promise exists, though the country they traverse was an extensive region for drought. Both the Oh and Nosob in past ages must have been far nobler streams than any now existent in South Africa, possibly of a magnitude which would have enabled them to bear on their broad bosoms vessels of exceedingly deep draught.

In the event of their rich deposits being exploited to what use, we wonder, would the plethora of diamonds be put? There must be a world of wealth in the cellars of the various banks as represented by even the present surplusage. Diamonds are said to possess a standard value such as gold has, nor is it to be thought that the huge proportion of the world's wealth represented by crown and family jewels will ever become intrinsically endangered. Perhaps it is this latter view of the matter which keeps heart in those who traffic in these and other gems.

The government of Australia has so far spent $23,500,000 on works to supply water for irrigation, domestic and stock purposes. Of this $12,500,000 has been expended on irrigation works which command 1,100,000 acres and which now supply water for 350,000 acres. More reservoirs are needed for the surplus water sufficient to supply 250,000 acres. Settlers are also required to utilize it.

The coast line of China, about 2500 miles, gives about one mile of coast for every 500 miles of area.

A LAUNCH WRECKED 6TH REGIMENT CAMP

Five Persons Were Burned In Capt. Greig of Co. K Was Officer Of the Day

BOSTON, July 25.—A 22-foot gasoline launch used by Italian fishermen was wrecked at 4.30 yesterday morning while it was starting from the Eastern Point wharf, Atlantic avenue. The gasoline tank which furnished the power exploded. Five men in the boat were hurled into the water. The men, all of whom were burned and otherwise injured, were: Salvatore Carcia, 38 years old, burns on the hands; Salvatore Carcia, 38, burns on the face and left wrist; Manuel Matilez, 33, burns on the hands; Carmello Carcia, 40, burns on both hands; Giuseppe Labina, 35, burns and contusions.

The men were treated at the relief hospital as out patients and then went home. The first three walked to the hospital with Patrolman McManus of division 1, who heard the explosion. The latter was carried to the relief hospital in the police ambulance.

All the men are relatives and live at 282 North street. They are fishermen. Yesterday morning they were starting out in the launch for bait.

The boat used is clams, which they got at low tide in the mud flats of the Mystic river and off the East Boston and South Boston shores. The tide was about half ebb when the party got ready to leave the wharf. It is stated that the gasoline tank in the boat leaked some. A fact that was noticed by Samuel Carcia, owner of the boat. He applied the spark which starts the machinery. Instead of doing that the spark struck the leak from the gasoline tank and the result was the explosion.

Patrolman McManus ran down the wharf and found the entire party on the launch had been thrown into the water. The launch Standard, which supplies gasoline to the Italian fishermen at the dock, happened to be near at hand. The men who were thrown in jumped into the water swim to the Standard and were assisted on board.

McManus hurried to the nearest patrol box and notified station 1, asking that the fireboat be summoned and that the ambulance be sent to carry the injured men to the hospital. The fireboat from East Boston was dispatched to the scene and quickly put out the fire on the launch, which was so badly damaged by the explosion that it sank in the dock.

When the ambulance arrived Carmello Carcia and Labina were put in it and sent to the hospital. McManus walked with the three others to the hospital in Haymarket square. The damage to the boat was placed at $75.

STRUCK BY AUTO

Man Was Killed and Woman Was Injured

BOSTON, July 25.—One man was killed and a woman severely injured yesterday afternoon at Mattapan square by being run over by an automobile as they stepped from a Brookline car which had just pulled into the square.

The victims were Orrin Whitten, aged 62, married, a prominent resident of Avon, and Mrs. Annie H. Tucker, 60, of 241 Elm street, West Somerville. The automobile which ran into them was owned and operated by George H. Toothaker of 379 Washington street, Dedham.

As the car from Brookline came into Mattapan square at 3.10 in the afternoon Mr. Whitten and Mrs. Tucker were among the first to alight. Just as Mr. Whitten started across the street toward the sidewalk the automobile came around the rear end of the car coming from Milton and turning into River street on the way to Hyde Park.

The automobile was traveling slowly, according to witnesses, and the horn was sounded, but Mr. Whitten was unable to dodge the heavy machine. Mr. Toothaker did what he could to steer away from the old man, but one of the fenders struck him, throwing him under the front wheels and machinery. In turning aside to avoid hitting him, Mr. Toothaker ran into Mrs. Tucker, throwing her to the ground.

The machine was brought to an instant stop, directly upon Mr. Whitten, who was unconscious. It took the combined efforts of several men to lift the heavy machine enough so that the man could be extricated.

Dr. Aubrey J. Collins of 1649 Blue Hill avenue, the nearest physician, was at once hurried to the scene and he did what he could for the victims of the accident. Mr. Whitten, being in the meantime taken into Fallon's drug store close by and Mrs. Tucker into the entrance to Oakland hall.

The physician ordered Mr. Whitten taken to the City hospital. Here it was found that he was suffering from a fracture of the base of the skull and a broken spine. He died at 7.30 in the evening.

An examination of the injuries of Mrs. Tucker showed that she was hurt about the chest and had minor injuries. After treatment she was taken to her home in West Somerville in a carriage.

Mr. Whitten was a prominent resident of Avon and took an important part in town affairs, being in Grand Army circles a justice of the peace and bail commissioner.

LAWRENCE, July 25.—Weeds or herbs, which she found in the garden and ate, resulted in the death yesterday of Mary McCarthy, 6-year-old daughter of Joseph McCarthy, editor of a local newspaper.

SOUTH FRAMINGHAM, July 25.—

There has been a continual stream of visitors to the camp of the 6th Infantry, M. V. M. yesterday and fully 2000 persons were on the field to witness the two ceremonies. As usual, the fair sex predominated.

The morning hours were fairly busy, as there was considerable work to be done, and there was a school for both officers and non-commissioned officers, at which Lieut. Marshall, U. S. A., was instructor, and both were very interesting.

At 7.30 Chaplain William P. Dussault held divine service at headquarters, in which the band assisted, and later in the day nearly 150 men attended mass at Rev. Fr. Heffernan's church. The first ceremony of the day was the inspection and muster, and the regiment made a very fine appearance.

On account of the large number of men attending mass some of the companies were very weak, one company parading with only two squads. Maj. James H. Smyth, A. I. G., M. V. M., made an inspection of the men and accoutrements, while Lieut. Marshall, the U. S. A., inspector, examined the arms, which was a rather tedious undertaking, but as fast as he finished each company it was marched to quarters.

The heat during the ceremony was terrific, there was hardly a breath of air and the ordeal of standing so long was trying to both officers and men. The ceremony over, the men had a rest until evening parade, with the exception of those detailed for guard duty.

The guard was mounted by 1st Lieut. George M. Downes, battalion adjutant, who did a very good job. The two slight errors the ceremony was good. Corp. Churchill of Co. D made himself rather conspicuous by being the non-commissioned officer who knew his position and maintained it.

The ceremony of evening parade was a fine exhibition and was taken by Lieut. Col. Cyrus H. Cooke. The three battalions came on to the line in good shape and there was decidedly more snap put into the work than on the previous evening. The march past was well up to the standard.

The passage of the South Framingham company, under command of Capt. Sullivan, was loudly applauded by the assembly, which showed they were in the home of their friends, but the company fully deserved the plaudits. It paraded with full ranks, and the citizens have every reason to be proud of the soldiers.

At retreat when the flag came down and the band played the "Star Spangled Banner" it was noticeable that very few of the visitors recognized the ceremony by the removal of their hats.

More stringent orders should be issued with regard to men leaving their quarters in other than in the regulation uniform and more attention should be paid to military courtesy, which was one of the strong points brought out by Lieut. Marshall at the non-commissioned officers' school.

Among the guests yesterday was Brig. Gen. Henry Parsons, retired, M. V. M., an old commander of the regiment, and he received a warm welcome. Among other military men who were in camp were Maj. Phineas L. Rider and Lieut. Lewis M. McCullen, 2d Infantry; Maj. Charles F. Nostrom, retired, M. V. M.; Maj. Ernest R. Springer, retired, M. V. M.; Maj. William J. Williams, retired, M. V. M.; Capt. James A. Cully, 9th Infantry, M. V. M.; Capt. John H. Whittier, C. A. G., M. V. M.; Lieut. John H. Smith, M. V. M., and Capt. Hilliker, 8th Infantry, M. V. M.

Several autos came down from Framingham, filled with the friends of Capt. McDowell of Co. D, and who really entertained them.

The officer of the day was Capt. James H. Smith, 1st Infantry, and 1st Lieut. Francis J. Gennaway of Co. E was officer of the guard. The strength of the regiment yesterday was 55 officers and 712 men.

A committee headed by Capt. Gardner W. Pearson is working out a program for a big athletic tournament in which sparring and baseball will be features.

THE WHEAT TRADE BLOWN TO DEATH

Believes That Worst Man Was Killed by Dynamite

CHICAGO, July 25.—The wheat trade now believes that the worst has already been heard regarding the spring wheat crop of North America.

Rains last week checked the backward tendency that was universally conceded for the spring wheat crop in a good part of the northwest on both sides of the international line. Harvest is now getting rapidly under way this side of the line, and it may soon be followed by a revision of market values in that section.

Meanwhile the trade here is waiting for the first big run of new winter wheat. It is starting a little later than last year, but promises to be considerably better in quality. Upon the extent and continuance of this run very largely depends the course of the market for the year.

If arrivals are large enough to pile up a surplus at centers of accumulation it may mean a hard fight for buyers in higher prices. If the run is small or of short duration, the bear is likely to have to go into retirement again.

There are problems ahead of the present crop that have never before been considered. There is no foreign outlet, while the domestic market is just recovering from the effects of reckless overloading. The crop, if statistics are of value, appears to be adjusted to about normal home needs, with a modest margin for export.

In view of his recent season, the domestic miller will probably pursue a hand-to-mouth policy, while the merchant that the first run of new crop wheat will have to be carried by the speculator. Will he take the property at current levels, or will he wait for the seller to make lower ones?

As far as the winter wheat is concerned, the quality is exceptionally good and merits well of the investor. The quality of the spring wheat is a matter of doubt. Samples thus far shown are of fine quality, but shriveled wheat may be in evidence as the harvest progresses.

Prospects are that the crop to be harvested in the next part of the present calendar year will come from a larger acreage in Europe, although drought has been retarding seedlings and growth in sections. In any event, unless there are more serious crop losses in Europe than have yet been recorded, there is no cause for anxiety during the present crop year on the part of the importing countries. Supplies promise to be more than ample.

HALL SENTENCED AGAIN AT PORTSMOUTH NAVY YARD

PORTSMOUTH, N. H., July 25.—James Hall, the naval convict who in March created a sensation by his confession of the murder of Anna Schumacher at Rochester, N. Y., and who was turned over to the civil authorities of Minnesota county, only to have them find out that Hall's confession was bogus and only a subterfuge to get away from the navy, has just been subjected to his third naval court-martial.

He receives a sentence of five years on a charge of assault on Chief Master-at-Arms Mayes of the prison ship Southern and he now has combined sentences of 16 years to serve. He had previously received a confinement sentence for attempting to escape from the prison ship by the false story told relative to the murder.

Owing to the long imprisonment that stares Hall in the face, he will be transferred from the prison ship to the naval prison on Stony Island, where the most dangerous and troublesome of the naval convicts are confined.

By many, Hall is thought to be insane as since he has been returned to the prison ship he maintains that he committed the crime at Rochester, N. Y., as well as other misdeeds.

FRANKLIN, N. H., July 25.—Daniel McDonald of North Wilmont was blown to pieces by dynamite yesterday at Andover. He was visiting Henry Kennison, who was digging a well on his place. A hole had been drilled in the wall, and Mr. Kennison intended to use the dynamite Monday, but McDonald suggested that an attempt be made to blast the rock yesterday afternoon.

The fuse was lighted, but when it looked as if the fuse was not burning the unfortunate man stepped over the charge and attempted to light it. The charge exploded and rightfully mangled his body and limbs.

AFTER PREACHING

PASTOR SERVED ICE CREAM TO HIS CONGREGATION

MIDDLETON, Conn., July 25.—With the temperature standing at 93 degrees in the shade, Rev. George B. Gilbert, an Episcopal clergyman of this city, invited his congregation at Middletown, a suburb of this city, to remain after the services yesterday and enjoy a dish of ice cream with him.

Maromas is a farming community and as many of those who attend the church services are compelled to travel long distances, Pastor Gilbert said he thought they deserved some reward for their faithfulness, in addition to the pleasure to be derived from the service.

The cream was some Mr. Gilbert made himself and while many of his brother clergymen in this city voted against the plan, Pastor Gilbert said he thought they deserved some reward for their faithfulness, in addition to the pleasure to be derived from the service.

The cream was some Mr. Gilbert made himself and while many of his brother clergymen in this city voted against the plan, Pastor Gilbert said he thought they deserved some reward for their faithfulness, in addition to the pleasure to be derived from the service.

All who attended the service accepted the invitation to remain with the pastor and his wife. The parishioners all seemed well pleased with the treat and Mr. Gilbert was heartily commended for his thoughtfulness. A number of the wardens of the church and their wives assisted the pastor in washing the dishes after the rest of the congregation had gone home.

CARDINAL GIBBONS

Young Men to Render Loyal Public Service

WESTMINSTER, Md., July 25.—Cardinal Gibbons, who passed his 77th birthday Saturday at the Westminster home of B. F. Shriver, took occasion to urge young men to give loyal public service, saying that in serving the country they will be serving God. He also spoke at length on the evils of divorce.

"Your Eminence," he was asked, "do you not think that this would be an appropriate occasion to send a message to the young men of the nation?" The cardinal was silent a moment, then said: "Perhaps it is. Pause so that the subject may be an appropriate one. I would tell the young men of these United States to love their country and cherish its greatness. I bespeak this with the same earnestness as I bespeak love and fear of God."

"Let more young men of education and virtuous ideals give themselves to the public service, and the country will be a better place. The present evils of government must be eliminated. In serving your country you are serving God. I have preached this and written it again and again."

"The better class of our citizens so often stand aloof from practical politics and the conduct of campaigns. One result of universal suffrage is that elections very frequently turn upon the votes of that large class made up by the rougher and baser sort. As I have written in 'Our Christian Heritage,' to influence and organize this vote is the 'dirty work' of politics."

Antagonism for Divorce
In expressing his antagonism toward divorce, the cardinal said:
"Divorce is a cancer which is eating into the very vitals of our life. Society—our civilization—rests upon the sanctity of the home and the unity of the family. When you attack the family you attack government itself. And government to protect and perpetuate itself must expunge from its statutes the original divorce laws, which the best of life abhor."

"I pray for the time when men and women may be persuaded to understand the seriousness of marriage. Regardless of religious convictions, they should understand when they marry that they are entering into a contract which is not of a day or a month, but of a lifetime. They should know that they must bear and forbear. The husband cannot pull one way and the wife another. They must pull in the traces together."

"Ponder," said he, "the helpless little children of the homes destroyed by divorce. Instead of loving their hearts and lives, hatred is sown there. The father goes one way and the mother the other, never to meet again."

"The children are left without an anchorage. They know not to whom to appeal for affection. They turn to the father to learn that he hates their mother. They turn to the mother to learn and have it seared in their minds and hearts that she hates their father. Their lives are blighted in the bud."

"How can we expect them to become men? Into true and tender men and women? How can we expect them to do anything else with their lives than what their parents have done?"

Children Have No Chance
"Ah, these children of divorced parents! They are the bitter sorrow of my life. They are given no chance, and I say woe unto them who are responsible!"

"The ease with which divorces may be obtained in some of our states is nothing less than a crime. One of the favorite grounds of these days is what is called 'incompatibility of temper.' A wife may burn a pan of biscuits. The husband chides her. Miserable little blinding words fly from their tongues. There is never a thought of forbearance on the part of either."

"There is never a thought of the children. Only the selfish pride of the parents is considered, and presently there is an action brought for divorce. 'Incompatibility of temper! Bah! I say to the laws which permit such things. The affront God and everyone who fears him.'"

The cardinal was asked whether or not he felt any infirmities of age. "I feel," said he, "as capable as I did 30 years ago. Thank God. I have premonitions at times that my joints are stiff, but I shake them off. I am as energetic as I was 20 years ago."

"And there is no reason why I should not live as long as I have always lived most abundantly."

"But, you see, I have had to live quietly and regularly. My stomach has never been very strong, and so has compelled me to be careful. Even in this one may see how wondrously God moves to perform his works, and I am the man I was 20 years ago."

"I am content, happy. It is much to be given to any mortal to be able to say that. If it were given to me to live all of these 75 years again, I should not wish them different. I should be a priest. The calling of a priest is a difficult one, but there is sublime happiness in the dedication of one's self to service."

BRUSH BLAZE

A Lively Fire at Willow Dale Yesterday Afternoon

Frank "Pinkie" McOsker, of this city, proved himself a hero as a fire fighter at Willow Dale yesterday when a lively brush fire broke out during the afternoon in the rear of the residence of John Bowers and burned over a couple of acres before "Pinkie" acting as chief of the fire department succeeded in succumbing the flames.

"Pinkie" and his friend and co-laborer "Mike" McKeown were enjoying the beauties of nature in the vicinity of Willow Dale when they saw John Bowers hot-footing from the grove toward his house crying "Fire!" at the top of his voice. "Pinkie" and his friend hot-footed after John and upon arriving on the scene found a lively blaze in progress. It seems that a party of foreigners had been plucking in the woods and probably carelessly dropped a cigarette or a match on the dry brush. In an instant a hot fire was in progress, so hot in fact, that it made most of the fire fighters sick but they stayed at it, particularly "Pinkie" who was never known to quit. Mr. Bowers sent word to Tyngsboro for help but Chief Ben Lawrence of the fire department was sick in bed and couldn't respond, so he sent a substitute and some volunteers. When they arrived, however, "Pinkie" with a aid of the Bowers brothers and some of the cottagers had the blaze under control and it did not get to any of the buildings though it looked dangerous for a short time. In the heat of the excitement and fire "Pinkie" remarked to his friend McKeown: "Gee, if I was getting paid for this job, I'd tell the boss to keep it, but as I ain't getting paid I suppose I can't kick me."

The fire burned for about an hour, consuming considerable brush. This is not the first fire that has been started in the vicinity of Willow Dale by careless people who through the inviting place for a day's outing.

SWIM TO CONEY

Ended In a Landed Marathon

NEW YORK, July 25.—The eighth annual Battery to Coney Island swimming race, which started from the city's lower sea wall at 11:55 a. m. yesterday, wound up as a thrilling land as well as sea Marathon into yesterday afternoon.

Stopped by impassable cross-currents and high rolling waves at Norton's point, after they had covered twelve of the fourteen miles, the swimmers who had survived that far were taken ashore in boats which had followed them. Then, doubtful what to do, but seeing it the best thing to get to the finish point—the Majestic hotel, at the foot of Coney's Twentieth street—they set out afoot and spied with whatever strength they had left over the sands and streets.

Commodore Henry G. Mason of the United States Volunteer Life Saving Corps, under the auspices of which the race was conducted, declared it "no contest" and announced that it will be started again three or four Sundays from now. A special medal will be given to every man who reached the barrier of currents at Norton's point. Sixteen of the racers "finished." First honors went to Clifford H. Benedict, of the Roton Point division of life savers, located at South Norwalk, Conn. Next came Arthur O'Neill, of No. 1671 Eighty-sixth street, Bath Beach. Philip Tattersall, of life saving division No. 2, stationed in Brooklyn, was a third.

Only three swimmers lined up at the Battery early in the morning. Each was provided with a certificate of honor from his doctor showing him to be in good physical condition. There was a lot of delay about securing rowboats and attendants to accompany the racers, but finally 20 great various types were manned with strong-armed watermen, and just before noon the pistol crack sent the thirty-one overboard with a splash.

By the time Governor's Island was reached the speedy starters began to "come back" to the group. First of the "backers" was a man named "Red" who was a contestant for the front. Half a dozen found that the choppy bay and the strong currents were too much for them.

Well up toward the front were Benedict and O'Neill, who seemed to recognize each other as dangerous rivals.

It was after 4 o'clock when the leaders reached Norton's Point. Here they came to a stop. There was a strong easterly wind that drove high waves directly at them, and the current, swinging around toward the Bay, was dead against them. They were powerful strokes failed to carry them a foot past the point, and after a struggle of fifteen minutes or so their trainers begged them to give it up.

The way the men finished, after the first three who have been named was Henry Brown, fourth; William Harris, fifth; H. Farris, sixth; William O'Rrester, seventh; Thomas Cochran, eighth; Leonard Levy, ninth, and Joseph Cherubina, tenth.

RAIN IS NEEDED
FARMERS SAY CROPS ARE IN DANGER
BOSTON, July 25.—Begging the weather observer to prognosticate a downpour of rain, not a thunderstorm, but a drizzle which would continue for several days, farmers throughout New England declare that unless rain falls within the course of a few days crops will be ruined. Pasture lands are burned and the cattle are unable to find feed. Potatoes this fall and winter will be much higher than last year because of the drought and corn in dry fields has withered. The farmers declare that there has not been a dry spell for several years.

IN STOLEN BOAT

Harkness Made Thrilling Trip From Brooklyn to Boston

BOSTON, July 25.—Wilfred J. Harkness, 29 years old, a sailor, who claims to belong in San Francisco, is a prisoner at the harbor police station. He was arrested Saturday, charged with stealing the handsome yacht Frances from its moorings off Bensonhurst, Brooklyn, on June 27.

Capt. Edward Pease of the harbor police received a circular Saturday giving an account of the theft of the boat. An hour later the yacht had been located and Harkness was under arrest.

Harkness does not deny his guilt. He said yesterday that he took the yacht so that he could come to Boston, as there were more opportunities here to ship as a sailor than in New York. He had no money and he declared there was no other way of his getting here. He did not explain his action in changing the name of the boat by transposing two of the letters, making her name read Frances instead of Francis.

He had advertised the boat for sale in some of the Boston papers, and called to her mast when she was recovered by Sergt. Hird and Patrolmen McCarthy and Soutter was a "for sale" sign.

The Frances is 30 feet 6 inches long and 10 feet beam. She is splendidly equipped and is valued at about $1500. She is owned by S. Wickes of the Bensonhurst yacht club, Brooklyn.

Harkness had a thrilling time during the trip around from New York. He came by way of Sandy Hook and twice he was nearly drowned. When off Shinnecock the yacht ran into a furious gale and Harkness had to put over the boat and go astern to reef the sail on account of the long boom. While he was engaged in this work the boat capsized and he was two hours struggling in the water before he could get back to the yacht. In the meantime he had divested himself of his clothes and shoes. Then the Frances was struck by another storm which nearly overwhelmed her. Harkness reached here several days ago but it was not until a circular was received Saturday that the harbor police knew of the theft.

The police patrol Watchman towed the yacht from Mystic wharf to Constitution wharf, where it is now held awaiting the arrival of the owner, who is expected today.

Harkness will be arraigned in the East Boston court today. It is uncertain whether he will be prosecuted here or turned over to the New York police. He can be prosecuted in either city.

STRIKE LEADERS

Say Inexperienced Trainmen Are to Blame for Wrecks

MONTREAL, July 25.—One solution of the Grand Trunk railroad strike is now in sight according to the company's officers. It is presented in the message yesterday by President Hays to Alben K. King, minister of labor, asking adequate protection of the company's property and of its employees, especially those who have taken the places of strikers. "While we were desirous of arbitration," said President Hays, "time for such action has passed." The strike leaders on the other hand expressed confidence in the steadfastness of their ranks now that Mr. King's last suggestion for further arbitration accepted by the men has been refused by the company. They still rely on a remedial freight paralysis.

The officials began the week with an ambitious program. It was announced that freight of all kinds would be accepted for immediate shipment. The shops which at various points closed a week ago, opened today. Practically all the ten thousand employees returned to their places.

Several minor wrecks alleged by railroad officials to be due to tampering with switches by meddling persons and declared by strike leaders to have been accidents resulting from handling of trains by inexperienced men have been called to the attention of the authorities. The local militia at Brockville which has been a storm center since said not to be doing satisfactory protective work. The city council is expected to request the government to send a detachment of regulars from Kingston.

DEAD ON ROAD

The Body of William Crossley Found at Tyngsboro

The body of William Crossley, a farm hand employed in Tyngsboro was found lying in the road just above Ferham's corner, in Tyngsboro by a Mr. Queen of that town yesterday forenoon.

The man had been dead for several hours and the appearance of the body pointed to death from natural causes. Crossley was last seen at Lakeview late Saturday night when he inquired the road to Nashua, being employed at a farm on the Hudson-Tyngsboro line. The body was removed to the establishment of J. F. O'Donnell & Sons, where it was later identified by the wife and brother of the deceased. Crossley was 42 years of age and is survived by his wife, two brothers, John and Thomas, and a sister, Mrs. Mary Wilkinson. The remains were taken to 57 Allen street, from which place the funeral will take place.

CAPTAIN SLOCUM

Master of Famous Sloop is Given Up as Lost

NEW BEDFORD, July 25.—Capt. Joshua Slocum, master of the famous sloop Spray and author of a book, "Sailing Alone Around the World," has been given up as lost by his wife.

Capt. Slocum sailed from Vineyard Haven for the West Indies more than a year and a half ago to escape the severity of the approaching winter and has not since been heard from. He sailed alone and was last seen by a passing steamship, which reported the sloop as making heavy weather. Capt. Slocum was 66, and he has made voyages to all the seas of the earth in the famous sloop.

Mrs. Slocum, his wife, is living at sailing. I am convinced the Spray was run down by a steamer at night. Capt. Ernest Dean of Chittenden, who cruised in the West Indies last winter, made inquiries everywhere but could not learn that Capt. Slocum reached the island.

Capt. Slocum was born in Nova Scotia and was a sailor all his days. He finally became a commander of vessels and was wrecked in the bark Aqueduct on the coast of Brazil. He built a sloop, the Liberdade, in which he cruised home and later exhibited his boat and curiosities at county fairs and along the coast.

He was given an old sloop abandoned at Fair Haven, Mass., and rebuilt her. She was 30 feet long and her timbers were largely green wood, apple tree trunks from an old orchard being used to quite an extent. Yet the vessel was stout and staunch, and after cruising along the coast he sailed from Yarmouth, N. S. on July 2, 1898, on a world cruise that lasted three years. For a long interval at that time he was given up as lost. Later he visited ports all along the coast, selling his books and curiosities.

In 1908 he brought home a piece of green coral weighing two tons. He purchased a farm at West Tisbury and undertook the culture of hops, with slight success.

Capt. Slocum has a wife and four children. One of his three sons, Victor J., is now on a whaling cruise. Another son is Benjamin A. of Lynn, and a third, James Garnett Slocum, lives in New York city. His only daughter is Mrs. Arthur Joyce of Attleboro.

PROF. SCHOULL

HAD TWO NARROW ESCAPES FROM DEATH

CHICAGO, July 25.—Prof. Walter Schoull, a Chicago aeronaut, had two narrow escapes from death yesterday in a balloon race at Aurora with Prof. William McKinney of Washington when the large gas bag made a sudden descent of 700 feet and landed in the Fox river. McKinney rose to a height of 200 feet and was declared the winner. Schoull's balloon careened off to an island.

THIRD STRUGGLE

For The Seawanhaka Cup

MANCHESTER, July 25.—Represented by two boats that are practically forty-foot racing canoes, the Royal St. Lawrence and Manchester Yacht clubs began their third struggle today for possession of the Seawanhaka cup and international trophy offered fifteen years ago to encourage small boat racing. Between the two clubs over the hour and a half race the Manchester yachtmen were beaten on Lake St. Louis in 1903 and brought the cup back from Canada in 1905. If some old Salem East Indian had attempted to race either the challenger St. Lawrence or the defender Manchester, the British attorney general, will conclude the case for Great Britain and United States Senator Elihu Root will close for the United States.

PITTSBURGH, July 25.—Amos and Cyrus Lapa, born together in Black Lick, Indiana Co., 39 years ago, are reunited for the first time. On account of the mother's death they were separated and lost trace of each other. A stranger who came upon Amos at work in Export, exclaimed, "Hello, Cy, what are you doing in Export?" "I'm here," Amos answered.

FOUR MORE DEAD

As a Result of the Heat

NEW YORK, July 25.—After its record rise to 97 degrees yesterday, marking the hottest day of the season, the official mercury hovered about or above the 90 degree mark all night, registering a minimum of 78 and at 8 o'clock this morning standing at 79, or two degrees above the figures for the same hour on Sunday. The prospects were for another sizzling day although something of a breeze from the southwest and a lesser percentage of humidity tended to alleviate conditions. Despite this prostration cases began to be reported early.

Reports from the Brooklyn hospitals this morning added four to the list of dead from the effects of the torrid wave.

FLORENCE ROCHE

Becomes Bride of Admiral Grinnell

BOSTON, July 25.—Japan's Yankee admiral, Hanyu W. Grinnell, was married today to Miss Florence Mary Roche, daughter of the late James Jeffrey Roche, the well known author, who ended his days in the United States consular service. The ceremony was performed in the Roman Catholic cathedral of the Holy Cross in the presence of relatives and a few friends.

Admiral Grinnell is 74 years of age and was an intimate friend of the late father of the bride. The bride is 25 years old. Admiral Grinnell served with Farragut at Mobile bay, and later was in the naval service of one of the South American republics. Still later he was adviser in the Japanese naval establishment previous to the China-Japanese war and for his services he was made a rear admiral in the Mikado's fleet.

KILLED HIMSELF

MAN DESPONDENT BECAUSE HE WAS OUT OF WORK

BOSTON, July 25.—Luke Mullen, 30, a lodger at 25 High street, Charlestown, committed suicide yesterday in the bathroom at his lodging house by inhaling illuminating gas. Mullen was found by Lester S. Fletcher, a lodger, who was obliged to climb through a window to get inside and unlock the door.

It is believed Mullen ended his life in a fit of despondency because he was out of work. He had been lodging at 25 High street, Charlestown, for three weeks and during that time has spoken to Mrs. Margaret McCullough of his intention to go west to work.

Early yesterday morning he took a gas tube, entered the bathroom and locked himself inside. Affixing one end of the tube to the gas jet and placing the other end in his mouth he turned on the gas.

Dr. Fitzpatrick of High street was called and upon examining Mullen declared him dead. Medical Examiner Magrath pronounced it a case of suicide. Mullen has relatives living on Franklin street, Somerville.

DISASTROUS FIRE

RENO, Nev., July 25.—Fire today swept across Wadsworth, a town 25 miles east of Reno on the main line of the Southern Pacific road. Reports indicate the town would be wiped out.

WARDEN BRIDGES

ANNOYED AT PUBLICITY GIVEN COUNTERFEITING CASE

BOSTON, July 25.—Warden Bridges of the state prison is annoyed that the connection of Patrick J. Hanley, alias Corkey Hanley, with the prison counterfeiting scheme had become public. Hanley is confined in the Cherry Hill wing and is not allowed to go to the shops. The reason, the warden admits, is that some of the material used in the counterfeiting was found in Hanley's "neighborhood."

"We are not making charges against Hanley or any one else while we are investigating the matter," he said. "Hanley is not in solitary confinement and has not been. At this time we are not making charges against anybody and nobody has a right to make any such charges until the investigation is completed."

Hanley is serving a twenty-five year sentence as a habitual criminal. He has been known to the police for twenty-seven years as a desperate criminal. While a prisoner at the state prison he joined the notorious sewer gang which made its escape by crawling through a small sewer from the yard to the river.

When the counterfeiting was exposed by a fellow prisoner, Hanley was taken from his cell, which was then searched by the prison officers. A plaster of paris mould with the impress of a genuine half dollar, $10 in counterfeit half dollars and particles of the tin and lead alloy used in the coins were found under the prisoner's cot. The officers are confident that Hanley had a skilful confederate who made the mould.

DESERTS HIS WIFE

Negro Taint in Family Breaks Up Their Home

PITTSBURGH, Pa., July 25.—Mrs. Caroline Harkins, a woman still handsome at 50, is a grass widow and practically a raving maniac because yesterday her husband for the last 26 years, and the father of her four grown children, discovered that generations back the great-great-grandmother of Mrs. Harkins was a mulatto.

Without the semblance of a negro feature, with beautiful auburn hair, now streaked with gray, Mrs. Harkins has associated with white persons and always has been regarded as white.

Two weeks ago Mrs. Harkins' mother came from the south to visit her. The elder woman delights in smoking a pipe.

Saturday her daughter remonstrated with her and the elder woman came back with the tart reply: "I guess a pipe won't contaminate your house. Your great-great-grandmother was a negress, so you needn't put on any airs."

Mr. Harkins was present and heard the conversation. He turned to his wife and asked her if the negro allegation was true. She didn't answer, but her husband then took his hat and left the house vowing he never would return.

For two hours after her husband had left Mrs. Harkins went into a stupor. Then she became hysterical and practically a maniac. Her children, unable to calm her, called in the police. They, not knowing the circumstances, locked the woman up for the night.

Yesterday she was calmer and told her story to Magistrate Louis Alpert, before whom she was arraigned. She acknowledged that she had been told in her childhood that there was a strain of negro blood in her family and she said she had done everything on earth to hide the fact from her husband and children.

Nothing has been heard of Harkins since he left his home and the police fear he may have committed suicide, as he always has been strictly a family man, wrapped up in his wife and children. He is a coal dealer and is in comfortable circumstances.

MAN WAS KNIFED

HE WAS CUT ABOUT THE HEAD

ARLINGTON, July 25.—Two Italians rushed into the residence of Dr. Harold Webb on Pleasant street last evening and asked him to go with them and attend a man they had found on Winter street suffering from cuts about the head.

Before starting Dr. Webb notified the police and Patrolman Joseph Cahalan was detailed upon the case. Dr. Webb found Dominic Tavernise of 72 Broadway lying in a field off Winter street and upon examination found that he had received several cuts about the head, evidently inflicted with a pocket knife.

After his wounds were dressed Tavernise told Patrolman Cahalan that he became involved in a discussion with Vincenzo Mazzaro and Dominic Mazzetti, both of whom live on Decatur street. One of them, according to Tavernise, rushed at him with some sharp instrument, but he could not tell which one did the cutting and neither of the Italians could be located last night.

FREIGHT TRAINS MOVING

DETROIT, July 25.—The congested yard conditions in Michigan are beginning to improve. Three freight trains reached Port Huron and Durand safely from Detroit, it is said. On both the main and branch lines trains were in charge, in what the officials term "new men."

CAPTAIN BERNIER

To Attempt the Northwest Passage

OTTAWA, Ont., July 25.—Captain Bernier, the Canadian navigator, is now enroute to Canadian Arctic regions with the government's permission to attempt the Northwest passage and bring his vessel around to Victoria B. C., a feat which was unsuccessfully tried by Peary, Ross, Franklin and other navigators during the last century.

Captain Bernier, sailed from Quebec on the Arctic under sealed orders last month. A letter has been received from him at the department of marine dated Chateau bay, off the Labrador coast, July 12, with a memorandum giving the program of his two years' cruise.

The last time the Northwest passage was made was in 1854 by McClure. He, however, did not bring his vessel through but walked across the ice to Melville Island. Captain Amundsen's voyage of four years ago was via the southern passage of Victoria Island.

LOSS IS $15,000

Fire in U. S. Machinery Co.'s Plant

BEVERLY, July 25.—The United Shoe Machinery company, at whose plant fire did $15,000 damage yesterday morning, will immediately make repairs and there will be no delay in work at the plant.

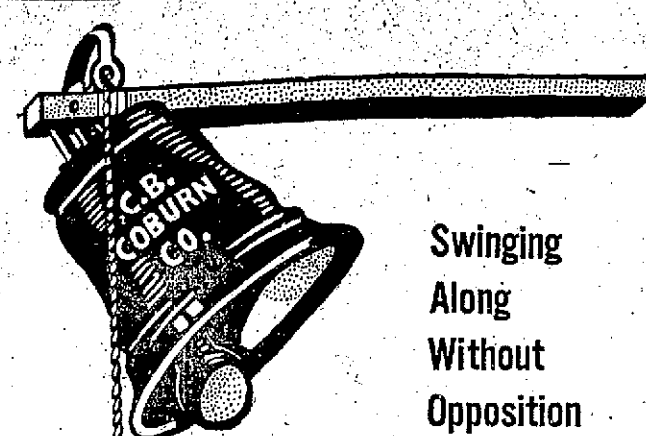

The fire started from oil barrels near a frame storehouse.

On arrival of the department the frame storehouse was a mass of flames and the fire had made its way to building B, which is a cement structure, setting fire to the window casings and working its way into the building, totally destroying a restaurant which accommodates several hundred men who eat their dinners at the factory.

The light from the fire lit up the heavens for miles around and the smoke from the oil made its way into the sky which gave the people the idea that the entire plant was in flames.

Shortly after the fire alarm was sounded the whistle on the shoe machinery plant commenced to blow, calling out the fire department connected with the plant. The blowing of the whistle not only called out the firemen connected with the plant, but thousands of citizens who rushed to the scene of the fire on hearing it.

WILL SUE TAFT BOAT DESTROYED

Man Hit by President's Son's Auto

The Occupants Were Rescued

BEVERLY, July 25.—The greatest surprise was caused at the Beverly hospital yesterday by the announcement that Michele Thithwolla, the Italian laborer injured by Robert Taft, the president's son, a month ago, will bring suit for damages.

It was generally considered that the man would be given opportunities for exceeding those recently arriving in the country and in such lowly station. He is now well on the road to recovery.

Thithwolla, who was a section hand, was run into by an automobile driven by Robert Taft, who had been out driving with two Yale classmates, Lindell King of Minneapolis and George Harrison of Washington, D. C.

Thithwolla ran out into the street near Prude's crossing, in front of the car, and was hit and thrown into the side of the road. He was hurried to the Beverly hospital with a fractured skull.

The president himself threw all the resources at his command into the task of saving the man's life, rushing experts to the hospital, and personally assuring the very best of care the country could afford. To this marshalling of surgical skill the section hand owes his life.

BOY WAS KILLED

Run Over by Boston & Northern Car

BOSTON, July 25.—Edward Morley, a 7-year-old Charlestown boy, was run over by an electric car yesterday afternoon in front of an open window less than 10 feet away where his mother was watching him play on the sidewalk. He died a short time later at the Relief hospital after his leg had been amputated, and physicians had to be called to attend to the mother, who collapsed when she saw her child around beneath the wheels of the car.

Mrs. Morley, who lives at 95 Chelsea street, had told her son that he might play outside on the sidewalk, where it was cooler than in the house. To make sure that he did not stray into the street she moved her chair to the window and kept a careful eye upon him. The street car track in front of the house is within a foot of the curb. The boy was on the edge of the sidewalk and suddenly stumbled. Mrs. Morley shrieked as she saw a Boston & Northern car upon him.

The little boy scrambled back but could not quite save himself, and a wheel of the heavy car crunched across his leg. The child was hurried to the Relief station, where it was decided that an amputation alone could save his life, and even that appeared to be hopeless. It was performed, but within a few minutes the boy was dead.

SOLDIERS PATROL TOWN

NEW ORLEANS, July 25.—Further confirmation of disturbed conditions recently at Celso, Louisiana, is brought by passengers arriving here on steamers Olenian yesterday. The Olenian sailed from Celso Thursday. Then soldiers were patrolling the town. The feeling of alarm was apparently the outcome of a rumor that former President Bonilla is threatening to begin a revolution. There was no actual uprising.

EXPORTS OF MANUFACTURES

WASHINGTON, July 25.—Exports of manufactures in the fiscal year 1910 exceeded those of any earlier year and imports of manufacturers' materials in 1910 were also the largest on record. This is a summarization of an analysis of the year's imports and exports just prepared by the bureau of statistics of the department of commerce and labor. The statement shows the imports of 50 principal articles, the exports of 50 principal articles, and the total imports and exports, and is sufficient, when coupled with the detailed figures of the preceding month, to justify the assertion that both the exports of manufactures and the imports of manufacturers' materials exceeded those of any earlier year in the history of our commerce. Copper, steel rails, pipes and fittings, metal-working machinery, sewing machines, typewriters, locks and hinges, tools, structural iron and steel, wire, electrical instruments, automobiles, paraffin, furniture, upper and sole leather, hoots and shoes, lumber, and many other manufactures show marked increases in the exports of 1910 compared with 1909. On the other hand, hides and skins, india rubber, wool, flax, tin, leaf tobacco, nitrate of soda, turpentine, wood pulp, and numerous other articles of manufacturers' materials show marked increases in the imports.
